CHRISTIAN SCIENCE CHURCH

"Unreality" will be the subject of the Lesson-Sermon in all Christian Science churches throughout the world on Sunday, Oct. 5th.
The Golden Text (I John 2:16, 17) is: "All that is in the world, the lust of the flesh, and the lust of the eyes, and the pride of life, is not of the Father, but is of the world. And the world passeth away, and the lust thereof: but he that doeth the will of God abideth forever."
Among Bible citations in this passage (Rev. 4:11): "Thou art worthy, O Lord, to receive glory and honor and power: for thou hast created all things, and for thy pleasure they are and were created."
Correlative passages to be read from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy, include the following (p. 207): "There is but one primal cause. Therefore there can be no effect from any other cause, and there can be no reality in aught which does not proceed from this great and only cause."

Auto Mishaps Fatal To Three

YOUTH AND DRIVER KILLED WHEN CAR HITS BICYCLE NEAR HOLLOWAY

Three persons were killed and at least three others were painfully injured in traffic accidents occuring in this vicinity during the past week.

Ray Miller, 11-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Miller of Holloway, and Mrs. Henry Hamilton, aged 19 years, suffered fatal injuries in an accident at the Holloway corners, Tuesday evening, just before 7 o'clock.

Mrs. Hamilton, a bride of less than six weeks, had spent the day with friends in Tecumseh and was returning to Sylvania, when the Miller boy, on a bicycle, rode across the road in the path of her car. The car left the road after striking the bicycle and overturned. Mrs. Hamilton was thrown into a fence, breaking her right leg and hip. She suffered a concussion of the brain. Both the child and Mrs. Hamilton were brought to Tecumseh hospital where the boy died about an hour later. He had suffered a fractured skull and never regained consciousness. Mrs. Hamilton died Wednesday morning about 8 o'clock.

Besides his parents the child leaves two sisters and his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Albert Marks and George Miller all of Holloway.

The funeral will be held Friday afternoon at 2:30 at the Tagsold Funeral Home in Blissfield with burial in the village cemetery.

Mrs. Hamilton was formerly Donna Jeanne Weir, of Swanton, O., and was married to Mr. Hamilton on August 31 of this year. They had made their home in Tecumseh since their marriage but were moving to Sylvania where he is now employed. Besides her husband she leaves her parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Weir and two step-sisters, all of Swanton.

The body was removed to the Belding Funeral Home and funeral services will be held Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock. Burial will be in Brookside cemetery.

Miss Bernice Loy, aged 23 years, died at Tecumseh hospital Tuesday morning from injuries suffered in an automobile accident early Sunday morning on US-112, east of Clinton. Miss Loy and her sister, Mary, were riding together and the driver blinded by the lights of an approaching car, did not see the curve. The car left the road and rolled down an embankment.

Miss Bernice Loy suffered head injuries and never rejained consciousness. Her sister was only slightly injured. The body was removed to Ann Arbor.

E. T. Drake suffered severe injuries and his son, Austin, received painful cuts and bruises Saturday afternoon, when the latter's car skidded on the wet pavement and struck an abutment near Homer. They were on their way from Quincy to Jackson when the accident occurred during the heavy rain storm. Mr. Drake's lower lip was cut through; he received a bad gash on the forehead and the cheekbone under his left eye was fractured. Austin was thrown from the car but suffered no serious injury. The car was wrecked.

Cars driven by C. J. Packingham of Britton and Mrs. John Starkey of Tecumseh, collided Thursday afternoon at the corner of Maumee street and E. Chicago boulevard. No one was injured but both machines were considerably damaged.

HARVEST HOME DAY AT FRIENDS CHURCH

Sunday will be observed as harvest home day at the Tecumseh Friends Church at all of the services. A worker from the Friends Rescue Home in Columbus, will be a speaker at both the morning service at 10 a. m. and at the evening service at 7:30 p. m.

Following the custom established a number of years ago the church will be decorated with flowers, fruit, canned goods, and vegetables, etc. In order to assist those in charge of decorating the church it is requested that if possible the donations be brought to the church not later than noon on Saturday. The contributions together with gifts from other Friends churches in southern Michigan will all be given to the Friends Rescue Home, Columbus. The motto of these harvest home days is "No gift too large—no gift too small." The public is invited to these services.

REFUGEE TO SPEAK

A young Russian refugee from Soviet Russia, will speak at the Lower Light Mission, on South Maumee street, Tuesday evening, October 14, telling of the horrors of the Red Menace in his country. GRANGE TO ELECT

Tecumseh Grange will meet tonight for annual election of officers, Mr. and Mrs. Don Parrett will be in charge of refreshments.

52 Men From Lenawee Inducted Into U. S. Army

Fifty-two Lenawee county men left Adrian Tuesday night for Detroit where they were inducted into selective service yesterday. This was the largest group to leave the county this summer and although the original quota was 63, only 52 were sent. Nine men from this months quota enlisted in the Navy, Army or Air Corps during the past month. This group included Loren Campbell of Tecumseh.

The group of draftees who reported yesterday includes Russell Reed and Earl M. Opal of Tecumseh; Lavern W. Escott, Charles M. Brown and Frank A. Creger of Clinton; Francis W. Taylor and Delmar S. Dunham of Britton; Lyle Reinhart of Tipton and Howard W. Prielipp of Holloway, from this vicinity.

New Type PTA Organized Here

ASSOCIATIONS EFFECTED IN FIRST SEVEN GRADES; OFFICERS CHOSEN

The first steps have been taken for the establishment of a new type of parent-teacher organization in the local school system which will make possible a closer cooperation between home and school. The organization as described below and it has, therefore, been proposed that it replace for the period of this year only the P. T. A. as it has existed in previous years.

The characteristics of the plan and the organizational steps which have already been completed are given below:

1. Parents of children attending the West Branch School have organized as a club and have elected the following officers and council representatives: President, Mrs. W. L. Berkhof, vice-president, Mrs. R. H. Moore, secretary-treasurer, Mrs. Sam Sisson, council members, kindergarten, Mrs. Kenneth Johnston, and Mrs. Elmer Burleson; first grade, Mrs. Jens Toubora and Mrs. Keith Barron; second grade, Mrs. Paul Johnson and Mrs. Wallace Hite;

2. A similar club has been organized for the parents of the children attending the East Branch School. The officers and council members of this club are: president, Mrs. Harold Sisson, vice-president, Mrs. Max Bickham, secretary-treasurer, Mrs. Perry O'Brien; council members, first and second grade, Mrs. Leslie Hoag and Mrs. Clark Goodacre; third grade, Mrs. E. M. Campbell and Mrs. Albert Bagshaw.

Parents of children attending the elementary grades in the Central Building have also organized and have elected the officers and council representatives listed below: president, Mrs. J. R. Thompson, vice-president, Mrs. L. A. Vanderpool, secretary-treasurer, Mrs. Paul Keyser; council representatives, fourth grade, Mrs. Earl Lindsley and Mrs. Bill Barnes; fifth grade, Mrs. Harry Tuckey and Mrs. Theodore Ehinger; fifth and sixth grade, Mrs. Clifford Adams and Mrs. Roger Wilson; sixth grade, Mrs. Charles Manley and Mrs. Lawrence Bater.

4. Parents of the seventh grade children are carrying on their activities as a continuation of the club which was organized last year. The suggestion has been made that the parents of the eighth grade group be invited to join with them to form a junior high school club with an organization similar to the clubs described above. No decision has, however, as yet been made regarding this matter. The officers of the seventh grade club are: president, Mrs. Nell Pearson, vice-president, Mrs. Ben Hammack, secretary-treasurer, Mrs. Russ Garno.

5. The grades represented within each club have elected two council members to represent them on the central council. The members of the Council will elect officers from their own group to furnish leadership for the entire program. The Central Council will also assume responsibility for sponsoring programs and activities involving a major portion of the school.

Although no plans have, as yet, been developed for the parents of the students enrolled in the high school an endeavor will be made to arrange suitable contacts between the homes and the school at a later date.

All parents are urged to join the club or clubs in which they may be interested at the time of the next meeting. Dates for the meetings will be announced later.

MUSIC CLUB TO MEET

Tecumseh Music club will meet Tuesday evening at the home of Mrs. Duncan Oliphant on West Logan street instead of with Mrs. Clarence Fisher as previously announced. "Indian Folk Songs" will be the topic of the program.

TO REMOVE CASTS

Llewellyn Pilbeam, son of Mr. and Mrs. Russell Pilbeam, who broke both arms early in September jumping from a school swing, will have the casts removed this week.

ROSES IN BLOOM

Section school No. 5, of which Mrs. Purnell Osburn is teacher, reports wild roses in bloom and sent a spray to The Herald office to prove the fact.

REDMEN, AS YET UNDEFEATED, WILL MEET CLINTON AT 8:15 P. M.

With the lust for victory surging through their veins, the Tecumseh high school Indians went "south of the border" last Friday evening to trounce the Swanton, Ohio, high school eleven by a score of 13 to 0. This gives the Redskins a perfect record; three games played, unbeaten, untied, not scored upon.

But can the Indians take it? As their string of victories takes on a more imposing aspect by virtue of last Friday's win over the Bulldogs, the question of how long the winning streak can be maintained arises. In past seasons, the Indians have shown that they can come out from the small end of the horn fighting harder than ever. But can the Tribe stand prosperity?

That's the question the supporters of Coach Neville Hart's team are asking as they prepare to journey to Recreation Center here tomorrow evening to see the Redskins meet their arch rival, Clinton, in a game that will officially dedicate the new park, if they can, they will demonstrate that they are not only a cagey outfit that packs a terrific wallop on the playing field—a team with great possibilities—but also a team with plenty of stamina, psychologically sound and intelligent enough to realize the delicate balance of a football contest and the importance of the small factors which determine the winner and loser.

Although Clinton has not been particularly imposing this season, winning over Hudson by a 12 to 6 score, the localities well know from past experiences that Clinton vs Tecumseh is not the same Clinton playing against some other team. Rivalry, which has always been keen, should be at fever heat tomorrow night, with Clinton out for vengence for the 7 to 6 loss which they sustained last season when the Indians took advantage of a break on a punt fumble by Clinton inside Tecumseh scoring territory.

A large delegation of Tecumseh folk says the local squad battle a fighting Swanton eleven to a standstill, last Friday night. Tecumseh took the initiative early in the first quarter although failing to score after twice pushing the ball inside the Bulldog's five-yard line during the early period, the Redmen held off any threat to their own goal line by the same rugged type of play that has marked them all season.

In the fourth quarter, with their running attack functioning perfectly, the Indians pushed over for their first touchdown, repeating in the same quarter. The ball carrying of Mohr and Curtiss was outstanding in spite of the muddy field. Team support on these running plays indicated an improvement in this department of the offense which can only be acquired through experience in games and hard work in practice sessions.

Injury to Green, stellar Indian end, in the closing minutes of the game, may slightly weaken the local's front wall if he is not recovered sufficiently in time for the Clinton tilt tomorrow evening. Another Tecumseh injury occurred when Brooks, hard-playing guard, suffered a slight concussion. Carlson and Will also suffered minor injuries.

Records show that Tecumseh made 212 yards in the Swanton game, compared to their opponent's 60. The Indians also made 12 first downs to Swanton's four.

Next Friday evening, October 17, Tecumseh will play another home game on the lighted gridiron.

Next week Friday evening, October 17, Tecumseh will play another home game on the lighted gridiron, meeting St. Mary's high school team of Adrian. This game will be another high light of the season, it being expected that the visitors will give the Indians plenty of difficulty.

Sportsmanship To Win Trophy

STUDENTS TO BE GRADED, ALSO PUBLIC AT HIGH SCHOOL GAMES

Schools in the Lenawee County Athletic League and the sport-going public attending both football and basketball games this fall and winter must be on their good behavior if they expect their town to win the Lenawee County Citizenship Contest trophy, offered to the community rating the highest in good sportsmanship. The contest was launched this year following a conference of participating schools, and the rules and regulations governing the contest have been drafted by Fred Kalzk, athletic director of Tecumseh high school.

The purpose of the contest is to promote better sportsmanship, not only among the students but the adults as well. Communities, as well as the student body, will be graded in the contest, and the community winning the highest rating at the end of the basketball season will be awarded the trophy. The grading will be done by the visiting superintendent and coach, and the local superintendent and coach, one judging the other. The written findings are filed with the county League, and at the end of the season averaged for high score. The first grading it was said, will be done at the Clinton-Tecumseh game here, Friday evening.

That the public may know the questions to be answered, The Herald prints them in their entirety:

New Tax Ruling Made By State

PROBLEMS OF MERCHANT REGARDING SO-CALLED LUXURY TAX CLARIFIED

LANSING, October 9.—Michigan retail merchants' problems resulting from the newly imposed federal luxury tax on toilet preparations, jewelry and furs were clarified this week by a special information bulletin issued by the State Sales Tax Administration.

The new Federal Retailers Excise Tax on these specially designated luxury items may be deducted from the sale price before the computation of the three per cent sales tax, A $100 diamond ring not now cost the consumer $100 plus $10 federal tax plus $3 sales tax, a total of $113. The retailer, in reporting to the state the $110. sale, is allowed $10 deduction.

Sales tax on other merchandise is computed on the full retail price which includes the federal tax. The tax, having been applied at the time of manufacture loses its identity as a tax, and as far as the retailer is concerned, is a component part of the selling price. No deductions are allowed.

Louis M. Nims, sales tax director, commenting on the new regulation, pointed out that this had always been the case in sales of cigarettes, gasoline and automobiles where the federal excise tax was imposed on the manufacturer. In general the only deductions allowed are on sales for which the merchant is directly responsible to the government for return of the Federal Retailers Excise Tax.

"Floor stock taxes", which are to be paid since and to the Federal Government by the retailer can be ddcted for sales tax purposes only in the amount of floor taxes on the particular items which have been sold during the month for which the sales tax return is being prepared. Retailers selling commodities other than liquors, wins, tires and tubes are not concerned in the matter of so called floor taxes.

Tax On Payroll Blessed By FDR

STATE AND NATION WORRYING AS TO WHERE TO GET MORE REVENUE

LANSING, October 9.—Hold on to your hats, folks—we're going somewhere!

Staggering to the imagination of the Michigan man on the street is the latest federal payroll tax proposal, blessed by President Franklin D. Roosevelt and Secretary of the Treasury Henry Morganthau, to skim more millions from the national income—all in the name of economic good health.

It puts the Michigan legislative situation, in which Governor Van Wagoner is to deliver an address today, into a modest corner of incidental interest. The governor and the legislature may get the headlines, but they will be only symptoms of a tremendous problem which is worrying Washington these days and is giving even housewives an occasional jitter.

$2,000,000 Pay Boost

Among the many vetoes exercised by Governor Van Wagoner was one of chopping more than $3,000,000 off the regular appropriation bill. Reason: "Balancing the budget."

When the legislature enacted the bill last spring, members anticipated an average of $10 per month increase in salaries of employes in the lower pay bracket. Then the state civil service commission, a supreme court unto itself under the state amendment creating it, ordered blanket wage increases averaging $25 a month for hospital and prison employees.

Result: A deficit of around $3,000,000 is anticipated in the same appropration bill, and Leo J. Nowicki, state budget director, has drafted a bill for introduction in the legislature, reconvening today, to appropriate this additional sum.

Rising Prices

A worry to state officials, as it is to housewives, is the mounting cost of commodities. Everything costs more today than it did six months ago, except your newspaper and a few other items.

Prices at wholesale have climbed 20 per cent over the level existing in pre-war months before

Mr. Dresden discussed world conditions as they exist today and declared that the greatest problem facing the world is what will happen to society at the end of the war. A different kind of peace than was effected at the close of War No. 1 must be forthcoming, he said, if the world is to continue its present standard of living. His talk was interesting as well as educational.

DEPRESSION OR PLENTY

"What lies ahead after we have solved present day problems? A land of milk and honey or another black pit of depression? Where do we go from here?"

In those words NAM President Walter D. Fuller recently stated one of the great issues that America faces today. True, we are in the midst of an enormous defense program, and defense is still our main job. But after defense what? The transition from armament to peace-time manufacture presents a huge and difficult problem. How well we solve it will depend to a considerable extent on how well we prepare ourselves now to solve it.

According to Mr. Fuller, already "the government planners are establishing a shelf for public works projects after the war. But that is not a solution, any more than it was the way out of the depression of the 1930s.

"What is needed even more than a pantry shelf of pills and panaceas is a clearing of the air as to what business and industry can expect in the future. Will the war-time controls be revoked? Will the power to kill off any business or any industry through invoking priorities and price controls be relinquished? Will free enterprise be made freer, with more encouragement instead of more discouragement? Or will there be a tendency to spread the TVA idea which the TNEC called 'a Communistic germ'? Will the methods of the bituminous coal act which was labeled a Fascist infection of our democracy be retained and extended to other industries?"

Those are words that America must consider soberly. In the past our free industry has given us the highest standard of living in the world. In the future it can continue to do so if we keep it free—save it from the fate of the goose that laid the golden egg. We hold tomorrow in our hands. Depression or plenty? America must decide.

IT'S ALL IN THE STATE OF MIND

If you think you're beaten, you are;
If you think you dare not, you don't;
If you'd like to win, but think you can't,
It's almost a cinch you won't.
If you think you'll loose, you're lost,
For out in the world you find Success begins with a fellow's will;
It's all in the state of mind.
Full many a race is lost
Ere ever a step is run;
And many a coward fails
Ere ever his work's begun.
Think big, and your deeds will grow;
Think small, and you'll fail behind;
Think that you can, and you will.
It's all in the state of mind.
If you think you're outclassed, you are;
You've got to think high to rise;
You've got to be sure of yourself before
You can ever win a prize.
Life's battles dont always go
To the stronger or faster man;
But soon or late the man who wins
Is the fellow who thinks he can.

Does Your Dog Have a Better Home Than Your Car?

A Good Garage Is a Good Investment

He probably does, because you wouldn't think of allowing your dog to sleep all night under a hole in a leaky roof, or stand for hours in a building without doors or windows when the temperature was far below zero.

No, we're inclined to believe that the dog receives much the best treatment—and rightfully—but that is no reason why you should neglect a car that costs many hundreds of dollars, exposing it to the weather 24 hours a day.

Now is the time to repair your garage. Install a new roof if it needs one, repair the windows, the doors and the floor.

And, too, there are many homes in Tecumseh without garage accommodations. Why not build a garage this fall, start now before the weather becomes too cold, and enjoy its advantages this winter?

We will be glad to assist you with the plans, and we are in a position to furnish all of the materials.

Wondering about the 1942 cars?

BUICK BUILDS FOR DEFENSE

IT WAS no time to duck or dodge the facts. So we didn't try.

Instead we said—these being the materials critical in the defense program, we'll do our planning for 1942 with that foremost in mind.

Not merely for an "acceptable" car—certainly not for any "ersatz" number.

We had to have a real and representative Buick. One we could be proud of. One able enough, active enough, durable enough to serve till annual new models are the rule again.

We resolved on a 1942 automobile of such merit as could carry the Buick reputation without fault until other new Buicks, however far off, could come along to refresh it.

Now we're announcing those 1942 cars.

Why waste words telling you how good they are! You can't put language in the gas tank and learn either how many or how enjoyable are the miles you'll get per gallon.

There's a better answer—you drive these cars themselves. Come on, do that! Put your own yardstick on their quality.

It would be a shame, for you and for us, to have you miss the dreadnaught Buick we've built to stand up successfully to the toughest job in years.

Tax On Payroll

September, 1939. The cost of living is up 7 per cent and mounting almost daily. This is particularly true of food.

Under the price control bill endorsed by Leon Henderson, price expert at Washington, agricultural prices could rise to 110 per cent of parity—that is, 10 per cent above the level existing between 1909 and 1914.

At Washington today is Michigan's commissioner of agriculture, dirt farmer Leo V. Card, who is to oppose any attempt to fix a ceiling on agricultural products at less than parity.

As everyone knows, continued increases in farm prices are bound to form a base for additional rise in living costs; these higher costs will form a base for demands by labor for further wages; such higher wages in turn will increase cost of commodities, and so on and on—the old inflationary spiral that pushes itself upward by its own momentum, It is like the old question about which came first—the chicken or the egg. But that isn't all.

Payroll Taxes

Social workers have advocated for years that social security benefits should be extended to millions of Americans, that the benefits themselves should be greater.

The name for it is "social justice" whereby masses are given economic security by government decree, wealth is re-distributed, and poor states are given help by the rich states. Some persons call it the "New Deal."

Now comes news from Washington that the threat of inflation, an economic peril, has prompted the federal administration to seize upon social security taxes as a weapon for warding off disaster through inflation of ever spiraling prices. By their new plan the administration would make some 40,000,000 Americans eligible for social benefits—old age pensions, unemployment compensation, and the like—for the first time. It would constitute an astounding expansion of tax payments on employer and employee, a social revolution of the first magnitude whose consequences would inevitably be far reaching. More persons would be taxed more by a government that is spending more.

Who Pays the Bill

Farm laborers, domestic servants, self-employed persons, farm operators and all employees and all employers would be taxed by the federal govenment for benefits to which they would be eligible to receive in the future, presumably in the postwar era.

Who would pay the bill? Unemployment compensation taxes, for example, are paid only by the employer in all but five states—Alabama, California, Kentucky, New Jersey and Rhode Island. When the social security act was adopted, it was first thought that states might widely adopt contributions by employees to ensure the solvency of their unemployment trust funds and to make possible a more adequate system of benefit payments to the workers.

Michigan's unemployment compensation fund now totals $108,000,000. That is to say the state has this credit at the United States Treasury. Another $12,000,000 will be available soon from July-September contributions.

Under the new anti-inflation plan, all employers would pay 3 per cent unemployment tax on their payrolls. At present employers who hire less than eight persons are exempt.

Old age taxes, now 1 per cent by the employer and 1 per cent by the employee, would be boosted immediately to 1½ or 2 per cent on each party. Laugh that off!

Pinch of Priorities

Add to this tax-buggy-ride the prospect of a sharp decline in state revenue in 1942, and you have something to think about.

Budget Director Nowicki forecasts a marked drop in sales taxes by Jan. 1.

Governor Van Wagoner told a congressional committee in Detroit that Michigan—faces "economic chaos within three months" unless priorities of materials were extended to non-defense industries. Furthermore, he admitted that the outlook of state finances in 1942-1943 was "definitely dangerous."

Well, folks, we're on our way. The grade is steep, so hang on to your hats!

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE CHURCH

"Are Sin, Disease, and Death Real?" will be the subject of the Lesson-Sermon in all Christian Science Churches throughout the world on Sunday, October 12.

The Golden Text (Jeremiah 17: 14) is: "Heal me, O Lord, and I shall be healed; save me, and I shall be saved; for thou art my praise."

Among the Bible citations is this passage (Psalms 145:9, 10): "The Lord is good to all: and his tender mercies are over all his works. All thy works shall praise thee, O Lord; and thy saints shall bless thee."

Correlative passages to be read from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures", by Mary Baker Eddy, include the following (p.286): "Sin, sickness, and death are comprised in human material belief, and belong not to the divine Mind. They are without a real origin or existence. They have neither Principle nor permanence, but belong, with all that is material and temporal, to the nothingness of error, which simulates the creations of Truth."

FALL PLANS AND OUTLOOK DISCUSSED AT GMC MEETING

At a meeting in Detroit, recently, General Motors Truck dealers and factory executives discussed the company's selling plans for ensuing months and the business outlook as it pertains to the truck industry.

One of the most significant phases of the program, according to L. E. Brown of Brown Motor Sales, distributor for GMC trucks in this area, was the discussion of the importance of truck transportation in the nation's all-out Defense program.

"Truck manufacturers are making every possible effort to meet all Defense needs," said Mr. Brown. "At the GMC factories in Pontiac, Michigan, for example, thousands of trucks are scheduled for delivery to the Army each month. At the sametime, GMC domestic deliveries to truck buyers are currently running 31 per cent ahead of last year's figures."

According to information released at the meeting by W. A. Casey GMC factory representative, General Motors Truck and Coach has received Defense orders for Army trucks totaling $199,968,789. Deliveries to date have already passed the $95,000,000 mark.

"There will be no new model announcement this fall by GMC," said Mr. Casey. "Instead, there will be mechanical improvements and refinements introduced from time to time throughout the coming year. This has been the company policy for the past two years.

"We are entering the fall season with a well rounded truck line, representing the best values GMC has ever offered. This is particularly true in those light duty models that compete in the lowest price field. We are retaining those features which have proved so satisfactory in our line during the past year."

RECRUITING STATION OPENED IN ADRIAN

Temporary U. S. Navy Recruiting headquarters will be open in the Adrian Armory daily until next Wednesday, it was announced today by A. P. Thomas, chief petty officer in charge of Navy recruiting in this area.

"We want to interest particularly those young men who will be subject to induction into military service under the terms of the Selective Service Law," Thomas said. "The Naval Reserve offers them the chance to follow a trade and to earn more money while in the service. They will have the same privileges as the regular Navy man. The only difference is that they will serve only until the conclusion of the present national emergency.

"This plan is attracting many into Navy service. I believe it is as fair a proposition as one will find in any military service anywhere. Of course, there are also many opportunities in the regular Navy and our recruiter will gladly furnish complete information at any time."

William R. Hard, second class petty officer, will be in charge of the Adrian station, according to Thomas. All physically and mentally fit men from the ages of 17 to 51 are eligible for duty in the service.

For 1942—a Beautiful New

FORD

"6" OR "8"

IN THESE UNUSUAL TIMES we invite you to inspect an unusual new car—new in its beauty, its comfort, its choice of two fine 90 horsepower engines, 6 cylinders or 8.

See it and you sense at once that here is new style that will stay good for years. On a lower, wider chassis, we have designed new long, low, wide and modern lines.

Interior treatment is entirely fresh, distinctive, pleasing. The beauty of this Ford will more than hold its own in any company.

On the road this year you find the "new Ford ride" still further advanced in its softness, quietness, steadiness and all-round comfort.

At the wheel, you will find driving easier than ever. Steering, gear-shifting, action of the big and sure hydraulic brakes have all been made smoother and easier.

In quality, the car is sound to the last detail. Defense requirements have all been met without a single reduction in the basic and lasting goodness of the Ford mechanically. Some new materials have replaced old ones, usually at a greater cost to us, but in every case the new is equal to or better than the old.

If your family needs a new car, go see and drive this Ford. For what it is today and for what it will be through the years ahead, we believe that you will find in it more and better transportation for your money than you have ever found before.

2,000 Persons At Dedication

Dedication of Tecumseh's new $25,000 Recreation Center, and the simultaneous announcement that a drive for $13,000 for the improvement and equipment of the natural amphitheatre had gone "over the top," was the occasion for celebration when some 2,000 persons gathered at the field last Friday evening to witness the ceremonies preceding the Clinton-Tecumseh high school football game.

The dedication program got under way soon after 7 o'clock when a parade, including the two school bands, American Legion members color guard and others formed at the corner of Chicago Boulevard and Maiden Lane and marched to the field. At the gridiron, Ron Gamble, WJR radio announcer, acted as master of ceremonies, and there was a 30-minute program featuring Tim Doolittle and his Pine Center gang.

At 8 o'clock, the American Legion conducted an impressive ceremony, dedicating an American Flag and a 60-foot flag staff to the memory of the late Karl M. Schneider, former mayor and general chairman of the drive for funds with which to equip the Center. The flag and staff were the gift of Mrs. Schneider and her family, and the address was given by the Rev. Fr. George Cairns of Monroe, former state Legion officer. The Rev. Fr. Cairns paid high tribute to Mr. Schneider's memory, citing also his long record of public service in the community, and declaring the need for "putting duty to our country and community above our own interests, particularly in these times of troubled world conditions."

Between the halves of the grid game, featuring a parade of the Clinton and Tecumseh school bands, Mr. Gamble made the formal dedicatory address. He praised the community for the success of the Center, not only from the standpoint of its location as a natural amphitheatre, but also for the fact that it is centrally located and adaptable to both summer and winter sports, social activities, and community and religious gatherings. He formally announced that the drive for $13,000 with which to equip the field had exceeded its goal.

Mr. Gamble traced the history of the development of the field from the time of the purchase of the site by the board of education, in 1939 by special election, pointed out the work accomplished by the school prior to the time that the field was taken over by the Board of Control, and paid tribute to those who have been instrumental in the development of the project.

"It is, therefore, with extreme pleasure and I know a tremendous amount of satisfaction to all of the loyal citizens of Tecumseh, that we are able to meet here tonight to dedicate this field," Mr. Gamble said. "We feel that the aims of its projectors are worthy, and we look with confidence to the many physical, educational and cultural benefits that will accrue to this community, to whom this field is dedicated."

Discussing the dedication and the work done at the Center previously, L. W. Larsen, one of the co-chairmen of the drive for funds said today: "Very high tribute should be paid to all of those who have participated in the drive for funds and in the later operation of the field. Many of the committee chairmen and committee members have given unstintingly of their time and thought, particularly such as the ticket committee, headed by H. H. Hanna, the school athletics committee, headed by O. W. Laidlaw, and the concession committee, headed by Paul Johnson; all have been very active within the past weeks. Also, M. W. Wilson, head of the community athletics committee, has been working hard on the football games, and is also planning for the future athletic events at the field.

"Many of the committee have not been called upon as yet, due to the fact that such activities as are governed by their committees, have not been started," Mr. Larsen continued. "These include the committee of community activities, headed by Helen Sisson, and the business and commerce club activities, headed by Wade Jones, and the playground committee, headed by Glenn Driscoll."

The original organization of the center, during the drive for funds, was as follows:

Says Friendship Is World's Greatest Need

"Today, it is 'V' for victory, but after the war is over, the thing this world will need is 'B' for bridges, over which may be carried a new and greater feeling of international friendship to all of the peoples of the earth," the Rev. J. W. Greenwood, pastor of the First Methodist Church, Adrian, declared, when he addressed the noonday luncheon meeting of the Tecumseh Rotary Club, Tuesday at the parish house of St. Peter's Episcopal church.

Speaking as an army sergeant in the World War No. 1, the Rev. Mr. Greenwood briefly reviewed some of his experiences while in England, and declared that if there is to be an enduring peace after this war—instead of an armistice, as at the end of the last war—he pointed out that it must be built upon a thorough understanding and good will among all countries. He praised the work of the Rotary club in its effort to foster good will throughout the world.

Major R. G. B. Marsh of Camp Livingston, La., now in Tecumseh on leave of absence, spoke to the club briefly about life in the American army. He declared that no where in the world is there a finer hospital than at Livingston, and he pointed out that the soldiers are happy and hard at work, with excellent barracks and plenty of good food. Maj. Marsh, who before entering the army a year ago was practiced medicine here, will return to camp the latter part of this month.

WILL MEET ST. MARYS OF ADRIAN IN GAME HERE, FRIDAY EVENING

By Bob Larsen

The Tecumseh High School Indians, as yet untied nor scored upon, will meet a strong St. Mary's team from Adrian, at Recreation Center here, Friday evening. The kick-off will be at 8:15 o'clock.

Although Tecumseh is picked as the winner for Friday's game by at least two touchdowns, the Redskins will not find the boys from the County Seat City a push-over, observers declared. St. Mary's thus far this year has a record of three victories and one defeat, which is well above the county average. With such veteran backs as Lerch, Thompson and Cavanaugh, the Indians will find it a big task to defeat the visitors by a score of 27-0. Chuck Coffey, doing an excellent job of placement kicking, completed three out of four attempts.

The Indians scored in the first period when Bob Mohr intercepted a pass on the Clinton 40-yard line and ran it to the 2-yard stripe. On the next play, Mohr threw a pass to Coffey for the tally. Tecumseh scored again in the second quarter when Coffey went off tackle for five yards and the second Indian score. This time the kick was wide.

Neither team scored the third quarter, but in the fourth the Redskins opened up their big guns and ran up two more tallies, the first when Coffey went 23 yards for a touchdown on a shovel pass from Wilson, and later, after a terrific passing attack, Mohr bucked the line for three yards and another score.

Mohr, one of the hardest-hitting backs in the county, accounted for most of Tecumseh's 233 yards and nine first downs. Clinton made 76 yards and three downs. Ken Will also did a beautiful job with Mohr's punts which averaged more than 50 yards.

Previous to that she stayed at the home of Mrs. Florence Harrington for some time.

Survivors are four daughters Mrs. Ora Lowry of Manchester, Mrs. Vera Stambaugh, Mrs. Lyla Shetterley and Mrs. Metta Bilger, all of Detroit, one son Glen Stewart of Detroit, and 18 grand children.

The body was brought here yesterday to the Belding Funeral Home, when funeral services will be held Friday afternoon at 2 o'clock. Burial will be in Brookside cemetery.

PAROLE BOARD MEMBER TO SPEAK IN ADRIAN

Gerald Bush of Lansing, a member of the Michigan board of paroles and pardons, will be the principal speaker at a meeting to be held on Tuesday evening, October 21, in the court house at Adrian, John Augustus Centennial Day. Judge G. Arthur Rathbun will introduce the speaker.

It was the success of Augustus in Massachusetts that caused the idea to spread the nation-wide, and today it is practiced in every state of the union.

The Adrian meeting is open to the public, and any interested person may attend. It will begin at 8 o'clock.

Young Visits U. S. Capital

BUT ARMY IS CONSIDERABLE MORE WORK THAN PLAY, HIS DIARY SHOWS

Jon Young, former instructor in Tecumseh High School and now a lieutenant in the U. S. Army at Fort Belvoir, Va., in another letter to The Herald, tell of his activities at camp, and of a recent visit to Washington.

Mr. Young's earlier letters, published by The Herald, caused such favorable comment that this newspaper welcomes another opportunity to print highlights from his diary, of interest to many here who knew him, and to others who have sons at Belvoir and in other camps.

Mr. Young's letter follows:

"Dear Friends,

"Your correspondent this time has lost the imprint of "green rookie" and feels more of a soldier in body and mind. The thirteen weeks training period is nearly at an end. In fact, some of our buddies wired us today that they had arrived in California.

"So much has happened that it would take a small book to give you an outline of our training. Therefore, again I am resorting to excerpts from my journal.

"August 5th:

"We were typed for blood today. Our type number will be stamped on our "dog-tags" (metal tags which we hang around our neck—just in case).

August 8th:

"Took our first five mile hike today with rifle and full field pack which includes shelter tent half, tent pole, pegs, rope, blanket, change of underwear, steel helmet, socks, handkerchief, raincoat, toilet articles, mess kit, and bayonet. Weight 45 lbs. Wearing blue fatigue clothes and marching in a column of two's, we resembled a giant blue snake twisting and winding among the hills. Half the distance was covered before a "break" was called. Several men collapsed before we finished. I dread to think of the 20 mile hike in one day!

"August 12th:

"Still in quarantine. Tonight the barracks is a scene of varied activity. Three fellows are bent over a foot-locker figuring how many eggs three hens could lay in three days if each hen laid 1 1-2 eggs per day. Several are writing home. In the far corner a card game is in progress and a brisk crap game can be heard from the latrine. Private Stickley is sticking

Enemies Join Anti-Tax Move

STATE, COUNTY ROAD DEPARTMENTS OPPOSE REDUCTION IN AUTOMOBILE TAXES

LANSING, October 16.—Enemy bedfellows together in the latest anti-tax movement at Lansing are state and county highway departments. It is an unusual situation.

As a few sheriffs eye the state police, so some county road commissions have watched the state highway department at Lansing with envy and occasional antagonisms. Like the Hatfield-McCoy fued in old Kentucky, the highway battle has been of long standing. Field marshals have been Louis Webber, better known as "Doc" Webber for the county commissions, and the state highway commissioner—Governor Van Wagoner until recently and now the astute G. Donald Kennedy.

Poor Motorist

Taxed by state and federal governments for years, motorists were recently given another defense levy of $5 per year added to their state and local licenses and gasoline and oil taxes,

However, automobile sales are being curtailed by the federal government, all in the name of national defense. The excise tax has been doubled on new car sales. Automobile dealers aren't altogether happy about the whole thing.

Then came a dashing hero to the rescue, the Michigan Automobile Dealers' Association which proposes immediate relief to dealers and the motorist in the form of a $15,000,000 slash in revenue to state and county highway departments. This saving would be effected by reduction of motor vehicle license fees for autmobiles and trucks.

"Extravagance"

In the role of crusader is Frank Herrick, manager of the auto dealers association. His has put the issue crisply in the following sentence:

"It is a command from the voters to reduce extravagant government expenditures."

Nelson D. Brown, business manager of the Ingham County News at Mason and son of Auditor General Vernon J. Brown, approved the tax-cut plan editorially with this comment: "Michigan had roads before we got the habit of providing $65,000,000 a year to the state highway department. Michigan can still have an excellent road system if the aggregate is reduced to $50,000,000 where it was until 1940. The only way the reduction can be made is by the people."

FUTURE WONDER WORLD

We Americans may not be riding in rocket cars or making regular trips to the moon within the next ten years or so, but other wonders are in store for us. There's a chance that some of these wonders may change our lives as completely as the automobile did, or the radio or any one of the many inventions that have appeared within the past generation or two.

That, at least, is the prediction of Dr. Robert A. Millikan, eminent physicist and Nobel prize winner. He says that the life of many during the next few decades will be "powerfully" influenced by industrial and other scientific developments that are under way at the present time.

For several of these inventions we may not have to wait long, either. In the not too distant future we may be riding in cars built partly of milk, using fuel distilled partly from sweet potatoes, over roads made partly of cotton.

According to Dr. Millikan, the post-emergency period probably will bring new development in transportation and international communications as a result of the "enormous" progress in military aviation. Among the other advances he lists new plastics, improvements in short wave radio, better sterilization of drinking water ,new knowledge of vitamins to change our eating habits, and further developments in medicine and public health.

Such advances by no means exhaust the list of improvements in store for us, however. To our children, our present-day lives will probably seem as uncomfortable and old fashioned as the lives of our grandparents seem to us today. If the scientists continue to make life more and more attractive to us here in America, we may not want to take that trip to the moon when the time for it does arrive.

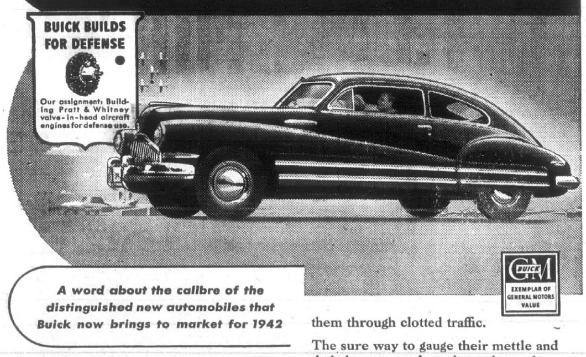
There is no Bottleneck in Brains



A word about the calibre of the distinguished new automobiles that Buick now brings to market for 1942

Two thoughts stood solemn sentinel throughout all the planning of our 1942 cars.

If you think this leaves only a cramped and stifling byway for engineering to advance in, remember that difficulties are sometimes the spur that real ability needs.

Our new cars, it seems to us, superbly prove this. But we neither expect nor ask you to take our word for it.

The real way to know what they are, and how marvelously they perform, is to breeze them down a country road or tool them through clotted traffic.

The sure way to gauge their mettle and their inmost goodness is to plump them squarely into the stiffest task your imagination can supply.

So come try the gorgeous new cars that we not only say pace the pack for 1942 but are bold enough to believe set an all-time high in all-round automotive excellence.

They will make you glad – nay, proud – all over again that you're living in America – and now!

to his mouth-organ while two little Frenchies, Fecteau and Leternau, garbed in shorts, are giving an exhibition of a French Polka. Reading ranges from the daily paper to 'Saucy Glimpses.'

"August 14th:

"Hurrah! Out of quarantine. The Service Club was a pleasant surprise. I wish that everyone that contributed to the U. S. O. drive, might see this fine recreation center. If they could see the hundreds of soldiers spending hours of enjoyment at the club every evening, they could know that their contributions have brought happiness to many boys far from home.

"Let me describe the club briefly. In size it ranks next to the theatre which seats about 2,500 men. In one wing is a cafeteria and soda fountain. Offices and hostess rooms are in the other. In the center is a large dance floor. Surrounding this spacious room is a mezzanine where one may go to write, seated at fine writing tables with special lights, or lounge about in solid comfort. There is always music from the new piano, near the fireplace or the radio. Hung along the walls are many interesting pictures.

"Fronting this balcony is a library which is so popular that all the chairs are generally taken.

"Dances are held at the Service Club every Wednesday and Saturday nights. Girls come from Washington on special busses. I am sure a number of romances have started on the dance floor. Friday evening the girls come out to play bridge or special programs are presented.

"August 16th:

"Received a week-end pass after rifle inspection. Believe me, it didn't take long to shake the camp dust off my feet. How good it seemed to ride in a car with springs under my rear.

Of course, you can't disguise the fact that you're a soldier, because no one is permitted to wear civilian clothes. But the uniform offers a number of advantages to you in the nation's capital. Washington D. C. deserves a great deal of credit. Here is a city that has really taken the soldier into its arms.

First, he may spend the night, without cost, at Arlington Camp, directly opposite the Lincoln Memorial located across the Potomac. Each soldier upon registering is assigned to a tent, given clean bedding and escorted to his cot. There are bath houses, a mail station, recreation hall, reading and writing room and a dining-hall, where meals are served at a reasonable cost. Army trucks provide free transportation to the center of the capital's business section, to church on Sunday or to Mt. Vernon.

"In Washington there are several places where men in uniform may spend the night for 50c. Most popular is the Soldier, Sailor and Marine Club. This huge home can accommodate about 300 men. "Mother" Steed has operated the home for twenty years. Everyone who comes there regards her with kindly affection.

"Many dances and social functions are held for the soldiers over the week-end. On Pennsylvania Ave. a 'block' dance is held every Saturday night.

Nearly all places of national or historical interest admit soldiers free and the theatres admit men in uniform for an average price of 25c.

"George French and I spent our first Saturday with Captain Richard Williamson, and his wife (former Mary Eleanor Anderson), Major Webster Anderson and his wife. You can imagine how two privates felt reclining at 'ease' under the gaze of a Captain and Major. If only the boys in the barracks and our officers could have seen us then!

August 21st:

"Have worked hard the last few days cutting timber, building roads and constructing tank traps. We eat noon chow almost everyday in the field. A bee and I made a dive for a spot of jam yesterday. We arrived together. Much annoyed, he zoomed into the air, made another dive. Much annoyed, I let him plough into the jam, cut his head off.

"Dug a trench paralleling a river this afternoon. Standing in wet clay up to my knees, I sought to heave a load of clay over my head. The shovel went with it and just missed the lieutenant. Sometimes I think he is afraid of me.

"August 22nd:

"Tonight 1800 of us went into Washington to hear Glen Miller. It took 400 gallons of gas. Can there be a gas shortage in the East?

"August 23rd:

"Oh Lord, K. P. again. Mopped all morning. Peeled potatoes all afternoon. I wonder where they got those pictures of the electric potatoe peelers?

"August 26th:

"When we file into the mess hall our plate is filled and we are told where to sit. From the time we begin to squat on the bench, its every man for himself. A sharp eye must be kept on bread, butter, drink and sugar. Grab surely and quickly. Never take the last of anything unless you want to go for a refill.

"August 29th:

"Everybody talking about going home for the holidays. Thousands are at the Service Club every night buying railroad tickets, chartering taxies.

Carried sand bags today for a trench until I felt like all seven dwarfs. The sun was too hot to sing 'Heigh Ho Heigh Ho.'

"September 1st:

"Am writing in the depot of the Fort St. Station waiting for the 'Red Arrow' to take us back to Washington. The holiday has come to a sudden end. A depot is not an interesting place to observe people these days. So many boys in uniform bidding mothers and sweethearts good by. I was finally glad when the whistle blew and the train headed into the night.

"September 2rd:

"Worked on the pay-roll today. It takes about $6,000 to pay off the men in one company. There are four companies in a battalion, ten battalions in this section of the camp. This amount doesn't include officers or personnel men.

As I handled packages of new bills amounting to $1,000, I looked at the revolver on the table before me, then at the open window. My comrade looked at me and smiled. A man can't be blamed for thinking!

"September 6th:

"Special inspection this morning. I was 'gigged' on my rifle because the Lieutenant found some dust in a screw head. We had to spend the afternoon marching.

"Enroute from the service Club dance tonight, we heard mouth-organ music coming from a latrine. Looking in we saw a group of naked 'elfins' in the center doing a type of square dance. At length the musician became so soul inspired he whirled about and dashed into the night, a towel flapping wildly about his buttucks.

"September 8th:

"We have close Order drill so much, the grass has given up and started growing toward China.

"In open formations I am last in line (really in the center of a large V. With our rifles at port, we run forward until a signal is given to fall on our faces. It's really an experience when your steel helmet comes sliding forward to tunk your beak before rolling off. My job is to 'shoot' anyone who tries to run away. The tenth time I was tunked on the remainder of my probiscus, I decided to run away myself thereby ending it all."

"So long until next time.

"Pvt. Jon Young."

the Michigan Association of Road Commissioners and Engineers, thinks otherwise. The tax reduction proposal, affecting both state and county highway departments, was in Webber's judgment: "An ill-advised plan that spells disaster for county road systems."

To Webber, the villian in the plot is Herrick, his fellow association executive.

Webber's argument goes something like this: County road systems spend $12,000,000 a year less than they did in the 1920's, while the state highway department has about $6,000,000 less, despite the fact that traffic has increased. Furthermore, there are still $15,500,000 of Covert road bonds outstanding among the counties, and it will take at least six more years to retire them.

Add to this the respect of a decline in gasoline tax revenue, because of the defense curtailment of automobile production, and the license fee reduction would spell ruin for road-makers and road-keepers, he insists.

And so when the auto dealers' bill went before the state legislature, which reconvened last Thursday at Lansing, it met united opposition from both state and county highway forces.

Defense Needs

That the tax plan will be opposed by the state highway department under the leadership of Commissioner Kennedy is an obvious understatement of fact. It will be fought vigorously on a basis of constituting a threat to national defense as well as a blow to the tourist and farm industries of the state.

Keynoting the 1941-42 needs were addresses delivered recently by Governor Van Wagoner and Commissioner Kennedy before the American Association of State Highway Officials, meeting in Detroit.

"In addition to building highways serving our new defense industries," Kennedy is quoted in "The State Democrat", publication of the Democratic state central committee, "highway officials are now confronted with the gigantic task of coping with the tremendous rise in traffic brought about by the steadily growing industrial activity."

And there you have it: Good roads are vital to good defense; anything that threatens to weaken good roads will also weaken our defense. Such will be the answer. The flag will be waved again, and taxpayers will be exhorted to save the country.

Should the legislature decline to do anything about it, then the auto dealers contemplate the circulation of petitions for a referendum in 1942. You may have a chance to express your opinion at the ballot box.

Another 1942 Contest

Another lively scrap that is looming for the 1942 campaign is the challenge delivered by Michigan Young Republicans, in recent state convention, calling for united support of President Roosevelt's foreign policy and an end to isolationism.

The "Stay out of war" policies of many Michigan congressmen may be put to a popular test in 1942 when many of them will run for re-election.

Michingan's parade of events heralds varied and brilliant fireworks in 1942.

D. A. R. Chapter Held Indian Lore Program

Abi Evans chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution, met Friday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Lucy Terry on Brown street with 22 members and four guests present.

The vice-regent, Mrs. Donald F. Wright, presided and three new names were presented for membership. Mrs. Hoyt Whelan gave a report of the regional meeting held recently in Marshall and a program of Indian music was presented by the music chairman, Mrs. R. S. Moore, who was dressed in Indian costume and wore her collection of beads from Guatamala, Mexico, the West Indies and Alaska. In introducing the program, Mrs. Moore gave the origin and story connected with each number. She sang "The Invocation to the Sun God" (Carlos Foyer) the first American to collect the Indian music.) Mrs. Ralph Helserman sang two numbers, "From the land of the Sky-Blue Water" and "The Waters of Minnetonka" and Mrs. Harley McConnell sang "Ghost Pipes." Mrs. Neville Hart was the piano accompanist.

Mrs. C. H. Williamson introduced the state treasurer, Mrs. Raymond B. Linsley of Three Rivers, who told of the work accomplished by the state. Michigan standing third in student loans, having aided 1000 boys and girls to attend college. She also showed colored motion pictures, which she took at the Continental Congress held last spring in Washington, D. C. and in which Abi Evans chapter's regent, Mrs. E. D. Brown and Mrs. J. F. Elliott, appear several times.

Tea was served at a handsomely appointed table with roses and other flowers from Mrs. Terry's garden as decorations. Mrs. Wright and Mrs. W. C. Fisher poured. The hostess committee was composed of Mrs. Terry, Mrs. W. J. Penman, Mrs. Athol Brainard and Mrs. Elliott.

IN MEMORIAM

MRS. JENNIE C. LAW HARDY

Death, with a relentless hand, has broken our ranks and taken from us our beloved President, Mrs. Jennie C. Law Hardy, in whose home going the Shawnee Club has met with an irreparable loss.

In her death there has been taken from us our Inspiration and our Mentor, whose kindly, understanding leadership made possible the organization of this club. Her more than usual knowledge of world affairs and international relationships, her loyal Americanism, and her love for her fellow men, prompted her to devote herself unstintingly to this work, and to her is due the credit of what the club has accomplished.

As a club, we deeply feel the loss her death has brought to us; and we feel that this community has lost one of it's most loyal and conscientious friends and workers, who used her time and talents unselfishly for the common good of us all.

Therefore:

Be it resolved; That a copy of this memorial be sent to the bereaved husband and family, and that copies be sent also to The Tecumseh Herald, The Adrian Daily Telegram, the state Republican paper, and a copy be spread upon the records of the Shawnee Republican Club,

"Sometime, when all life's lessons have been learned
And sun and stars for evermore have set,
The things which our weak judgements have spurned,
The things o'er which we grieved with lashes wet,
Will flash before us out of life's dark night
As stars shine most in deeper tints of blue,
And we shall see how all God's plans are right,
And how what seemed reproof was love most true.
And we shall see how, while we frown and sigh,
God's plans go on as best for you and me,
And when we called he heeded not our cry

Florence S. Whelan,
Helen Fisher,
L. Winifred Green,
Committee.

IT'S fun TO BUY A HOME

IT'S a great day when you step out of the dream and step into your new home! It was fun dreaming your new house—more fun planning it, but when you take possession, that tops anything you ever imagined! And possession opens the door to new adventures.

You'll make changes here and there as time goes on, buy new gadgets for kitchen or bathroom. You'll putter in the basement or yard. You won't be satisfied to leave things as they are—not for long. That's why we are building better homes today in our town—better homes for less money. It's fun, too, improving and modernizing an older place. Because we Americans are not satisfied to leave things as they are. We don't like to drift along. We're accustomed to exerting personal effort—individual initiative to get things done the way we want them done.

That restless individual spirit is the spirit of America. It is freedom to work and build and live as we choose. It is active freedom. That is the spirit of American Industry, the spirit of free enterprise.

We all have it. It's in our blood. That's why it's fun to buy a house.

Invest now—in your own home—in your own community.

"Doctrine of Atonement" will be the subject of the Lesson-Sermon in all Christian Science Churches throughout the world on Sunday, October 19.

The Golden Text (I Timothy 2: 5,6) is: "There is one God, and one mediator between God and men, the man Christ Jesus; who gave himself a ransom for all, to be testified in due time."

Among the Bible citations is this passage (I John 4:9): "In this was manifested the love of God toward us, because that God sent his only begotten Son into the world, that we might live through him."

Correlative passages to be read from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy, include the following (p. 19): "Jesus aided in reconciling man to God by giving man a truer sense of Love, the divine Principle of Jesus' teachings, and this truer sense of Love redeems man from the law of matter, sin, and death by the law of Spirit,—the law of divine love.' CONSTRUCTION

WE LIKE THIS HOME TOWN INDUSTRY!

WE DON'T have to go to Detroit to get a house built or a porch remodeled. The Construction Industry is a home town industry in our town. It's a home town industry in every town!

The dollars spent on local Construction circulate among your own neighbors. We'd feel the pinch in more ways than one if our paint, hardware and wallpaper stores closed up. Suppose we didn't have a single lumber yard or building supply dealer? Could we afford to lose our plumbers, electricians, bricklayers and carpenters? Wouldn't we feel the pinch too, if no one could get a real estate loan in our town?

Our home town Construction Industry supplies all these necessary services. They've built our town and are still busy improving it.

One thing we can't improve. That's the free enterprise system behind our Construction Industry. We have the proof it works best. And we like it!

Miss June LaBounty Weds Carl L. Pichler

The Presbyterian church was the scene of a lovely wedding Saturday, October 11, when Miss Anna June LaBounty, youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Theodore F. LaBounty, became the bride of Carl Luman Pichler, son of Mr. and Mrs. Roy W. Pichler of Adrian.

Preceding the ceremony, Mrs. Kenton Hunt played a fifteen minute organ recital and Charles Seeger of Detroit sang two baritone solos. As Mrs. Hunt played the Wedding March from Lohengrin, the bride approached the altar, on the arm of her father, who gave her in marriage. The Rev. E. M. McGehee performed the single ring service.

The altar was decorated with baskets of miniature dahlias and greenery. Preceding the bride to the altar were two small flower girls, Jan Johnson of Pulaski in pink and Judy Daniel of Detroit, in blue floor length gowns. Both carried old fashioned nosegays of rosebuds. Little Raymond Puffer bearer. Miss Barbara Lee Seeger of Detroit was bridesmaid and of honor. Mr. Pichler was attended Miss Beth Butler of Pulaski, maid ed by Jack Pontius of Toledo and ushers were Robert De Gowski of Detroit, Arthur Kapnick of Adrian and Donald LaBounty.

After an informal reception a wedding breakfast was served to 75 guests in the church parlors at tables centered with dahlias in white pottery vases. The brides table was centered with a four tiered wedding cake. Jack Tonneberger entertained with piano and vocal numbers during the breakfast which was served by Misses Mary Ellen Stewart of Clinton, Helen McClure of Detroit, Mr. and Mrs. Ray LaBounty, Mr. and Mrs. Donald Gieske and Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Puffer.

The couple left later on a week's trip.

She Orders Stork, Then Fails To Call At Store For Bird

Instead of carrying his customary "bundle from heaven," the Rosacrans stork came in a neatly wrapped, prefabricated paper box, via the American Railwy Express.

The reason, well, here it is:

Some months ago Leon Rosacrans, owner of the store, purchased one of the storks, built of wood, for window display purposes. A customer admired the bird and inquired if she might purchase one. She was told that the bird was not for sale, but she insisted that a similar stork be ordered for her.

Mr. Rosacrans ordered a second stork, and despite priorities the order was filled. (It can't be that there's a shortage of storks.) And now, Mr. Rosacrans has forgotten the name of the woman who ordered the stork. The bird has been here for several weeks, but there are no takers.

Should the lady who desired a stork in her home read this article, she may secure the bird by visiting the Rosacrans Store, and paying for the bird. (No feeding charge will be added.) If she should fail to call within a reasonable time, Mr. Rosacrans will be happy to dispose of the bird to some other interested customer. Otherwise, the next time the Rosacrans store puts in a "baby window," there's likely to be two storks instead of one—twins or somethin'.

Spooks Party On Hallowe'en

CHAMBER OF COMMERCE SPONSORS CIVIC CELEBRATION NEXT WEEK

Wade L. Jones, secretary of the Chamber of Commerce, today announced that Tecumseh would again this year, as in the past, celebrate Hallowe'en with a "Spooks Party" in which both young and old are urged to participate. The celebration will receive its financial support not only from the Chamber, but also from the Rotary Club and Village Council.

"The purpose of the party," Mr. Jones pointed out, "is to furnish entertainment for the youngsters, who in turn agree that they will not molest or destroy property. In the past, these parties have been a big success, and the participating organizations are happy to stage another this year."

Tentative plans for the entertainment call for a parade of masked merrymakers, forming on North Ottawa street about 7 p. m. on Friday evening, October 31. The parade will move past the judges stand, and prizes this year, instead of merchandise, will be Defense Savings Stamps. There also will be a bonfire, and plenty of doughnuts and cider for everybody. A dance, later in the evening will be held at the high school with Paul Johnson's orchestra furnishing the music.

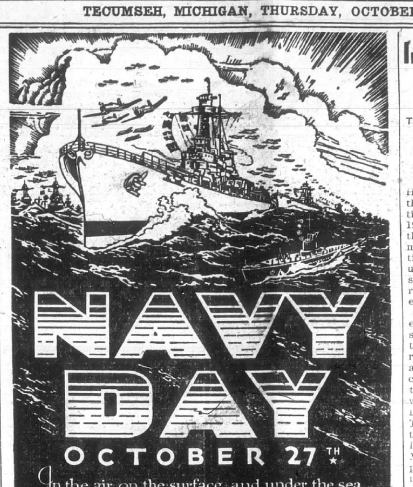
"We'll have the complete program outlined for an announcement next week," Mr. Jones said, "but in the meantime, look up your costume and be sure its ready. They'll be fun for everybody—the kind of fun we're interested in; not the soaping of windows or the destruction of property."

JUST-A-MERE CLUB

Mrs. Louis Schneider entertained the Just-a-Mere Club last Wednesday evening at a dessert party in her home on South Union street. Honors at games were awarded to Mrs. H. H. Hammel, Mrs. S. Henry Smith and Mrs. F. C. Hanna.

MONDAY CLUB MEETS

The Monday Club held an all day meeting at the Methodist church parlors Monday, and members spent the day sewing for the Red Cross. A pot luck dinner was served at noon.



Monday, October 27, is Birthday Anniversary of United States Navy

One hundred and sixty-six years ago a committee of three men, John Adams, Silas Dean and John Langdon purchased the merchant ship Black Prince of Philadelphia. Renamed the Alfred, this vessel had the distinction of being the first ship in the United States Navy. These men were appointed by congress, through the efforts of George Washington, as a Naval Committee responsible for the purchase of two vessels. An original appropriation of $100,000 was increased several days later, making possible the purchase of four ships in all—the latter three named the Columbus, Cabot and Andrew Doria.

The date October 27, on which Congress in 1775 acted to establish our Navy, is celebrated annually as Navy Day. The purposes of Navy Day are to pay a deserved tribute to the splendid service the men in the Navy have rendered in making and keeping us a nation and to better inform the American people of what our Navy is and does for them. When originally chosen, October 27 marked not only one of the most important dates in U. S. naval history, but also the birth date of Theodore Roosevelt who life was devoted to furthering a sound naval policy for the United States.

In its early days, the history of our Navy was a turbulent one. During the revolutionary period 73 vessels of all descriptions were used, but through sale, capture and destruction only one was left in 1785 and during that year Congress abolished the Navy, leaving the burden of the protection of our country in the hands of an army of only 80 men. In 1794 our Navy was revived by a Congressional Act authorizing the construction of several frigates to deal with the Algerine pirates and the first U. S. Navy Department was established four years later. One of these new frigates purchased as a result of this act of 1794 was the Constitution—with the Constellation, United States, President, Congress and Chesapeake making up a Navy which, through successful encounters with French cruisers and privateers, established an enviable reputation for itself. In 1801 a series of engagements with the Barbery states and the ensuing treaties rendered commerce in the Mediterranean safe from attack and ended the payment of tribute by Americans.

PROCLAMATION:

WHEREAS, the solemn observance of Navy Day will be held throughout the nation on Monday the 2/th day of October, it is fitting that all ceremonies and activities relating and pertaining thereto, be observed fittingly on that day.

WHEREAS, this year our nation faces the greatest crisis in all its history and has immediate need for strengthening all its defenses, the thought should be brought before all our people that Our Navy is not an instrument of aggression, but is indeed one of defense.

WHEREAS, other great nations have fallen because they did not properly protect their lands against the forces of aggression, let us take this occasion to give thanks that we, of this great land, have undertaken a program that will result in our having a Navy second to none.

THEREFORE, be it resolved that I, J. Floyd Elliott, Mayor of the City of Tecumseh, Michigan, by virtue of the authority vested in me by law, do hereby designate Monday, October 27 as the date upon which all observances of Navy Day shall be conducted with due regard to the gravity of world conditions and the consequent importance of both our sea and land defense.

J. FLOYD ELLIOTT,
Mayor of Tecumseh, Mich.
This 8th day of October, 1941.

The outstanding performance of our Navy and privateers during the War of 1812 insured freedom of the seas for our commerce and further increased our national prestige abroad.

The effective work of the Navy during the World War is still fresh in the minds of most of us. The astonishing fact that no American soldier escorted by the U. S. Navy lost his life in transit across the Atlantic amazed even those in the highest positions of authority.

All American foreign relations, all American participation in the life of the community for nations must find its expression through traffic on the seas. Ships, both commercial and naval, are the means of giving effective outlet to America's right to participation in international trade and politics.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles L. Fowler, Residents of Raisin Wed 50 Years

Mr. and Mrs. Charles L. Fowler celebrated their 50th wedding anniversary last Wednesday afternoon in their home in Holloway where a luncheon was served at 1:30 o'clock. The event was planned by their daughters Miss Helen Fowler and Mrs. Lucile Templeton of Detroit. The long table was decorated with gold and bronze chrysanthemums, the miniature candelabra favors being sent from California. After the luncheon Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Templeton of Detroit entertained the guests with motion pictures of their recent trip through California, Oregon and Washington. Mr. and Mrs. Fowler received many cards and gifts, including a golden blanket from their Holloway friends, presented by the Rev. D. S. Carmichael.

The guests included the Rev. Clyde Hawkins of Detoit, a former pastor of the Holloway Presbyterian church, and Mrs. Hawkins, Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Wilson of Gaylord, former neighbors of Mr. and Mrs. Fowler, Mrs. John L. Richard of Adrian, Mrs. Alice Guyette, Mrs. Aaron Moore and Mrs. M. Carl of Detroit and 18 friends from Holloway.

Miss Jennie S. Southmayd of Omaha and Mr. Fowler were married October 15, 1891, in Omaha. The bride of yesteryear met Mr. Fowler while she was visiting friends near Holloway where Mr. Fowler was a prosperous young farmer. When it was learned that he was planning a trip to the west his friends inquired how far west he intended to go. He replied: "I'm going west of Adrian." He was following the advice of Horace Greeley, "Go west, young man," but he did this only to return with his bride.

FINANCE GROUP HONORS THE LATE K. M. SCHNEIDER

Indians Ready For Dutchmen

TO PLAY MANCHESTER HERE TOMORROW EVE; DOWN ST. MARY'S 28-0

By Bob Larsen

Supporters of the Tecumseh High School grid team will see the Indians in action for the last time on the home gridiron in the 1941 season, Friday evening, when they meet the Manchester Dutchmen under the lights at Recreation Center. The kick-off is scheduled for 8:15 p. m., and reserved seats are now on sale. Another record-shattering crowd is expected.

Although the Indians are favored to win over the Dutchman, few supporters believe that Manchester will fail to score in tomorrow evening's battle. The maroon and gold of the Dutchmen was carried to the co-championship of the Lenawee League last year with six wins and two losses. Last year, Manchester defeated Tecumseh 26 to 6, but the visitors will find a much stronger Indian squad this season. The Manchester team will average 150 pounds as compared with the Tecumseh 160-pound average, but with such backs as Clark and Kensler, the Dutchmen's chances cannot be treated too lightly. The Indians this year are giving defense of a colossal style to the backfield, but against the powerful Manchester line, bucks and smashes may be relatively ineffective.

This much is certain: when the Indians start tomorrow evening they will be the only team in the league unbeaten, untied and unscored upon. In five starts the Redmen whitewashed Milan, Hudson, Swanton, Clinton and St. Mary's in order. In tomorrow's game there will be many end sweeps and passes, if the weather permits a dry enough ball, Tecumseh being determined to go through the season without a cross on its goal line.

Before a somewhat smaller crowd than usual, the Indians downed St. Mary's of Adrian here last week Friday evening by a score of 28 to 0. They piled up 21 or the 28 points in the second half of the game.

The first Indian tally came when, on the first play of the game, Jack Osburn intercepted a St. Mary's pass on St. Mary's 20 and ran it for 20 yards. The next score was made in the second quarter. In the third, Proctor, standing on the Irishmen's 10-yard stripe threw a pass to Mohr in the end zone for the second Indian score. In the fourth quarter, Mohr smashed off his own right tackle for the third tally and not five minutes later Mohr intercepted a St. Mary's pass on their 22 yard line and ran it for a touchdown. Chuck Coffey's automatic toe kicked all four points, giving him a record of seven out of eight conversions attempted in the last two games.

Bob Mohr, clock-like Indian back, again averaged over 50 yards to the punt. Tecumseh had nine first downs compared to the Irishmen's eight, and 153 yards to St. Mary's 154.

Thanksgiving This Year Will Be November 20

Governor Van Wagoner has proclaimed November 20 as Thanksgiving day and declared he would follow President Roosevelt's example next year of returning the date of the holiday to the traditional last Thursday in November.

"Let us on this Thanksgiving day" the proclamation said, "pray that we as a people be preserved from disunity and from complacency and faith be sustained in our trying period of national emergency."

A bill was passed in the House and sent to the Senate, making the last Thursday in November a National holiday. If it becomes a law the day will be fixed and no more changing of dates to confuse the nation.

ROTARY CLUB MEETS

E. L. Bennett of Washington, D. C., and Ward Stoner, of Chicago, guests of L. W. Larsen, were the speakers at the regular noonday luncheon of the Rotary Club here, Tuesday at the parish house of St. Peter's Episcopal church. Mr. Stoner, an expert on frozen foods, briefly discussed that subject.

The club appropriated $25 to help defray the cost of the civic Hallowe'en celebration, to be staged here on Friday evening, October 31, under the direction of the Chamber of Commerce.

TO GIVE LOCAL YOUNG MEN INFORMATION ABOUT OPPORTUNITIES OFFERED

At the suggestion of Secretary of Navy Knox, Earl L. Wickwire, publisher of The Herald has been made Navy Editor, to help the Navy in giving ambitious local young men information about the opportunities the "Two-Ocean" Navy offers them for technical training and advancement as they serve, their country in its emergency.

According to an announcement made public in Washington, a limited number of additional men between the ages of 17 and 50 will be given a chance, by enlistment in the Navy or Naval Reserve, to get to the top, with big pay, in jobs which by their aptitude and as a result of examination they show themselves fitted, from among nearly 50 different trades and vocations. These include such callings as aviation machinist, dental technician, photographer, diesel engineer, radio technician, electrician, welder, storekeeper, and cooker. Enlisted men may also qualify for commissions as officers.

Beginning this week, the Navy plans for a limited time to accept new qualified men for training. These men will be sent to one of four Naval Training Stations and may have a chance to go to a Navy Trade School even before assignment to the fleet. During this period they will be given regular Navy pay and the Navy's free schooling is valued at hundreds of dollars.

"Never in the history of the United States has there been greater opportunity for loyal young Americans to serve their country and build their futures than right now," said Secretary Knox.

In outlining the many advantages offered by enlistment in the United States Navy, Mr. Wickwire said, "It is possible for a bright young man to increase his pay seven times during the first enlistment and he can earn as much as $126 a month. This monthly figure is actually worth much more when it is remembered that the man has few living expenses and is provided with the finest of medical and dental care.

"You have all your food and lodging, and all your original outfit of clothing provided by Uncle Sam free," Mr. Wickwire continued. "In addition there are free sports and entertainment—even to the latest Hollywood pictures. On top of this you get free travel and adventure in colorful places—a thing few civilians can afford.

"When you consider the size of this country and the fact that the Navy will select only 15,000 applicants a month from many times that number throughout the United States, the question 'Many are called but few are chosen,' will apply to local young men interested.

"Navy men are a 'hand-picked' lot. Candidates must be men of more than average intelligence adn ambition, of fine moral character and must have the written recommendation of least two local townspeople."

The Navy Editor has just received from Washington a supply of well illustrated booklets for all men interested and, in addition, will welcome inquiries from young men who wish to look into the new and greater opportunities the Navy now offers for training for future civilian careers as they serve their country now in its emergency.

YOUTH'S RESPONSIBILITY

The young people of today are most definite in their demands for "the rights of Youth." They know what they want and they are glib in expressing their desires. They are terribly sure of what is right and wrong, and they go most thoroughly and analytically into every thing—except their own obligations to society.

Youth has a responsibility in this life. The young people may grouse about the mistakes and shortcomings of their elders—but are thy seizing every opportunity to gain the knowledge that would fit them to do more than their elders? Will they be better equipped for the task of making a new world out of the devastation that will be left after the present chaos has subsided? Their opportunities for education have been greater than those of their fathers, and therefore the responsibility of Youth will be greater.

The strain on the coming generation will be great. Those who take up citizenship in this transition period will require initiative, resourcefulness, adaptability and idealism. They must have the ability to produce something for the good of all, for there will be no room for parasites.

Youth has before it now the task of preparing for the days ahead, and it must prepare by learning how to think things out and think things through. It will need initiative in order to plan constructively. It will need resourcefulness which must be gained by practical experience. It will need adaptability, which means an ability to cooperate with its fellows.

But most of all it will need idealism—but it must be a constructive idealism. Youth could well take for its creed today the Oath of Citizenship which the Youth of Athens took upon arriving at their majority.

"To bring no disgrace to this city by dishonest act; to fight for the ideals and sacred things alone and with many; to desert no faltering comrade; to revere and obey the city laws; to incite respect and reverence in those above us who are prone to annul or set them at naught. To strive unceasingly to quicken the public sense of civic duty. To transmit this city no less but more beautiful than it was transmitted to us."

If the youth of today would do this, there would be no need for fear of the future.

Hens Help To Increase Lenawee Farmers Income

Lenawee county hens are doing their part to assist the national farm income to the highest level in 12 years. Estimates indicate that the farmers' gross income in 1941 will exceed eleven billion dollars for the first time since 1929, up two billion over 1940.

Coupling heavy production with favorable market condition means that income from eggs alone should exceed $400,000,000. The nation's hens are expected to produce forty billion eggs this year, on the basis of production figures to date assembled at the Chicago Mercantile Exchange.

Heavy defense buying and sales promotion activities were prime reasons for the higher price structure. Chain stores which last year purchased 35 per cent of the eggs produced in Michigan, report consumption holding rather well, aided by higher national income and mass distribution methods which reduce the spread between producer and consumer prices.

The favorable price situation is illustrated by the fact that in the flush production period this year it took only 6.37 dozen eggs to buy 100 pounds of poultry ration, compared with 8.27 in the same period last year.

The equivalent of nearly 120,000,000 dozen eggs in shell, frozen and powdered form, has been purchased since the lend-lease bill was passed.

Quality campaigns, resulting in a better grade of eggs in Michigan brought about increased purchasing by the mass distributors. One chain, the A. & P., reported it bought 2,340,000 dozen Michigan eggs in 1940.

Production in the state is expected to exceed 114,000,000 dozen eggs, with Lenawee county contributing more than 4,320,000 dozen of this total.

Whooping Cough Far Above Normal In State

Whooping cough is a third above normal in the state, says the Michigan Department of Health.

"The winter will be a hard one for many parents unless they have their babies and young children protected against whooping cough," says Dr. H. Allen Moyer, state health commissioner.

"Vaccine will prevent or modify whooping cough so that attacks are light and short, but time is necessary. Protection is built up slowly over a period of weeks, and parents are advised to take babies and young children to the family physician now to be protected. Although there is more whooping cough now than in the last five years, the peak season is still ahead—in the winter and spring months."

Only the the last few years has it been possible to control whooping cough. Parents now understand not only that whooping cough is dangerous but also that protection is available against it.

"Probation After Death" will be the subject of the Lesson-Sermon in all Christian Science Churches throughout the world on Sunday, October 26.

The Golden Text (Hebrews 3: 12, 13) is: "Take heed brethern, lest there be in any of you an evil heart of unbelief, in departing from the Living God. But exhort one another daily, while it is called Today."

Among the Bible citations is this passage (Proverbs 17:3): "The fining pot is for silver, and the furnace for gold: but the Lord trieth the hearts."

Correlative passages to be read from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy, include the following (p. 66): "Trials are proofs of God's care. Spiritual development germinates not from seed sown in the soil of material hopes, but when these decay. Love propagates anew the higher joys of Spirit, which have no taint of earth."

Priorities Muddle Is Seen as Threat To Small Business

UNLESS RELIEF IS GRANTED, LITTLE INDUSTRY IS BOUND TO FEEL THE PINCH

LANSING, October 23.—Conflicting economic forces are now converging on non-metropolitan cities and towns of Michigan.

Their movement has been accelerated by the deterioration of the Russian military front and a consequent realization of American leaders of the enormity of the production job facing the United States.

An overall picture of what is happening on Main Street today may be put together, jig-saw fashion, from the segments which are at hand. While the picture is not complete, the focus is clear enough to justify comment.

Shortage of Supplies

One negative economic force that threatens the life of small towns is the growing shortage of raw materials needed for the manufacture of non-defense products.

This bottleneck is the inevitable result of an attempt by this country to accomplish in a few years what Hitler did in seven years. That we have the capacity to do it is generally conceded; that we are falling down in attaining our maximum potentialities is also widely admitted.

The lack of supplies for factories now engaged in non-defense production was recently recognized by Governor Murray D. Van Wagoner when he testified before a congressional committee in Detroit, as follows:

"Unless this priorities starvation now facing our small industries is relieved, Michigan and the nation face economic chaos within three months which will bring about a welfare and economic problem far worse than the depth of the last depression."

Priorities Muddle

"Why this shortage of vitally-needed supplies?" you ask.

In our present transition to an all-out defense basis, shortages are taking place for several reasons:

1. Actual shortage of raw material. Not enough copper, steel, aluminum or other urgently needed materials to meet needs of both defense and non-defense industries. Consequently, priorities favor defense and at the expense of non-defense.

2. Hoarding of materials induced by fear. C. E. Wilson, president of General Motors, recently declared before a Congressional committee that "people are getting steel who will keep it in the mud for months."

3. Poor planning and maladjustments in priority schedules.

The National Association of Purchasing Agents in its latest bulletin points out, "Undoubtedly there are hoarded supplies on hand in many places, and attempts will be made to smoke them out."

A steel trade review also revealed that "filing of priority claims is having the effect of wiping considerable duplicate tonnage off books, and the existence of some large inventories is revealed."

Choice of Small Industries

If small industries cannot obtain needed supplies with which to continue production schedules, then the choice becomes a temporary and perhaps permanent shutdown with resultant unemployment of many workers or a trasition over to production of defense goods.

Governor Van Wagoner believes that Michigan's industrial capacity has only been partially tapped by the government; that the state could produce 50 per cent more for defense if energies of small industries were utilized.

"Threatened unemployment may be eased temporarily, he feels, by distributing work to all employees in hard-hit industries on a shorter work week basis, say 32 hours instead of 40, and so on, and also by the assistance of unemployment compensation for 18 weeks at $16 a week.

He also has pointed out that migration of workers into Michigan from other states will only accentuate the unemployment problem here.

What to Do

This pinching shortage of materials has inspired Washington to create another alphabetical clearing house, the Supplies Priorities and Allocations Board, known as SPAB, with Donald M. Nelson (former Sears executive) as executive director and Floyd Odlum as angel No. 1 to whom small business must look for relief.

Odlum intends to do something about the situation whereby 56 large corporations, such as General Motors, Ford, Packard, Chrysler, and Hudson have received 75 per cent of defense contracts.

In getting this tremendous armament program under way quickly, it was logical for the government to go first to the big manufacturer. Thus the Ford Motor Co. is not only completing a plant to make Pratt & Whitney motors, now nearly ready for production, but is building a gigantic new plant near Ypsilanti for making of 75 bombers and 100 plane sub-assemblies each month. Packard is just getting into production for Rolls-Royce aircraft motors; Hudson is finishing a naval arsenal for ordnance production; Chrysler expects capacity tank production in its new plant by Jan. 1, while General Motors is tooling up for $1.2 billion of defense contracts, 70 per cent of which are not normally made in GM plants.

But now the little manufacturer's turn has come. Odlum hopes to open 200 field offices for handling of defense sub-contracts, in the meanwhile, small manufacturers are urged to write to the Division of Contract Distribution, Office of Production Management, Social Security Building at Washington, D. C. for contract forms. Positive relief is possible for those who act promptly.

Higher Farm Income

Another positive counter-force to priorities pinching small businesses is the prospect of higher farm income in 1942. Assurances have been given to Michigan farmers that agriculture is to be put on an all-out production basis for the coming year.

Unless inflation neutralizes gains made by higher farm income, Michigan farmers will have more money. The big problem is going to be shortages of labor and farm equipment, and a state conference is to be held soon at the call of the governor to draft plans for trying to overcome them.

P. T. A. Council Holds Organization Meeting

The Tecumseh P. T. A. Council held its first meeting of the year at the high school building Monday afternoon. The meeting was called for organizational purposes and the following business was conducted:

Following the election of Mrs. Albert Bagshaw as temporary chairman and Mrs. Keith Barron as temporary secretary, a motion was made and carried that the P. T. A. be reorganized to conform to plans recently released to the parents through a news letter. A committee of five members was then appointed by the temporary chairman to draw up a new constitution which is to be presented to the council at its next meeting which will be held at the high school building next Monday afternoon, October 27, at 4 p. m. The members of the constitution committee are Mrs. Neil pearson, chairman, Mrs. Jens Tonborg, Mrs. E. M. Campbell, Mrs. Paul Johnson and Mrs. Wallace Hite.

The meeting was adjourned following a brief discussion of plans for the new organization.

Members present at the meeting were. Mrs. Elmer Burleson, Mrs. Jens Touborg, Mrs. Keith Barron, Mrs. Wallace Hite, Mrs. W. L. Berkhof, Mrs. Clark Goodcre, Mrs. E. M. Campbell, Mrs. Albert Bagshaw, Mrs. Bill Barnes, Mrs. Harry Tuckey, Mrs. Teodore Ehinger, Mrs. Charles Manley, Mrs. J. R. Thompson, Mrs. Roger Wilson, and Mrs. Ben Hammack.

a TELEPHONE is well worth its small cost

A WHILE back, we almost lost a cow because it took so long to get the veterinary. We got a phone, and it's been useful in so many other ways that we'll never be without it again. We call our friends and they call us. It makes it so much more cheerful here on the farm, especially when the weather's bad. And it's a fine feeling to know that we can phone neighbors or the doctor quickly in an emergency. A phone is well worth its price. It doesn't pay to be without one.

New Postmaster On Job Nov. 1st

P. A. BOWEN FILES BOND AND WILL TAKE OVER DUTIES, SATUDAY

Percy A. Bowen, who two weeks ago received the appointment of temporary postmaster here, succeeding the late Franc S. Gillespie, will take over his new office on Saturday, November 1, it was announced today. Mr. Bowen's bond of office already has been approved and filed, and his entrance upon the new job, it was said, it but a formality.

Mr. Bowen's appointment was sent to the Postmaster General's office by Senator Prentiss M. Brown of Michigan, and the local man received notification of his appointment while he was a patient in Tecumseh Hospital, recovering from an emergency operation for appendicitis. He was released from the hospital last week, and has been able to spend a few hours downtown each day this week.

The new postmaster is well known in Lenawee county, having been active for years in Democratic politics, both in the county and township. For many years he was in the retail clothing business here, he is a former commander of Underwood-Orr post, American Legion, and a veteran of the World War.

Although Mr. Bowen's appointment to succeed the late Mrs. Gillespie is classed as temporary, those in political circles say that a permanent appointment will be forthcoming, but probably not until after the first of the year.

Beat Morenci, Indian Slogan

TECUMSEH IS EXPECTED TO WIN, EASILY; MANCHESTER WHITEWASHED

By Bob Larsen

The Tecumseh High School Indians will journey to Morenci on Friday afternoon to play their next-to-the-last game of the season with that city's high school eleven. As the Redskins enter the contest they will be the only team in Lenawee County League undefeated, untied and unscored upon, after having whitewashed the Morenci Dutchmen at Recreation Center here, last Friday evening, by a score of 26 to 0.

The final game of the season, with Blissfield, will be played in that city next Friday evening at Ellis Park, under the lights. If the Indians succeed in defeating Morenci tomorrow, the Blissfield game is expected to crash all records for attendance, with several hundred people from Tecumseh on the cheering line.

Tecumseh's chances against Morenci are definitely favorable, and the dopesters are favoring the Indians by three touchdowns. However, the game will not be a push-over, Morenci has a strong line, led by Thompson and Fowers, and defeated Clinton last Friday by a score of 13 to 6. In addition to the customary 5-3-2-1 defense, Morenci also uses a 7-diamond play which may give the Redskins some difficulty. The 7-man diamond puts seven men on the line of scrimmage and the four backs in a diamond-shaped position, adding additional playing power. This may halt the Indians' power drives, so successful against other opponents.

League officials are wondering just how long Tecumseh can stand the dizzy pace it has been going on the gridiron this season. The Indians have made six starts and to date no opposing team has crossed Tecumseh's goal line. This is an unusual record for any high school team in the county.

Spectators at last Friday's game saw one of the most important and most thrilling contests of the season. Bob Mohr, who is averaging over 50 yards to the punt, topped the Manchester's collegiate average last week, as best college booter averaging 49¼ yards while Bob averaged 55. The first score came in the first period when Chuck Coffey went around end for 12 yards after a terrific march down the field. The conversion failed. There was no score in the second period. The second tally came when Proctor flipped a perfect pass into the waiting arms of Bob Mohr for the score. The conversion failed on a bad pass from center. In the fourth period Tecumseh scored twice, the first when Proctor smashed over one yard after a brilliant passing attack had moved the ball to the uni stip. Coffey kicked the conversion.

The fourth score came with Bob Wilson crashing for two yards concluding a march down the field from the Manchester 38 yard line Mohr the conversion on a fake kick. Tecumseh gained 283 yards from scrimage to Manchester's 80, and rang up 16 first downs to Manchester's 6.

One cannot mention any one line man for outstanding play. Let it suffice to say that Green, C. Jackson, Brown, Carpenter, Will, Brooks, and Carlson, the regular line men, with Jackson and Bill Sisson and substitutes have been in the fray giving every thing they have so that stellar backfield can mow down all adversaries.

LOCAL CLUBS SPONSOR PARTY, BUT EXPECT "NO PRANKS" IN RETURN

One of the most elaborate civic Hallowe'en parties to be staged in Tecumseh in many years—a party at which everything is free and for which the village expects, in return, a community free of pranks—was announced today by Wade L. Jones, secretary of the Chamber of Commerce.

"We are spending considerable money on this party," Mr. Jones said, "and in return we expect that the merry-makers will refrain from all damage, including the soaping of windows and the destruction of property, a practice quite common in some communities on Hallowe'en We feel that if the Village Council, the Rotary Club and the Chamber of Commerce pay for the entire celebration from their treasuries, the would-be pranksters should be sufficiently grateful. However, we do intend to have special police on the job Hallowe'en, and should there be violations, officers have been instructed to cause arrests and to detain offenders in the local jail until the opening of court at 9 o'clock, Saturday morning."

The downtown celebration of Spook's Night this year will be a three-fold affair. There will be a parade with prizes, there will be a theatre party and more prizes, and at the high school gymnasium there will be a dance, with music by Paul Johnson's 5-piece orchestra. Everything will be free, there will be no occasion for money.

The parade headed by the high school band—which will return early from the Morenci-Tecumseh football game—will form at the intersection of Ottawa street and Chicago boulevard at 7:30 p. m. The parade route will be westward on Chicago boulevard through the business district, past the judges' stand. There will be $1 in prizes in all and one for the best man's costume, the best woman's costume, the most comical boy's and the most comical girl's costume, (over the age of 12 years,) and similar prizes in both boys and girls under 12 years of age. All prizes will be issued in United States Defense Savings Stamps.

The judges will be Mrs. Yale Kerby and Mrs. Clara Des Ermia, the Rev. O. V. Robinson and C. W. Gilman.

Immediate after the parade, at 8:30 p. m., will come the theatre party at the Strand. Admission here will be by tickets, issued at the public schools, which must be exchanged at the Strand box office for other tickets. Mr. Jones said that theatre tickes would be issued to students in the eighth and lower grades, for those who desire to attend the show. However, it will be impossible to obtain tickets other than at school.

For students in the ninth grade and above and others, there will be the dance at the high school gymnasium. This will begin at 9 o'clock and continue until after midnight.

Mr. Jones also announced that the management of the Strand was cooperating in the party, and that prizes would be issued by the theatre, between pictures, for the best costume. The first prize at the theatre will be $2 in Defense Stamps, the second, $1, and the third, four complimentary tickets to another show.

"The committee in charge of the entertainment is of the opinion," Mr. Jones said, "that the students this year would like to get away from the traditional 'cider and doughnuts party,' and instead, have the dance and theatre. We sincerely hope that they are pleased with the program we have planned, and that they cooperate with us in making Tecumseh entirely free of damage and inconvenience on Hallowe'en," he concluded.

32 Selectees To Report Nov. 5

NEW DRAFT BOARD IS NAMED IN COUNTY AFTER YEAR OF SERVICE

Thirty two county registrants will report in Detroit for physical examination Wednesday, November 5, in preparation for a call for 24 men to be inducted into army service November 18. After examination the men who pass may apply for immediate induction or return home to await call. This is the first group to take examinations under the new regulations whereby all Lenawee men will receive physical examination by board doctors but will receive a special army examination at the Detroit station from 10 to 30 days before induction. The old system of examination on the day of induction worked a hardship on men who had quit jobs and were then rejected.

The local board has discontinued local examinations until new and larger draft calls make it necessary.

In case the local board runs out of eligible registrants before July it is possible that class 1-B men, unfit only for limited military training may be called.

A new country draft board has been named to replace present members who have resigned, after completing a full year of service on October 16, because of their own personal business interests, The three members are John C. Howell, Frederick P. Wood and Rev. George D. Prentice, all of Adrian, and they will succeed A. D. Billings, H. A. Fee and Alan Taylor. The rest of the office personnel will remain the same. Mr. Howell and Rev. Prentice have accepted the appointment but Mr. Wood has been out of town and the organization cannot be completed until his return and acceptance.

Those called from this vicinity are Harry D. Richard and Kenneth D. McEnro of Tecumseh, Walter D. Johnston of Clinton, Howard Kronberg Jr., of Tipton, and Donald H. Lorenz of Britton.

Larger Crops Farm Problem

MORE FOOD NEEDED FOR ARMY, THE PEOPLE, AND PEOPLE OF EUROPE

LANSING, October 30.—Instead of plowing crops under, Michigan farmers are asked to grow bigger crops in 1942.

The reason is obvious. As Harry N Scholler, director of the north ventral division of the AAA, said recently at a Lansing state meeting: "We've got to feed the army, the people, and the people of Europe."

Thus a complete reversal of the doctrine of scarcity has taken place in less than ten years, and the reason lies entirely out of the farmer's or consumer's control.

For the first time in many years, the farmers are urged to increase food production. They are assured, at the same time, of a "profit".

This will be good news to families on rural routes and to business men on Main street, but prosperity has its price and all is not rosy and bright.

Soil Conservation

Whereas in the last world war every available acre of land was turned under for growing of grain and the usual economic marginal use of land was completely ignored, this crisis is finding agricultural leaders prepared to get production results without sacrifice of soil conservation.

The sub-marginal land of low fertility will be left alone, according to present plans. Increased output will be effected through application of better farming methods.

Mechanized agriculture is going to occupy the stage, Manufacturers of farm equipment are being exempt from priorities, and logically so, if the front line of democracy is to extend back to the plow.

War-Time Profits

AAA Leader Scholler, speaking at a state meeting of more than 1,000 county committeemen at Lansing, urged farmers to avoid a war-time profit splurge of going into debt for purchase of more land, more machinery and "expensive" automobiles.

"Save your money, buy defense bonds," he pleaded, "so you'll be able later on to buy machinery and automobiles made by factories now working on defense orders. Thus we can keep the factories going and not have a post-war depression."

WHAT ABOUT YOUR NEIGHBOR

The world is closing in on the measure of "personal liberty" you may enjoy. It was never truer than it is today that "no man liveth unto himself." We may talk as we please about our Bill of Rights and our Constitutional privileges, but there are some things of which even these do not treat and they are things which affect us in our everyday life. They are so personal that in many cases they cannot be reached by the law. The whole doctrine of law has been reduced by Blackstone, one of the world's greatest legal authorities to this simple formula: "first, that we should live honestly; second, that we hurt nobody; and third, that we should render to every one his due."

The application of these principles of social relationships, to the labor problem, to forms of government, and to international affairs, would settle every legal question which disturbs the world today. Unfortunately the working out of these principles is often overshadowed by covetousness, bigotry, hatred and envy, and these lead to personal conflict, class struggles, and sometimes to world war.

Because of this fact there arises the necessity of a higher law. It was handed down to us thousands of years ago. Here it is: "Thou shalt love thy neighbor as thyself." This law was announced by the Great Teacher when he was asked the question as to what is the first and great commandment, and when He told the story of the Good Samaritan as an illustration of this principle.

We can't go wrong on any decision or course of action with this law as the guiding principle of our life. Applied to human relationships there would be no world wars, no class struggles, no labor problems, no personal conflicts. And frankly, anything less than this reduces mankind to the level of thinking expressed in the motto: "Every man for himself, and may the devil take the hindmost."

An unknown "neighbor" once wrote these words as his guide in his relationship to others:

"I shall pass through this world but once. Any good, therefore, that I can do or any kindness that I can show to any human being, let me do it now. Let me not defer or neglect it, for I shall not pass this way again."

This should be the spirit of every man who would be a "neighbor" in the truest sense — and verily, he shall have his reward, and he need not wait for that reward in whatever life there may be in the future.

A Night Of Thrills--

The Time of Changing Seasons

Yes, tomorrow is Hallowe'en, the time when ghosts walk over creaky attic boards and black, shadow-like objects stir in the wind-piled leaves.

But that is not all. Tomorrow marks the changing of seasons in this area. The next day is November First —a time when anything might happen in the weather market.

Is your home ready for winter? Are there still needed repairs, storm doors or windows lacking, a leaky roof that needs attention?

Now is the time to act—and quickly. It will not be long before drifting snow and ice will make some repair work difficult, if not impossible.

Our stock of lumber, roofing, cement and repair materials is still complete and our "sudden service" is at your call.

(Again, let us suggest attic insulation. You'll find that it will reduce your fuel bill and add comfort to your home, both in summer and in winter.)

But the profits of 1942 production are not going to be easily realized.

Big problems are the shortages of labor and farm equipment, and the two go together. Canada has sought to overcome them by mobilizing young women into harvesting bridgades during the summer months. Such was done in this country to a limited extent during World War I, and the result was beneficial to morale as well as to farm output.

Food Prices

Before a congressional committee at Washington, Commissioner Card strongly opposed price-fixing for farm commodities "at this time."

If there must be price fixing, as some experts advocate, then the farmer insists on price ceilings for all commodities including labor. And immediately you run counter into a powerful pressure group at Washington, just as influential as the farmers themselves.

With the farmer opposing price-fixing, and labor telling the government to keep hands off, the housewife or consumer is being caught right in the middle. Here is where the peril of inflaton sets in, a threat of scarcity which prompts many persons to overbuy and thus to create an artificial scarcity, kicking prices upward and upward.

A recent analysis of commodity markets, made by the Associated Press, shows that prices paid farmers for major commodities have soared three to 47 per cent since June, 1940, and 18 to 68 per cent since January of this year! Wholesale butter has gone up almost 40 per cent since June of last year; cheese, 71 per cent; eggs, 88 per cent; hogs, 117 per cent; cattle, 24 per cent; lambs, 10 per cent; grains, 35 to 81 per cent. Lard is 128 per cent higher, pork loins 100 per cent more, ham 82 per cent up, and so on.

Lease-Lend

Along with airplanes, tanks and other items needed for "shooting war", our government is committed under the lease-lend act of Congress to furnish many shiploads of foods to Europe.

But the fact remains that there are record breaking surpluses of some foods for this time of the year, and yet prices are going up persistently. Why?

Just as many manufacturers have contributed to a shortage of raw materials by hoarding them, so many housewives have helped to push up spiraling food prices by buying a dozen cans instead of one or two, or case-lots instead of a half dozen. Commodity men were quoted by the Associated Press as saying buyers are their worst enemies.

Consumer groups, however, suspect that the middleman is profiteering at the expense of both the farmer and consumer. A state consumer committee was recently formed under auspices of the Michigan Council of Defense to investigate reports of excessive price raises.

Inflation

If what the experts proclaim at Washington—economists such as Lubin and Henderson—an inevitable penalty which we must pay through inflation which is well underway, duplicating the World War inflation, will be a steady advance of food prices during the coming months.

Here you have the food picture in Michigan today—farmer, middleman and consumer.

Unemployment may exist in cities and towns, but there'll be no unemployment on Michigan farms in 1942. Home gardens will be larger; "root cellars" will be filled with more vegetables than usual; shelves of canned goods will bend under added weight. While the farmer will continue to exercise his inherited perogative of complaining about the weather, he is going to be a lot better off than many city folks—and he knows it.

OUR DEMOCRACY—by Mat

OUR WOMEN STAND BEHIND OUR MEN—AS GUARDIANS OF MORALE AND THRIFT, SO REQUISITE TODAY—IN JOBS, PRIVATE AND GOVERNMENTAL, THEY AID NATIONAL DEFENSE, AND MORE AND MORE ARE STANDING ON THEIR OWN FEET ECONOMICALLY, AS EVIDENCED BY 4,000,000 WOMEN HAVING TAKEN OUT LIFE INSURANCE LAST YEAR ALONE.

FILM FASHIONS

An American firm producer asked an English friend to watch the "shooting" of one of his "cosiety" films to see that was all right.

After a time the Englishman asked: "Why does that man keep his hat on when he's talking to the lady in the drawing room?"

"Sure," said the producer, "he can't take it off—another lady's coming in presently, and he's got to raise his hat to her."

ONE TOO MANY

Young Alec was watching a house painter at work. Presently he asked:

"How many coats of paint do you give a door?"

"Two, my boy," was the reply.

"Then if you give it three coats," said the lad brightly, "it would be an over-coat?"

"No, my lad," retorted the painter grimly, "it would be a waste coat."

Sergeant—Now that that rifle and find out how to use it.

Draftee—Tell me one thing. Is it true that the harder I pull the trigger the farther the bullet will go?

SMILES

NO ACCOMPANIST

"Wha is you occupation?"
"An organist."
"Organist, eh? And why did you give it up?"
"The monkey died."

NO WONDER

"My father lost money on everything my brother makes."
"What does your brother make?"
"Mistakes."

Lawyer—That'll be $10, please. Client—What for?
"My advice!"
"But I'm not taking it."

He—The bank has returned that check of your father's.
She—Isnt' that fine? What can we buy with it next?

WHY TELL IT?

It was a very wet night when Jones knocked at the door of his friend Watts.

"Hallo!" exclaimed Watts. "I'm glad to see you. Come in!"

"I don't think I dare," Jones protested. "My feet are very dirty."

"That doesn't matter. Just keep your boots on."

The big difference between human and vegetable life is that in vegetation the sap rises.

QUIET PLEASE

First Class Scout (trying to study)—Well, yes, you might call a vessel a boat.

Tenderfoot—Then what kind of a boat is a blood vessel?

First Class Scout—A lifeboat, of course.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE CHURCH

"Everlasting Punishment" will be the subject of the Lesson-Sermon in all Christian Science Churches throughout the world on Sunday, November 2.

The Golden Text (Proverbs 14: 34) is: "Righteousness exalteth a nation: but sin is a reproach to any people."

Among the Bible citations is this passage (Matthew 12:36, 37): "But I say unto you, That every idle word that men shall speak, they shall give account thereof in the day of judgment. For by thy words thou shalt be justified, and by thy words thou shalt be condemned."

Correlative passages to be read from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy, include the following (p. 405): "Christian Science commands man to master the propensities,—to hold hatred in abeyance with kindness, to conquer lust with chastity, revenge with clarity, and to overcome deceit with honesty."

What's it got you haven't got in your present automobile?

HERE stands an automobile – the automobile, we believe, of 1942.

What's in it to lay claim on your attention? Well, among other things:

FIREBALL compression – specially contoured Domite pistons that wring more good out of every drop of gas.

Compound Carburetion† – a constant check and double check on gas usage to see that you get both power and range from the fuel you buy.

There are longer-lasting bearings, stouter connecting rods, broadrim wheels that steady the ride and deliver top tire mileage.

There's a torque-tube drive such as you find in America's fastest fighting planes, and soft, gentle all-coil springs that never need any mothering care.

There are ruggedness, dependability, frugal use of gas and oil, and as for life and action and ability – why not see for yourself?

In short – go try out this Buick and see why it is the automobile of 1942 – and your smartest buy considering the times.

NAVY INTELLIGENCE

Is it necessary to be a high school graduate in order to enlist in the Navy?

No. Navy enlistees need not be high school graduates. All applicants will be given an examination containg approximately 100 questions. A grade of 50 per cent or better on this examination is sufficiently high to pass the Navy educational standards. However, a high school education will be valuable to the seaman during his Navy enlistment.

If I enlist in the Navy or Naval Reserve, will I be sent to a Navy Trade School?

All new recruits are sent to one of four Naval Training Stations and after a training period they may take examinations for entrance into Navy Trade Schools. Those recruits who pass their examinations with sufficiently high grades are sent to Navy Trade Schools before assignment to the fleet. While attending these schools, they will receive regular Navy pay and free schooling valued at $1500.

What is the greatest possible pay I can expect to earn during my first term of enlistment?

It is possible to earn as much as $126 a month by the end of your first term of enlistment, and remember that your clothing, lodging, medical and dental care are all supplied free.

After I have served my term of enlistment, what benefits do I get for re-enlistment?

Depending on your rate and length of service, you can get a cash bonus up to $300 plus 30 days leave with pay.

What does the term "ash can" mean in the Navy?

An "ash can" is a slang term applied to the depth charge used to combat submarines. The average "ash can" is a container filled with approximately 300 pounds of T.N.T. and can be dropped overboard from a ship and so controlled as to explode at depths ranging from 36 to 300 feet. These are generally carried by the fast ships in the fleet, as a boat dropping a charge regulated to explode at 70 feet depth must move away from the explosion area at a speed of 25 knots or more. These "ash cans" are either rolled off the stern or shot from "y-guns" which hurl one right and one left simultaneously.

ENROLL IN THE NAVAL RESERVE ... BE RELEASED AFTER THE EMERGENCY

The Secretary of the Navy has announced:—"All men now enlisting in the Naval Reserve will be retained on active Navy duty throughout the period of the national emergency, but they will be released to inactive duty as soon after the emergency as their services can be spared, regardless of the length of time remaining in their enlistment."

Remember—the regular Navy and Naval Reserve offer you the same travel, training, promotions, pay increases. Physical requirements in the Naval Reserve are more liberal.

TO BUILD ROADS TO YPSI BOMBER PLANT

LANSING. — After approving contracts for two access highways to serve the huge U. S. Army Bomber Plant under construction near Ypsilanti, State Highway Commissioner G. Donald Kennedy this week sought bids on 19 additional highway projects estimated to cost $1,203,000.

Kennedy stated low bids on the 19 projects, which include another bomber plant access highway in addition to 50 miles of highway improvement and construction of two bridges, would be determined Nov. 3 and Nov. 5, and that contracts would be awarded as soon thereafter as possible.

The bomber project calls for 1.623 miles of grading and 22-foot concrete pavement in Washtenaw county on Wiard road, from Chase road to Ecorse road.

RECTORS IN THE EAST: OBSERVE ANNIVERSARY

Mr. and Mrs. J. Fred Rector left October 17 to visit in Baltimore, Maryland, Mrs. Rector's former home.

On Saturday, October 25, her sister, Miss Mattie T. Biddison, gave a reception in honor of Mr. and Mrs. Rector to celebrate their 25th wedding anniversary. About 50 guests called during the afternoon. The Biddison home was beautifully decorated with fall flowers, and prominent among them was a lovely boquet of red roses from the Tecumseh Wit and Wisdom Club. The celebration was continued with a dinner party in Washington, D. C., on Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Rector have also enjoyed a trip over the Sky-line Drive during their visit.

That our loving God knows best."

League Honors To Be Decided At Blissfield

TECUMSEH'S VICTORY WOULD GIVE INDIANS LEAGUE CHAMPIONSHIP

By Bob Larsen

With the scalps of all seven of their previous opponents dangling from their belts, the Tecumseh high school Indians will journey to Blissfield, Friday evening, to play the Sugar Boys on the gridiron there in what dopesters declare will be one of the fastest and hardest fought battles in the history of Lenawee League football.

Tecumseh, to date, has not been defeated in or out of League competition. Blissfield has suffered one defeat, the hands of Adrian, but this was outside the League. As the result, when the whistle blows for Friday evening's game, the two teams will begin play to determine the winner of the Lenawee League honors, the two teams being tied for first position.

Friday's game, which begins at 8 o'clock will see the powerful and well balanced Indian gridders up against Johnny Osneko and ten other "guys named Joe", representing the Blissfield school. Dopesters do not believe that the Sugar Town's "one man team" can defeat the Tecumseh eleven, but admit that the game will not be a push-over.

In the game with Morenci there last week Friday afternoon, the Indians had their goal line crossed for the first time of this season, Morenci pulled a sleeper play which was set up by a complete pass and went 12 yards for the touchdown. This score came in the second period and was the only one Morenci made during the game. The final score was 31 to 6 in favor of Tecumseh.

For Tecumseh, Bob Mohr, who did not seem to mind the sloppy mud, made all five of the Indian's touchdowns. In the first quarter Mohr crashed the line from the Morenci's 3 for a score. Coffey kicked the conversion. Next, in the second half Mohr banged out the line for four yards and the conversion failed. In the third quarter Mohr broke around his own left end and went 40 yards for a touchdown. The conversion failed. In the fourth quarter bucks from the one and five of Morenci brought Tecumseh its final scores. In every case the Indians came from midfield midfield to make their tallies.

The Indians gained 259 yards from scrimmage and made 14 first downs, compared to Morenci's 62 yards and 4 first downs.

Tecumseh Will Get $1,438 In Weight Tax

Tecumseh will receive $1,438.00 from the weight tax funds just received by the county to be distributed to the various localities for road maintenance. The total amount received by the county is $52,325. The first half amounting to $26,162 automatically goes to the county road commission and the remainder is allotted to the cities and villages on a population basis.

Adrian is to get $7,009; Hudson, $1,195; Addison, $229; Blissfield, $1,056; Clinton, $554; Deerfield, $280; Clayton $184; Britton, $201; Onsted $203; Morenci $908; Tecumseh $1,438 and the county at large $12,889.

The county road commission also gets the money allocated to the county at large according to population.

DEGREE CONFERRED

A special communication of Tecumseh Lodge, F. and A. M., was held last Wednesday evening when the Master Mason degree was conferred on C. O. Butler, L. W. Larsen, Kenton Hunt, C. M. Brown and Carl Cederquist by a team from Ypsilanti. Twenty-five members of the Ypsilanti lodge and several from Adrian and Clinton attended, also Ralph Hunt and Lewis Skinner, members of the Tecumseh lodge who live in Ypsilanti. Dinner was served to 150 members and guests preceding the meeting.

GRANGE POTLUCK

Tecumseh Grange will meet in regular session on Thursday evening, November 13. A potluck supper will be served at 7 o'clock under the direction of Mr. and Mrs. Howard Mathews. A short business meeting will be followed by installation of officers by Mr. and Mrs. Alvah Sneary of Tipton. The public is invited.

NOTICE

During by absence, from November 6th to December 1st inclusive, my office will be open for collection of accounts.

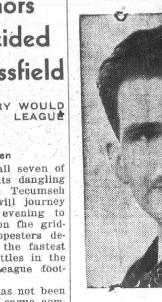
FESTIVAL DIRECTOR



H. VAN DEURSEN

More than four hundred church choir singers are to participate in a choir festival to be held in the First Methodist Church, Ann Arbor, on Sunday evening, November 9, at 8:15 p.m., under the general direction of Hardin Van Deursen, assistant professor of voice in the University of Michigan School of Music and musical director for the first Methodist Church.

The festival is planned to give general enlightenment concerning church music, for the exchange of ideas between choir directors and for the musical inspiration of the church choirs. Eighteen choirs drawn from the Ann Arbor District of the Methodist church will unite under Mr. VanDeursen's direction. The Tecumseh church will be represented by Mrs. Geo. Parsons, choir director. Rev. E. F. Hildebrand is pastor of the church.

Programs for Armistice Day

SPECIAL SERVICE AT ST. PETER'S; ROTARY AND SCHOOL PROGRAM

Armistice Day, Tuesday, November 11—will be quietly observed in Tecumseh, there being no plan for a civic celebration in which all residents will participate.

Brentwood-Orr Post No. 34, of American Legion and Auxiliary, will attend a special Armistice Day service at St. Peter's Episcopal church next Sunday morning. The Rev. E. T. Rodda, rector, will speak on the subject, "Choose you this day, whom you will serve." There will also be special music.

The Tecumseh Rotary Club in cooperation with the junior and senior high schools, will participate in a program to be held at 11 o'clock Armistice Day morning, at the high school auditorium. Auto Licenses for '42 on Sale

PLATES ARE MORE DURABLE; SHOW WHITE LETTERS, ON GREEN BACKGROUND

Michigan automobile licenses for 1942 went on sale this week throughout the state, and for Lenawee county at the branch office of Harry F. Kelley, secretary, at the Goodwin Electric Shop in Adrian. Although the deadline for the use of 1941 licenses does not arrive until next March 31, it was said that several motorists are availing themselves of the opportunity of "buying early to avoid the rush."

The new plates consist of white letters on a dark green background and bear some new features designed to conserve the nation's steel supply. The plates are more strongly constructed than ever before, designed with the purpose of lasting two years instead of one. It is estimated that the plan to issue metal strips to fasten onto the plates in 1943 rather than issuing new plates will make possible a saving of 2,300,000 pounds of steel worth $225,000. The same procedure will be used for marking half year plates, making an additional saving of $60,000 possible.

Bud Goodwin, Lenawee county distributor plans to pass out about 17,225 plates during the next four months from his office in Adrian.

The Lenawee plates this year will bear the letters LA through LD before the numerals instead of RN through RP used this year. The numerals for other nearby counties will be KA and KE for Jackson; LE to LH for Monroe; MJ to MK for Hillsdale; JY to JZ for Washtenaw and AA through DZ for Wayne.

The first Lenawee county motorist to receive his 1942 plates was Harry Griewahn, a member of the Adrian fire department. Mr. Griewahn was at the door when the office was opened this morning and walked out with number LA-10-01.

Only the full year plates are on sale at the present time, Mr. Goodwin said today that the half year plates will not be distributed until the first of February. The half year plates will be the same color as the full year plates but will bear the inscription — expires-8-31-42. When the second half of the license fee is paid a metal strip will be issued to be attached to the plates.

Mr. Goodwin said that it is not necessary to bring in old license plates this year except when there is a transfer of ownership of an automobile.

Rain Fails To Dampen Local Hallowe'en Spirit

Rain and wind failed to dampen the spirit of the hundreds of young folk who joined in the celebration of Halloween here last Friday evening, and according to Wade L. Jones, secretary of the Chamber of Commerce, the public party sponsored by the Rotary Club, the Chamber and the Village Council, was in every way a success.

The parade—despite the rain—moved promptly at 7:30 and the masked merrimakers passed before the judges' stand for prizes which went to Larry and Keith Swain, Helen Halsey, Katherine Beevers, Clara Green, Nancy Jo Turk, Lois Purky and Shirley Moore. All prizes were in Defense Savings Stamps.

After the parade there was a free party at the Strand Theatre for all school children through the eighth grade. Nearly 200 were in attendance, and prizes given by the Strand management, also Defense Stamps, went to Marian Camburn, Dick Beasley, Jr., and free tickets to Thomas Nasser.

For the older children, through the senior high school, there was a dancing party at the high school gymnasium, with Paul Johnson's five-piece orchestra. The dance drew a large crowd.

"The party was in every way a success," Mr. Jones said, "So far as we know all of the merrimakers were well pleased. This much we do know. There was no destruction of property, for which we are very grateful."

War With Japan is Not Likely

ADRIAN BANKER DISCUSSES ORIENT AT ROTARY CLUB LUNCHEON

Declaring that China will eventually win the war against Japan, and that it is very doubtful that the Japanese will ever launch a war against the United States, Russell McAfee, Adrian banker and a professor of banking at Adrian College ,addressed members of the Tecumseh Rotary Club here Tuesday, following a noon-day luncheon at St. Peter's parish house. Mr. McAfee was the guest of John R. Thompson.

Mr. McAfee, who spent nearly three years in China in the banking business, is of the opinion that Japan will be unable to cope with the great population of China, where only one out of every five persons are able to read and to write. The Chinese he said, are not anxious to win a great military victory, but rather will permit the war to drag along until Japan's resources are completely exhausted.

"The Chinese have no fear of death," the speaker said. "It is an honor for them to die for their country, and for this reason it is impossible for the Japanese to throw fear into their souls by bringing their captors before the firing squad."

Mr. McAfee also is of the opinion that the world in the future must reckon with China as a big world power and a world market.

Discussing the much discussed conflict between Japan and the United States, the speaker pointed out that every public statement coming from Japan is from the heads of the army. In Japan, he declared, that army and the navy are separate branches, neither controlled by the other. The navy does not desire a war with the United States, and without the aid of the navy Japan could not wage such a conflict, he pointed out.

"I may be wrong," Mr. McAfee said, "But it is my opinion that the much discussed Japanese war will not materialize.

State Worries About Tax Loss

DEFENSE HEADACHES HIT LANSING AS RESULT OF EXEMPTING PROPOSALS

LANSING, November 6—As predicted in this column last February, state aid for advertising of Michigan agricultural products is due to become a legislative issue.

An annual appropriation of $100,000, only $20,000 less than the amount granted for tourist advertising, is sought by a new agricultural advertising committee headed by F. W. Doyle, manager of the Michigan Chain Store Bureau and former state senator from Menominee.

This objective was determined at Lansing at a meeting called by Leo V. Card, commissioner of agriculture.

The state legislature set aside $30,000 for allocation to state groups on a matching basis for advertising tax last winter, the rush for funds began. Requests totaled $64,000 more than double the sum on hand. The agreement for a $100,000 grant followed.

Doyle's interest in the advertising programs springs chiefly from co-sponsorship of "Michigan Days" last spring by independent and chain stores. Under the new advertising plan, one-fifth would be set aside by each group for promotion of "Michigan Days" annually for Michigan food products.

Tourist Conflict

State tourist associations, each of which now receives $20,000 annually, have been cool to the inclusion of any amount for agricultural advertising in the legislative appropriation.

They have pointed out that farmers received a direct benefit from purchase of additional foodstuffs at resort centers.

Whether harmony can be maintained between the food groups, including the Michigan Food Council representing the retailers, distributors and producers, and the four tourist associations is a matter of speculation. Whereas food advertising funds are allocated directly to the tourist groups which, in turn must account to the state for their expenditures.

The tourist interests gave in to pressure from the administration this year by voluntarily setting aside $5,000 from their $30,000 annual grant for use in the $100,000 state-wide advertising program and the establishment of a central office at the capitol. During Frank Murphy's regime, the associations were threatened with outright scalping. Centralized state control was staved off but it is bound to be revived under pressure for more advertising funds.

Defense Headaches

Financial headaches due o defense priorities and a rapid swing to "all-out" war production, are beginning to multiply.

Governor Murray D. VanWagoner, speaking at Washington estimated gloomily that between 100,000 and 200,000 Michigan automobile workers would be thrown out of employment between January and July as automobile plants retooled for defense.

He would place a new drain on unemployment compensation funds and a new burden on the relief loads.

Another bottleneck is being felt to "all-out" war production, are

YOUR JOB—OUR JOB

The recent announcement of a plastic automobile suggests that the time may not be far distant when cars will be made entirely of products grown on the farm. With the heart of the great Ford industry less than an hour's drive from Tecumseh, and with the many Ford activities in this area, plastic automobiles are of vital importance to this community. When plastic cars arrive, harvest time may come to mean a bumper crop of limousines, making agricultural areas industry's greatest source of supply.

The idea is not so fanciful as it might at first appear, for already many farm products are changed into industrial articles. Through the magic of research casein from milk becomes wools and also a plastic material. Corn is used in making glycerines and dry ice, cornstalks in making paper. Sugar cane goes into building boards; soy beans into paint, enamel and linoleum. One large chemical company alone buys 16 million pounds of cotton, 36 million pounds of cotton linters and 36 million bushels of corn from farmers every year. As industrial research finds new uses for farm crops, industry will depend more and more on agriculture as a source of raw materials.

And agriculture, in turn, will depend on industry for more inventions like radios, telephones, and labor-saving machinery that have made the farm a much more pleasant place to live than it was a generation or two ago.

Because the two groups provide markets for each other's products, the prosperity of the one depends on the prosperity of the other. Past experience has shown that when industry is making money, agriculture is making money too.

People like these prove that here in America, we've all got a stake in each other's future. We may work in different parts of the country at different jobs. We may have different likes and dislikes. We may be divided into various groups—industrial employees, farmers, doctors, lawyers—but in the long run we're all in the same boat.

And today we've got to work together to solve our common problems. We've got to work together to check inflation, finance defense, prevent unnecessary government controls to our freedom—in short we've got to work together to insure our continued prosperity in the years to come.

"THEY OWN THEIR HOME"

● You've heard people say that about friends or acquaintances. The tone of voice they use speaks volumes. It says "they are substantial people"—"they are more important people now"—"I envy them."

● Owning your home does make you and your family more important in the eyes of your friends and neighbors. For the family that owns its home is a substantial family. It has confidence in its future. It has the wisdom to plan for its future. It has the initiative to invest for its future.

● The comment you arouse is important, too. For that stimulates others to imitate you. To follow you.

● You have a right to be proud. For in buying your home for your family you have proved your faith in your community. You identify yourself with your neighbors and with your community. That's why people like to see other families buying their own homes.

● That's the American way of life. It encourages individual initiative. Because individual initiative working with freedom opens up more opportunities for all of us to benefit.

● Invest now—in your own home—in your own community.

BOW AND ARROW BOYS HUNT DEER IN NORTH

LANSING, November 6 — Bow-and-arrow hunters who boast of their equipment as being better than any the Indians ever had are roaming the Michigan deer country today on the first day of a two week season that will test not only their equipment, but their ability to match the Indian at stalking as well.

Sale of resident archers' license at conservation department offices in Lansing alone passed the 300 mark early in the week. Recent reduction of the non-resident archers' license fee from $25 to $5 may attract more longbowmen from other states.

With bow and arrow hunting for deer of either sex allowed in Allegan county and the taking of a doe for camp purposes permitted in the northern deer territory the archers' chances of bringing in some venison are much improved this year. In recent seasons about one bowman in a hundred has filled his license. The 577 archers in the woods last season were credited with just eight buck deer.

Bruce Wright, small nephew of the bride, carried the ring on a satin pillow.

The bride wore white satin with a front panel of lace taken from the wedding gown worn by her grandmother, Mrs. Florence Dickison, of Fife Lake, at her marriage 54 years ago. Her tulle veil was one worn by her mother 27 years ago. She carried an arm bouquet of pink carnations with satin streamers. William Eddinger attended the groom as best man. The aid of honor wore pink taffeta with a corsage of carnations and chrysanthemums, and the bridesmaids were dressed in taffeta gowns of blue and green, fashioned alike and with corsage bouquets to match.

Following the ceremony refreshments were served and included a tiered wedding cake and also a birthday cake for the maid of honor who was celebrating her 16 birthday.

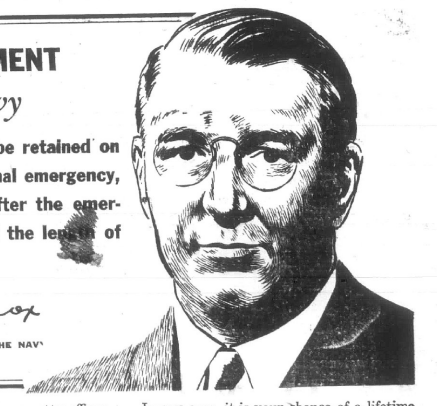
Why not choose the NAVAL RESERVE!

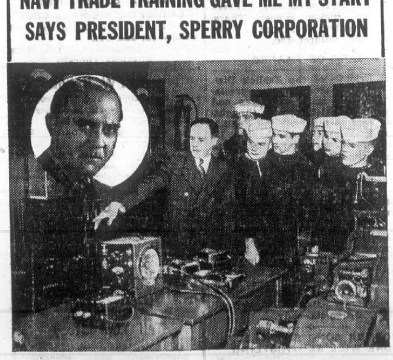
AN IMPORTANT ANNOUNCEMENT
by the Secretary of the Navy

"All men now enlisting in the Naval Reserve will be retained on active Navy duty throughout the period of the national emergency, but they will be released to inactive duty as soon after the emergency as their services can be spared, regardless of the length of time remaining in their enlistment."

Frank Knox
SECRETARY OF THE NAVY



"NAVY TRADE TRAINING GAVE ME MY START" SAYS PRESIDENT, SPERRY CORPORATION



THOMAS A. MORGAN (pictured in insert), president of the Sperry Corporation, world's largest manufacturers of aeronautical and marine instruments, received his early technical training in the U. S. Navy, in which he enlisted as a young man. "This has proved of great value to me in later years," said ex-sailor Morgan. Pictured above are new Navy recruits receiving electrical training at one of the modernly equipped Navy Trade Schools. The Navy offers training to young men in nearly 50 different trades and vocations.

Opportunities for advancement, to learn skilled trades, for travel and adventure are identical whether a man enlists in the regular Navy or the Naval Reserve—and his pay, food, clothing, medical and dental care are the same.

HERE IS THE OPPORTUNITY THAT THOUSANDS OF MEN HAVE BEEN LOOKING FOR

Here is your opportunity to have all the advantages and privileges of Navy life but with a shorter enlistment.

Many men do not realize—but it is a fact—that your pay, your training, and your chances for advancement in the Naval Reserve are exactly the same as in the Navy itself.

FREE TRAINING WORTH $1500

Take your own case. Let's assume that you have had no special training. In that case here is your opportunity to learn one of the Navy's 45 big-pay trades, from aviation engineering to radio. You may receive training worth $1500 the first year alone. In addition you get all the advantages listed in the second column of this announcement.

HIGHER PAY OPPORTUNITIES

But perhaps you have had special training or know a trade. In that case the Naval Reserve offers you the opportunity to use your knowledge. If you qualify (high school or college not necessary), you can join as a petty officer right away—with higher pay and allowances.

Also, if you have two or more years of college credits, there are special opportunities to become a Naval aviator or a commissioned officer.

LOOK WHAT THE U. S. NAVAL RESERVE OFFERS YOU

FREE TRAINING worth $1500. Nearly 50 trades and vocations to choose from.

GOOD PAY with regular increases. You may earn up to $126 a month.

EACH YEAR you are entitled to a generous vacation period, with full pay.

GOOD FOOD and plenty of it.

FREE CLOTHING. A complete outfit of clothing when you first enlist. (Over $100 worth.)

FREE MEDICAL CARE, including regular dental attention.

FINEST SPORTS and entertainment any man could ask for.

State Worries

already in many small towns where non-defense industries are being hard pressed to get materials that are needed for defense.

Washington is being urged to speed the letting of arms contracts in advance of the 1942 employment slump. The lag in blueprints and tooling is always greater than the worker believes it should be. Even if the war must continue until 1943 and possibly 1944, as Washington is now assuming, industrial hard-times will prevail, and inflated prosperity in many communities in Michigan unless red tape is slashed, action is ordered. Such is the governor's belief, and the signs are bearing out his predictions.

Tax Headache

The federal government' insistence that all defense equipment and production must be tax exempt has sent chills up and down the backbones of both state and county officials.

In Wayne county it is e stimated that shutting down automobile plants will remove millions of dollars annually from personal property assessments. If defense equipment is tax exempt, what is going to happen? Figure it out for yourself.

Louis M. Nims, director of the state sales tax board, forsees an immediate decline in revenue if the federal government's policy prevails to waive all taxes on defense operations. Estimates of potential losses run from $5,000,00 to $15,000,000, although it is felt that eventually when the readjustment to defense production has been made the return of purchasing power will offset the temporary loss of revenue.

Farm Prosperity

At the Sault Ste. Marie state convention of the Michigan Grange Dean R. L. Anthony of Michigan State College school of agriculture counseled farmers not to buy larger farms and more equipment from the new profits from higher priced products in 1942.

Avoid the temptation, he warned as an economic letdown from today's crazy spending is inevitable when the emergency ends.

"We should know that as soon as this war is over, the world will return to its land, exhausted and too poor to buy our products. We will have a farm machine built for an excess demand."

Civil Service

Political control of Michigan's state prisons is on the way out, according to Garrett Heyns, state corrections director, who says that the new civil service amendment will prevent the frequent turnover of wardens and state employees and make for new efficiency in our penal system.

In civil service tests Warden Simon R. Anderson of Marquette prison and Warden Warren J. Dodge of Ionia prison failed to qualify for their positions.

Eligibles for their jobs include F.)

Governor's Wife Is Interested Spectator At Pie Baking Party

LANSING, November 6— Mrs. Murray D. Van Wagoner, the governor's wife, Mrs. Donald G. Kennedy, wife of Michigan's state highway commissioner, Mrs. E. L. Anthony, wife of the dean of the division of agriculture at Michigan State College and Miss Marie Dye, dean of the division of home economics at the college, were the interested parties present at a recent apple pie seminar conducted by Miss Ruth Carr.

The fact that many women realize apples are valuable in the diet but do not know why was brought out in the discussion. Miss Dye pointed out that apples excel in several important minerals.

Among the interesting cooking tips brought out by Miss Carr for use when baking apple pie were the following.

Always pre-cook the apples in a covered casserole in the oven while making the crust. This shortens the baking time of the pie prevents the apples from darkening and makes the pie crust fit better.

In mixing the pastry, use equal quantities of vegetable fat and lard. Lard makes a tender, flaky crust while vegetable shortening is easier to work with. Butter tends to make a pie crust tough but is used successfully when put on the top crust only.

"Don't over-mix flour and shortening," Miss Carr cautioned, "as it will get soggy. Particles should be the size of navy beans. When rolling the crust turn it over once so that it rolls better. Another point to remember is to moisten the edge of the crust with water so the juice won't seep out during the cooking process."

Miss Carr's recipe for apple pie calls from four to six tart, juicy apples, seven-eighths cup sugar, two tablespoons flour, one-eighth teaspoon nutmeg, one eighth teaspoon cinnamon, one-fourth teaspoon salt, one tablespoon butter and one tablespoon water.

Peel, quarter and slice apples about one-eighth of an inch thick. Arrange layers of sliced apples in a casserole and cover each layer with a mixture of sugar, flour, spices and salt. Dot with butter and add water. Cover the casserole and place in oven to pre-cook while preparing the pastry. Pre-cooking the apples in a hot oven will shortening the baking time of the pie.

Prepare the pastry for the pie roll the pie shell with the pre-cooked apples, moisten the edges of the lower crust with water and add the top crust. Crease the edges of the pastry firmly together.

Bake the pie about forty minutes in a hot oven (450 degrees

Pastry: Use one and one-half cups flour (unsifted), one quarter cup lard, one-quarter cup hydrogenated shortning, one-half teaspoon salt and four to five tablespoons cold water.

Combine flour and salt. Mix in fat with fork or fingertips until the mixture has about the consistency of corn-meal. Add water gradually, tossing the moistened lumps of dough aside so that the water may reach the dry material. When the dough clings together so that bowl is clean, divide the dough so that a larger proportion will be used for the lower crust. Roll pastry on a slightly floured board, keeping the patter as nearly circular as possible. A pastry cloth aids in preventing the dough from sticking.

THS Indians County Champs

WIN LENAWEE LEAGUE TITLE BY DEFEATING BLISSFIELD; END PERFECT SEASON

By Bob Larsen

The Tecumseh high school football Indians are the champions of the Lenawee County League.

The Redskins won the honor, last Friday evening, by defeating Blissfield high at Ellis Playground in Blissfield, by a score of six to nothing. The final battle—the Indians and the Sugar Boys were tied for first honors—was played in a puddle of mud, and under the lights that made the snow and rain that was falling see much heavier than it really was. The pigskin was extremely difficult to handle, and the slippery ground made playing unusually hazardous. Approximately 1,000 spectators witnessed the game, the last to be played in the League.

Bob Mohr, stellar back for Tecumseh, carried the ball on almost every play of the game and he ran up one tally, plunging over from the one yard line after the Indians had marched the ball from their own 40 yard line.

The greatest thrill of the game came when one of Tecumseh's punts was blocked and Blissfield recovered the ball on Tecumseh's 26. After a march down the field to the four yard strip, where they had first down and four to go for a touchdown, the Indian's defense rallied. Blissfield failed to score, first in four, second in two, third in a foot and finally fourth by a matter of only a few inches. Critics of the game declared the play to be one of the most brilliant line stands ever seen in high school football in the county.

A summary of Tecumseh's eight games played during the season shows that the Indians ran up 173 points to their opponents six. In seven of the eight games played, Tecumseh held their opponents scoreless, the only team to register against the Redskins being Morenci, Blissfield, the Indians' closest opponent, lost two games, one to Adrian, the other to Tecumseh. One of Blissfield's losses came outside the League play.

Tecumseh will lose eleven of its players this year as a result of graduation. They are: Carpenter, Brooks, Carlson, Mohr, Wilson, Coffey, A. Allen, Curtiss, Jim Smith and Wayne,, Jackson. Other members of the string are Green, Sisson, Brown, Turkey, Proctor, Bagshaw, Jack and Jim Osburn, Kring, Winter, Schneider, Undersood and Smith. This year's co-captains were Mohr and Wilson. Next year's captains will be Green and Proctor.

Members of the string who will receive letters this year are: Will, Green, Brooks, Carpenter, C. Jackson, Sisson, Brown, Carleson, Wilson, Mohr, Coffey, Curtiss and Proctor.

The football squad will be guests of Superintendent and Mrs. W. L. Berkhof at a dinner in the Berkhof home, Friday evening, preceding the annual school gridiron dance.

Members are to bring gifts for approved schools and also return their state conference expense envelopes.

The meeting will be called at 3:30 instead of 2:30 because of the church conference. Tea will be served preceding the business session.

YPSILANTI EDUCATOR ADDRESSES HIGH SCHOOL AS ARMISTICE DAY SPEAKER

"It is just as un-american to sabotage a class room period, as it is for a group of workers to sabotage a defense plant," Dr. O. J. Cleary of Ypsilanti, told a high school assembly here Tuesday, when he addressed the group in an Armistice Day Program.

"You boys and girls who are going to school here today have a very definite job to do. You are the citizens of tomorrow, it is upon your shoulders that the destiny of this nation will rest within a few years. Your job today is to learn how you can best serve your nation in the future, whether it be on the battlefield or in the home."

The United States, under the compulsory military training act, has been finding entirely too many young men who, because of physical disabilities, are unfit for military service, Dr. Cleary said, and he urged the students of Tecumseh to participate in athletic programs to overcome this condition. He also warned that the draft age limit soon may be lowered to 18 years from 21 years, and hinted that some of the senior boys of the school might soon find themselves in the service of their government.

"Today we are observing an anniversary of the signing of the armistice that ended the first World War," the speaker said, "and we also are dedicating our lives to the job that lies ahead if us as war again threatens. Hitler must be stopped, and he will be stopped. America will not fail."

The assembly program was presented under the auspices of the Underwood-Orr post, Aerican Legion and the Rotary Club, Rotarians attending the meeting in a body. Dr. Cleary, a Legionnaire, was introduced by Louis Schneider, a former post commander. Music was furnished by the high school band, under the direction of Clare Caudron.

Immediately following the program, Rotarians adjourned to the parish house of St. Peter's church, where luncheon was served. Guests included Dr. Cleary and Carl Johnson of Ypsilanti, Harold Sherman, Adrian, A. J. Rankin, Shelby, Charles Vaughnn, Saline and P. A. Bowen, Tecumseh.

PRODUCTION WILL BE STAGED AT BAPTIST CHURCH; MRS. MOORE DIRECTING

Plans are well under way for the 26th presentation of the Christmas pageant, "Holy Night" to be staged at the local Baptist church on December 14th, under the direction of Mrs. R. S. Moore, in the cast of Queen Esther. Mrs. Moore has announced that although the cast and costumes have been much improved in recent years, there are many new additions to this winter's performance. In the past 25 years it has been presented here the pageant has grown from a small affair to a large production, with more characters and costumes added each year.

The costumes used in the pageant are worth thousands of dollars, and many have been sent here by friends of the Baptist church from all parts of the nation. Mrs. Moore brought jewelry, scarves, beads, and blankets from Europe, Mexico, Alaska and Central America and incense from Guatemala. Leopard skins and blankets from South America, loaned by Ronald Pocklington, are also included; and two fraternal organizations have given costumes for the wise men and soldiers.

Mrs. Moore has written the arrangements and directed rehearsals each year and is always on the lookout for new materials. She spent the summer of 1939 at Waldenwoods School of Music and Pageantry and studying pageantry under Dr. Augustine Smith of Boston University, who has presented pageants in 1500 cities of the United States.

One hundred-and-fifty persons take part in the production. This includes the characters, choruses and 35 carolers and takes in all ages from the babe-in-arms to the oldest member of the congregation.

More seating capacity will be provided this year and two presentations will be given one at 7 p.m., and one at 8:15 p.m., to accomodate all who care to attend. In past years, people have come from miles around and inquiries concerning the pageant already have been received this year.

Each group is now being rehearsed separately and the final rehearsal will be held December 7th in the church. The cast is being assisted by Mrs., John McColl, soprano, and F. C. Dickinson, tenor.

There is no admission charge, but a silver offering will be taken to defray expenses, the remainder to go to some worthy cause in the local community.

The committees in charge are: ushers, Ernest VanVleet, B. J. Robert, Herbert Hoag, E. H. Red Cross Drive Under Way Here

APPEAL TO GIVE, AND PUT TECUMSEH OVER THE TOP, MADE BY MRS. BERRY

The 1942 Red Cross drive is well under way here and an appeal to maintain Tecumseh's reputation for "giving and doing" to put the village promptly "over the top," was made today by Mrs. E. E. Berry, general chairman,

Mrs. Berry pointed out that the need for Red Cross activities this year is far greater than at any time since World War No. I, and she urged that the public give generously that they may be met without delay. "It is impossible to enumerate all of the deeds done by the Red Cross," she said, "but with many local boys in training camps, the organization's activities will be brought home forcably to many Tecumseh families."

Some persons, it was said, are under the impression that funds donated by organizations and industries relieves the individual and the family of further obligation. Such is not the case, however, it being the desire locally that each individual also participate in the campaign.

The following captains and their assistants have been appointed to carry on the campaign for the solicitation of funds: Mrs. Frank Buck, business district, Mrs. Edgerry Duncan, Mrs. Alice Beneway, Mrs. Nina Heath, Mrs. Pearl Elliott, Misses Joan Barritt, Sally Heilman, Vesta Wilson, Grace Gillespie and Ardis Harkness; Mrs. Carl Thompson, industrial and organizations, Mrs. J. Roe and Mrs. Glen Angle; Mrs. Helen Sager school; Mrs. Theodore LaBounty, northeast, Mrs. Frank Barritt, Mrs. Robert Gillespie and Mrs. Roland Mohr.

Grave Problems Worry Lansing

SPECIAL SESSION OF STATE LEGISLATURE PROBABLE TO UNTANGLE TAXES, FINANCE

LANSING, November 10—Petitions to initiate an anti-branch banking law are being circulated this week throughout Michigan.

Portends a renewal of the legislative battle climaxed in 1941 when Governor VanWagoner vetoed the branch bank bill and legislators retaliated with a 90-day recess.

According to the state law on initiatory legislation, the voters themselves will have an opportunity to enact the bill if the legislators fail to act. The referendum is automatically invoked by negative action of the legislature, and thus the people themselves would have the last word in this controversy.

Special Session?

As financial worries begin to multiply at Lansing, suggestions are being made again that the state legislature be summoned to meet in special session early in 1942.

Three state agencies are overrunning their budgets:

1. Labor mediation board upon which is being placed the burden of peaceful settlement of numerous disagreements between labor and management. When the load is light, the mediation board easily lives within its budgeted appropriation. However, Michigan's labor troubles continue to be numerous, and the board is due to incur a deficit, according to word received from Leo J. Nowicki, the state budget director.

2. State council of defense, Michigan's own clearing house for all national defense activities. The council was running well within its budget until the priority bottleneck developed and immediate relief became imperative from Washington in the form of national de-

Two Dangerous Crossings—

The intersections of Pearl and Ottawa streets on Chicago Boulevard, both of them in the downtown district, present a definite traffic problem, and should be given careful consideration by the Village Council if serious accidents are to be avoided.

The Ottawa street intersection, at the Consumers Power offices, is today one of the busiest corners in Tecumseh. Ottawa street is a direct route to the Tecumseh Products plant, and with more than 1,000 men employed there, and with the likelihood that this number will be steadily increased by defense work, this thoroughfare which, only a few years ago was a side street, is rapidly becoming another "main street" in the village.

And besides the heavy traffic load to the Products, the north end of the street now carries hundreds of cars almost daily to the Central school building. On rainy days, when parents go to the school for their children, it is not uncommon to witness a traffic jam at the intersection morning, noon and night. Children find it difficult to dodge motor cars, and drivers find it a nerve-shattering job to dodge the children. It is, therefore, a very definite problem for the local police department.

The Pearl street intersection, although not quite so bad, also carries an extremely heavy load and is entitled to very careful consideration. It has been the scene of several accidents in the past few months, and unless the village does something to relieve the congestion, our guess it that it will be the scene of more serious mishaps in the future.

Like Ottawa street, the Pearl street traffic load has been increased by traffic to the Products plant, (it is a short cut for the men who come from the west part of town and from areas west of Tecumseh). It also carries heavy farm traffic to the Hayden Mills. The block immediately north of the boulevard is an outlet to the free parking lot, in the rear of the Strand Theatre, and at certain times of the day it is almost impossible to drive onto the boulevard from either direction without endangering one's safety, or waiting for several minutes until M-50 traffic has cleared.

To remedy the congested traffic conditions at these intersections, we suggest the installation of traffic lights—one at the corner of Pearl Street and the boulevard. The other at the corner of Ottawa street and the boulevard. We understand that the village has, in the past, considered the installation of a light at the Ottawa corner, but the suggestion has met with objection from the State Highway Dept. The State, it seems, contends that a traffic light is not justified where the traffic count of cars is less than 1,000 per hour. We don't know what the count was at the Ottawa corner, neither do we care. It still remains a fact, in our judgement, that a light is necessary.

If the state is blocking the installation of these lights, we hope that it does not take a serious and perhaps a fatal accident at one of these corners to bring the highway department to its senses. And we also hope that the Village Council will stiffen its spine and make further demands upon the highway department.

Should the Council succeed in bringing about the installation of the lights, there is no doubt but that its members would receive the thoughtful thanks of the hundreds of motorists and pedestrians who many times a day have occasion to travel these dangerous crossings.

Asleep at the Switch—

Some day, in the not too far distant future, somebody in Tecumseh is going to awaken to the fact that waste paper is valuable, and make themselves a tidy monthly income by gathering discarded newspapers, magazines, package wrappings, boxes, etc., and by the simple process of sorting and baling, find a ready market at a price of from $15 to $20 a ton.

Whether we like it or not, the United States is at war and there is at the present time a distinct shortage of many kinds of paper. Merchants are discovering that wrapping paper and paper bags have advanced rapidly in price. Printers and publishers are discovering that the quality of many fine papers today is not up to par and they are told that certain other kinds of paper stock they have been accustomed to buying soon may go off the market.

The shortage is due to two things: The government's defense program is taking hundreds of thousands of tons of paper, in some instances the entire supply of many mills. The defense program also is taking a major part of some of the chemicals used in the manufacture of paper, making it difficult for mills to keep their quality at standard.

In Battle Creek recently, one paper mill urged housewives to save their newspapers and magazines religiously declaring that sufficient paper is discarded daily in that city to make possible the mill's operation without interruption. Only recently an appeal was made to school teachers, urging that the children be permitted to write on both sides of a sheet of paper, as a conservation effort. Dry cleaners are shortening the length of the bags in which clothing is wrapped as another paper-saving move.

But despite the shortage, and the need for conservation, Tecumseh apparently has not yet been awakened to the fact that waste paper is valuable. So far as we know, nothing is being done to conserve the hundreds of pounds of paper that daily goes into furnaces and incinerators in this village.

Congratulations, Ye Indians!—

The Tecumseh High School Indians rounded out a successful football season in a sea of mud at Ellis Playground, Blissfield, last Friday evening, by defeating the Sugar Boy by a score of six to nothing, and winning for themselves the championship of the Lenawee County League.

Tecumseh has played a brand of football this year that cannot but make every resident proud of its team. The Indians played eight games and won all of them. Only once were they scored upon, at Morenci, and then their opponents crossed the goal line only once for six points. In the battle at Blissfield, in the snow and rain, the Redskins held the Sugar Boys for four downs only inches from the goal line. They definitely proved that Tecumseh's brand of football this year was built to withstand any challenge.

To Coach Neville Hart and to every boy who played on the team this season, we extend our congratulations. It is athletic teams like this year's Indians—built around a spirit of loyalty and cooperation—that make one proud of the fact that he was a rooter and a supporter of such an excellent group—winners of the 1941 county championship.

INFORMATION PLEASE! Where's my long underwear?

Regardless of initial luck, nearly everybody plays a slot machine until his money is gone.

It has been said that women are so clever at deception that men look like infants when they attempt to compete.

Yes, it's true. In these days the more we read the more confused we get.

Many a bachlor has observed that every pretty girl has been married at least once by the time she's twenty-five.

It's ten to one that your best business competitor has most of your admirable characteristics.

Short hours and high wages bring the invention of labor-saving machinery which leads to more unemployment and demands for still shorter hours and still higher wages, etc., etc.

The best liar is he who makes the smallest amount of lying go the longest way—who husbands it too carefully to waste it where it can be dispensed with.

MAYBE it's a little hard to picture this trim Buick as it will look on that unknown day when you come to turn it in.

There may be scars in its fenders, and use-stains on its upholstery—but the thing that matters is it'll still be going great guns.

You can count on that husky valve-in-head straight-eight to be ticking off the miles with the satisfying efficiency it now boasts.

You can rely on Compound Carburetion† to hold your gas-costs down, squeezing every last power-packed mile out of the fuel you burn.

There won't be any loss of easy comfort in those all-coil springs, or any need for care to keep them gentle.

As for such things as connecting rods and bearings—Buick rods are extra strong, while tests show that our oil-cushioned bearings last twice as long as others under the same load and service.

Survey To Aid Deer Hunters

CONSERVATION DEPARTMENT RECORDS ARE OF BENEFIT TO MICHIGAN SPORTSMEN

LANSING, November Deer hunters still debating the choice of a spot for hunting this fall can pick a county to suit their preference.

If the hunter wants to be in the thick of the fun he may choose Roscommon county, most heavily hunted in the entire state with a hunter concentration of more than 25 to the square mile. Good reason for the hunter concentration in the county's production of 3,152 bucks, more than were killed in any other county.

If the hunter takes the "percentage" approach to his choice, upper peninsula counties, particularly Ontonagon, will be attractive and every hunter in Ontonagon county last season (51.7) per cent to be exact) took home a buck, though the county's total kill was little more than half of Roscommon's.

In 1940 as for nearly every year for the last 10, the upper peninsula county poorest in terms of the per cent of hunters successful was better than the best county in the lower peninsula. But the lower peninsula, with more hunters, also produces more deer—31,320 bucks last year as compared with 20,393 taken north of the straits.

Average concentration for the entire state was 6.08 per square mile; 29.5 per cent of all licensees got bucks and the total kill was 51,713 deer, according to the report compiled by the conservation department's game division, from hunters game-kill cards.

The ten counties producing the most deer, in order: Roscommon, Oscoda, Crawford, Ogamaw, Chippewa, Montmorency, Lake, Iron and Luce.

The 10 counties with the highest percentage of hunters successful in order: Ontonagon, Iron, Gogebic, Baraga, Dickinson, Menominee, Schoolcraft, Mackinac, Delta and Chippewa.

Extremes of hunter concentration: 25.17 per square mile in Roscommon and 0.07 in Oscoda, compared with 1.57 in Menominee.

BIRTHS IN MICHIGAN REACH ALL-TIME HIGH

Births in Michigan will reach an all-time high of more than 100,000 this year, says the Michigan Department of Health. It is estimated that the total will be 107,000 compared with 99,940 in births in 1927, which was the state's record year.

"In spite of the increase in the number of births, we believe that the number of babies dying in their first year will be only slightly greater than last year," says Dr. H. Allen Moyer, State Health Commissioner. "Both babyhood and motherhood are becoming safer in Michigan. More women are having medical care before the baby is born and care is starting earlier in pregnancy."

In 1940, the Michigan births totaled 99,106, and infant deaths were slightly more than 4,000. Ten years before, in 1930, the births were about the same, but the number of babies dying was more than 2,000 greater.

NEW BOMB SHELTER PLANNED BY POLICE

Something different in bomb shelters is being planned by the Michigan State Police and the Michigan Department of Health for their crime detection laboratory at Lansing. Instead of being inside the shelter, the people it is intended to protect will be outside. The bombs will be inside.

"Suspicious packages believed to be time bombs of saboteurs and other criminals can be put in the bomb shelter under a sort of quarantine," says Dr. H. Allen Moyer, State Health Commissioner. "And for examining packages before opening them, the shelter will be wired for x-ray equipment."

TRUSSES

Properly Fitted

WRIGHT DRUG STORE

ON THE 4 CORNERS

The bomb shelter will be half buried in the ground and will have thick walls and a light roof to give a quick release upward in case of an explosion.

When the law establishing it becomes effective in January, the state's crime detection laboratory will give services free to police, sheriff's departments and other law enforcement officers all over the state. Dr. C. W. Muehlberger, director of the laboratory, was formerly Chicago's official bomb opener and toxicologist.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Rynd of Chicago spent the week end with his aunt Mrs. Eva Powers.

Glenn Wilson and Clyde Miller With Clifford Preston, Russell Keith and Claude Smith of Tecumseh left on a hunting trip near Munising.

Mr. and Mrs. C. L. Kimball attended the concert presented by the Cleveland Symphony Orchestra in Ann Arbor Sunday afternoon, Mr. and Mrs. C. D. Young of Lansing were week end guests of Mrs. Young's sister Mrs. Alan VanDeusen and family.

Mr. and Mrs. F. M. Burroughs of Grand Rapids were calling on relatives here Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Crew of Ypsilanti were here Sundty to get Mrs. Crew's children, Warren and Ina Wardwell who had spent the week end with their grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. E. P. Johnston.

fense contracts. This resulted in the council's employment of Varnum Steinbaugh as its Washington liaison man at an estimated cost, salary and expenses, of around $15,000 a year, or one-third of the council's entire budget for the year.

Here again, according to the governor's office, is a case of an unforseen emergency that demanded immediate action in the interest of the entire state. But it created a financial deficit on paper.

3. Michigan military establishments including the newly formed home guard. Obviously this is another case of a defense need.

Little Legislature

The state administrative board, however, was given an annual appropriation of $500,000 for emergency needs.

Budget Director Nowicki is confident that the above three agencies can be financed adequately from this contingency fund.

The annoying problem is how to finance increased salaries which the state civil service commission have ordered after the legislature fixed appropriations on the basis of lower pay scale.

The question is to be held over until January when state officials and legislative leaders will meet to review the situation and map out plant for meeting 1942 needs.

Payroll Taxes

Of main concern to both management and labor are the new proposals of Secretary of the Treasury Morgenthau. Besides the stepping up of income taxes to yield 15 per cent on taxable income the program would double the present old age annuity payroll tax on both employes and employers and impose a 1 per cent payroll tax on employes for unemployment compensation for which management is already paying 3 per cent.

Michigan's state compensation law would create individual reserve accounts effective January 1, 1942, based on employment experience of the past three years.

Employers whose employment conditions are stable would save upward of $25,000,000 a year under the Michigan law. A legislative commission is now studying possible changes which could be made subject of consideration of a special session of lawmakers. Labor desires more compensation, more weeks; employers desire relief from burdensome taxes when individual employment load is light.

Because of pressure for action on branch banking, reapportionment, finances and unemployment compensation, the special session talk persists. Yet it is predicted that the governor will seek to avoid involvement in a 1942 legislative battle if he possibly can. After all, he will be the Democratic nominee for re-election.

Latest challenge to Ford mass production methods is America's urgent need for monster 30 and 60-ton tanks. Recent announcement that Ford is to handle the nation's biggest order for these giant tanks is evidence of faith in the ability of the Ford Motor Company to do the job both fast and well.

BIG ENGINES

Big and mighty are the 2000 horsepower Pratt and Whitney engines rolling off the assembly line at the new Ford Airplane Engine Plant at Dearborn, Michigan. The Ford Motor Company smashed all modern records in rushing its huge airplane engine plant to completion and into full production. Its production now will play a most important part in America's defense efforts.

MOVIE STAR JOINS U.S. NAVY

Ensign Wayne Morris Seeks Wings

Wayne Morris, recent star of "I Wanted Wings," became a member of Uncle Sam's Navy in May, 1941, when he was appointed to the rank of Ensign.

When asked what he thought of the United States Navy, Morris said, "I think every man who is considering joining a military service should look into the 'chance of a lifetime' which the Navy and Naval Reserve offer to get into the big-pay field of the future—aviation. In the Navy you can attend the finest flight training schools in the world, and receive instruction from Navy pilots who introduced dive bombing, aircraft carriers and catapult take-offs to the rest of the world. Also, there are opportunities in Naval Aviation for men who don't want to fly. They can be trained as aviation machinists, metalsmiths, photographers, observers, or they can receive instruction in many other trades. It's a great life in the Navy."

Ensign Wayne Morris is pictured here in his line of duty as a member of the Naval Aviation Cadet Selection Board at the Long Beach Naval Reserve Air Base.

Friends to Celebrate 50th Anniversary of Dedication of Present Church Building

NOVEMBER 22, 1891, WAS THE DATE OF FIRST SERVICE HELD IN PRESENT EDIFICE

The members of the Tecumseh Friends church are to celebrate the 50th anniversary of the dedication of their present church building this week end. The church records show that a dedication service was held at 3 o'clock the afternoon of November 22, 1891. The pastor, the Rev. Edwood Escolme will deliver an anniversary message on Sunday morning at 10:00 a.m., at which time there will be special music by the Cleveland Bible College Trio. The C.B.C. Trio will conduct gospel services on Friday, Saturday and Sunday evenings at 7:30 o'clock. The public is invited to these meetings.

The first meetings of Friends in Tecumseh were held 99 years ago in the Aaron Comfort and Samuel Satterthwaite homes, who were the founders of the local society. In 1843 Tecumseh Friends purchased the old Presbyterian session house and moved it to the southwest part of the village where it served as a house of worship for nearly 50 years and still stands at the intersection of Adrian Street and the D. T. & I. Railroad.

The new church was completed and dedicated in November, 1891, without a cent of debt. J. Newton Satterthwaite was treasurer of the building committee and still has the original list of contributors, also those who contributed to the parsonage fund in 1927. Some of the most loyal supporters of the church today are members of the same two families who founded the society.

Mr. Satterthwaite will celebrate his eighty-sixth birthday on next Saturday, November 22.

Christmas Seal Sale Opens Soon

THE 1941 STAMP FEATURES A LIGHTHOUSE AGAINST A BLUE SKY

The 1941 tuberculosis Christmas seal which will be placed on sale throughout the country on Nov. 24, features a lighthouse. Against the blue winter sky, which forms the background of the design, the double-barred cross, in red, is spotlighted by the lighthouse beacon.

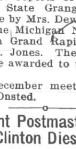
Out of his own experience he conceived the theme of the lighthouse as the symbol of the tuberculosis work. For it was soon after he had begun to gain recognition that he discovered he had tuberculosis. He had just been asked to join an art studio in New York and was preparing to move to there from Ohio.



Mr. Donahos said that the temptation was great to work on and hope that he would regain his health, but the educational campaign of the tuberculosis association had taught him about the disease he had to fight. So he immediately went to a sanatorium and under went treatment and complete rest.

Three years after his return to New York, Mr. Dohanos was chosen by the Treasury Art Project in Washington to do paintings in the Virgin Islands for federal post office buildings. Since then he has completed two naval projects—one for Elkins, W. Va., Agricultural and Forestry Building, the other for the Post Office at West Palm Beach, Fla. He is now wokring on another mural which will be placed in the Charlotee Amalie Post Office in St. Thomas, Virgin Islands.

Lagging Morale Is Strike Cause

COMPLACENCY OF AVERAGE AMERICAN BLAMED FOR DEFENSE PLANT TROUBLES

LANSING, November 19— The threatened strike of C. I. O. workers in the Chrysler tank plant at Centerline, one of Michigan's key industries in national defense, has focused attention again on the mediation board.

The idea of requiring labor to serve notice of strike and thus to permit voluntary mediation during a "cooling off" period was conceived during the 1939 state legislature. The late Frank Fitzgerald had sensed the public's critical reaction to the sit-down strikes of 1937. Labor peace became one of his promises and the state mediation board logically followed when he was elected governor.

During the present emergency, Governor VanWagoner has made frequent use of the mediation machinery established by the state board. To seek a settlement of the Chrysler tank dispute, the governor appointed a special mediation committee, headed by Thomas J. Donahue, chairman of the state board. The governor said to the press:

"I will do everything in my power to make sure that the ominous flow of tanks from the arsenal is not interrupted for as much as one day."

Labor Policy

The rise here of labor disputes, some of which have seriously hampered defense production, is in rather sharp contrast to the cordial relations existing in England between unions and employers.

While strikes in war industries have been banned in England, the government's order was agreed to in advance by both labor and employers. Furthermore, it contained no penalty provisions against strikers.

In the first World War, Great Britain introduced compulsory arbitration of disputes in war industries during thirty-three months after adoption of the act in July, in 1914. Compulsory arbitration is difficult to enforce.

Even the United States during the last World War never prohibited strikes or lockouts. The national war labor board was without authority as is the present national mediation board, to enforce its decisions. Yet, the record shows that the board's decisions were generally accepted.

Morale is Key

Capt. Don Leonard, Michigan State Police executive who visited England last summer on a national civilian defense mission, was impressed greatly with the high morale of the British worker in support of the government's war efforts.

He visited industrial plants in which men and women were working long hours daily to produce vitally needed tanks, airplanes and munitions. Any thought of depriving the government of defense material was considered by the British "man on the street" as subversive, unpatriotic and downright sabotage.

"One factory was hit by bombs during an ae rial raid," Captain Leonard relates. "The workers were so outraged at the Germans that they voluntarily increased their own production and stepped up the normal output 20 per cent for the next few months.

British labor unions are of long standing, contrasted to the newness of many unions in this coun-

Tomorrow is Thanksgiving Day in the United States.

Throughtout this nation, built by the rugged hands of our Pilgrim fathers, we, their sons and daughters, will pause to give thanks for our many blessings; to give thanks that we inherited from them this land of plenty, the one spot in the world where freedom still reigns despite the threat of Hitler's power.

We would indeed be ungrateful if we did not pause tomorrow to offer our thanks, but with them should be included a few firm resolutions for the future.

Tomorrow we should resolve to give our lives, our effort, our thought and our time to the job that lies ahead of this nation if it is to continue to know the true meaning of democracy. Such resolutions were made by our Pilgrim fathers. It is because they kept these resolutions that America today is the greatest country under the sun.

Yes, tomorrow we will be feasting as will no other people in any other country in the world. And as we feast let's resolve that no power will ever be great enough to tear us from this inherited right of freedom. If we do this, and mean it, there will be no danger of fasting in the future.

—o—

The Smart Early Bird—

There is an old saying—the early bird gets the worm—and this year it will ring especially true in Tecumseh, in Lenawee county and throughout the state and nation, if one accepts as facts the stories told by wholesalers and jobbers of merchandise.

The smart early bird this year will be the fellow who does his Christmas shopping early, while merchants' stores are well-stocked with holiday merchandise, stock that has been ordered for months and has been slowly arriving, a great portion of it on "back order".

It is going to be difficult for many of us to realize that no longer can we walk into any store and find exactly what we are looking for, and at the same old price. Instead, we may find the merchant apologetic; he has had the goods on order for several weeks, he has "back order" memorandums, but when the merchandise will arrive he can not be sure. As to the price, it will be subject to the prevailing market on the day of shipment. Competition, of course, will compel him to sell on the smallest margin, after taking taxes and increased overhead into consideration.

There is little doubt but that the Christmas trade this year will be the heaviest in many years, provided of course, that the merchants are able to obtain speedy delivery on replacement goods ordered within the next few weeks. Otherwise, Christmas shoppers will have to be content with merchandise already on the shelves, and stocks are heavy because buyers have anticipated this condition.

In Tecumseh, merchants have been feeling the effects of holiday shopping for more than two weeks. Already there is a demand for Yule tree lights, electric wreaths and other decorations, ordinarily purchasd only a few days before the holiday, to say nothing of gift items sold in other stores.

Yes, Mr. and Mrs. John Q. Public are becoming conscious of the fact that the United States is at war; that the nation is placing all of its efforts to the production of defense materials rather than holiday gifts.

That is why the smart buyer—the person who knows now what he wants for Christmas—should buy it now. Not only will he have his shopping out of the way when the rush comes, he will be able to give exactly what he wants to give, regardless of shortages.

Is your home ready for a decided change in temperature? The end of November may see zero or below weather, you know?

Why delay longer, why not have your home ready when chill winds and snow arrive! A New Storm Door, Storm Windows, a roof repair job, attic insulation—all of these things would tend to make your home more livable, and save nearly their cost in a single winter through heat savings.

See us today for prices. We'll do our best to help you find carpenters to do your work, and we'll furnish the materials at lowest possible prices.

We pride ourselves in Tecumseh's "Better Homes Campaign." We like to see homes spic and span. We'll help you to make yours that way if you'll give us an opportunity.

Farmers Urged To Join "Food For Freedom" Move

More than 100 farm families of Lenawee county are borrowers of the Farm Security Administration are being urged to participate as much as possible in the "Food for Freedom" campaign launched by the U. S. Department of Agriculture. They are asked to make 100 per cent production of food for home use their foremost goal Jerry H. Mandigo, County FSA Supervisor said today.

Many farm Security borrowers in this county are now quite ready to step in and do their part for national defense by increasing production of the needed food commodities, but first they will want to assure an adequate year-round supply of food for themselves, just as they have been encouraged to do in the program for the last six years.

These statements were made in connection with the "all out" goals for a record 1941 production of the dairy products, poultry, eggs, hogs and vegetables recently announced by Secretary of Agriculture Claude R. Wickard.

Farmers generally are being asked to increase production of milk and other needed commodities, not so much by expanding their acreas and other facilities but by more intensive feeding and better management. Among farm Security families there are farm people who have been operating on just that basis for years, following a definite farm and home management plan, aimed, above all, at making the farm need the family and getting improved production by using improved methods. These families now will be able to make a substantial contribution to the success of the "Food for Freedom" campaign.

While "Food for Freedom" will be the most important program of the Department of Agriculture "for the duration," the Farm Security Supervisor said rural rehabilitation, rural sanitation, efforts to improve leasing arrangements between landlords and tenants, medical care, and promotion of farmers' cooperatives would be continued by Farm Security in the interest of "helping small farm operators achieve more of a stake in Democracy."

GRACE

The Christian graces are like perfumes, the more they are pressed the sweeter they smell; like the stars that shine the brightest in the dark; like trees which, the more they are shaken the deeper root they take, and the more fruit they bear.—Beaumont.

The being of grace must go before the increase of it; for there is no growth without life, and no building without a foundation. —Lavington.

A grace is first from God, so it is continually from Him as much as light is all day long from the sun, as well as at first dawn or at sunrising.—Jonathan Edwards.

Grace comes into the soul as the morning sun into the world; first a dawning then a light; and at last the sun in his full and excellent brightness. — Thomas Adams.

Is a Day for Thanks

Tomorrow, November 20, is Thanksgiving Day—a day when every American in the Nation should pause and give thanks for the blessings enjoyed in this Democracy.

Here, as in no other country, there is peace, happiness and freedom—all this in spite of a war torn world.

As you sit down to your table tomorrow, think of the many blessings bestowed upon you as an American citizen. Think of the difference between the Thanksgiving Day you are enjoying and the one in war-torn Europe.

try. The regular machinery for collective bargaining has been effective in adjusting disputes without recourse to interference in production.

Complacency

Since his return from England, the Michigan police captain has been appointed a special assistant to Mayor F. H. LaGuardia, commissioner of civilian defense and has been "loaned" to the federal government for special service in promotion of civilian defense.

How has the average American citizen received the civilian defense program?

According to Captain Leonard the attitude of the Americans today is somewhat like the attitude of the Britishers before the Nazi invasion of Belgium and Holland and the collapse of the French army. Britishers were unmindful of the possible dangers of bombing attacks from the air; invasion of the island was considered a fantasy; industrial production of war materials took an easy-going pace.

Lagging Morale

Because the United States has 3,000 miles of water between the Atlantic coast and Europe, the average American is complacently confident of the country's security from military attack, the captain observes. He is inclined to overlook the military hazards that would follow a few years from today should Hitler triumph in Europe; he is confident also that the Japanese are bluffing, that we will not be engaged in a two-ocean war with a one-ocean navy.

The combined result of such circumstances and thinking is a lagging morale with regard to defense production. Rise of labor strikes is current proof of it. Even the so-called "shooting war" on the Atlantic has not been enough to create a spirit of determination to defeat Hitler. We present this conclusion not in criticism of labor, nor in defense of any administration, but as an observation objectively borne out by facts.

As Captain Leonard puts it, many of us still do not realize that our government has pledged America's entire natural resources to secure the military defeat of Hitler, regardless of the cost.

A costly tie-up of tank production, should the C.I.O. strike actually develop, might create a 1942 political liability akin to the set-down backfire that proved so disastrous to Governor Frank Murphy.

The public moves slowly, yet the public opinion, once aroused, becomes a swinging pendulum that tends to go from one extreme to another.

TO THE FOOTBALL DADS

The Football Mothers we hear about.
They cook the steaks to make Junior stout
So the Squad can fight—and fight to win,
But the Football Dads "take it on the chin."

They buy the gas and drive the car,
Crammed to the roof, to games near or far;
They pay the admissions, they pay for the "cokes".
When the Banquet rolls 'round they're still just "blokes".

They sell the tickets, they rustle chairs;
They eat "hot-dogs" and grow gray hairs
While Mom's at school a-stewin' and cookin'.

Notice To The Public:

Installment Buying Has Not Been Stopped!

You can STILL buy--on long, easy terms--ANYTHING which has commonly been sold on the installment plan

The high standard of living of the American family has depended largely upon the institution of installment buying. Now, contrary to general opinion, this American plan of merchandising on long term credit has NOT been drastically curtailed. The new government regulations which went into effect on September 1, 1941, affect only certain stated items and make no unreasonable restrictions on installment buying even on those stipulated lines. Principal regulations are as follows:

1. New Household Furniture, including Ice Refrigerators, Spri-ngs and Mattresses. Minimum down payment is now 10%. In some cases 5%. Maximum period of payment is now 18 months ..... Used furniture, floor and wall coverings, draperies and bed coverings are not restricted. You can still buy furniture on time!

2. Automobiles, Outboard Motors. Minimum down payment now is 33 1-3%. Maximum period of payment, 18 months. Most people have become accustomed to making larger down payment and taking no longer than that to pay. You can still buy automobiles on time!

3. Mechanical Refrigerators, Radios, composed principally of metals, Washing Machines and Other Home Appliances. 20% down payment required. Payment period not more than 18 months. This should work no hardship on buyers. You can still buy appliances on time!

4. Household Furnaces, Oil Burners, Gas Conversion Burners, Stokers, Water Heaters, Plumbing and Sanitary Fixtures, Home Air Conditioning Systems. Down payment now 15% with up to 18 months to complete payments. You can still buy these necessities on time!

The Following Merchandise is NOT Affected By The New Government Regulations and Can Still Be Purchased On Usual Low Terms: Auto Tires and Accessories, Farm Machinery, Furs, Fur Coats, Floor Coverings, Draperies, Bed Coverings, Clothing, Lighting Fixtures, Paint, Roofing Material, Wallpaper.

CONTINUE TO BUY WHAT YOU NEED—on long terms, if you wish. The new regulations on certain items are designed to conserve materials for national defense and prevent inflation; but these new regulations do not forbid consumers to buy whatever they can pay for within a reasonable length of time.

YOU CAN SHOP AS USUAL without worryng about the new installment buying restrictions. Your dealer knows the regulatons and will arrange your installment contracts so there will be no violation of the rules.

REGULAR CHARGE ACCOUNTS as yet are IN NO WAY affected by government regulations. You may buy as you always have.

DEER HUNTERS MAY KILL DOE FOR CAMP

Opening of Michigan's regular deer hunting season found speculation about the number of does likely to be killed the principal topic of conversation in hunting camps and hunters' outfitting headquarters.

With the ban on doe killing lifted by Legislature after 20 years of the one-buck law, sales of camp permits skyrocketed. Only one permit is issued to a party of four or more hunters, and it is only on a camp permit license that antlerless deer may be taken. Though 20,000 permits have been printed, no estimate is available of the number sold. Last year only 703 were issued.

Many of the state's 175,000 deer hunters will be inelegible for the the) permits because they do not establish a bonafide hunting camp and do their own cooking or hire their own cook.

The season opened with the supply of game good, according to conservation officers' reports, and the weather generally favorable.

Now It Should Be Hard To Die Of Pneumonia

This year it will be hard to die of pneumonia—if you give the doctor a fair chance.

Drugs and serums which are newly improved will be provided for physicians without charge by the new or newly improved will be provided for physicians without charge by the Michigan Department of Health, so that a pneumonia patient anywhere in the state may have the benefit of treatment methods which make unnecessary two out of three pneumonia deaths.

"Pneumonia follows a neglected cold, nine times out of ten", says Dr. H. Allen Moyer, state health commissioner. "The early signs of pneumonia will include some or all of these: chill, fever, pain in the side and cough. Any person who after a cold has a chill followed by a sudden rise in temperature should call the doctor and go to bed. The new drugs and serums are wonderfully effective —but they should be given early."

Distributing centers for the drug and serums have been established in 66 hospitals and health departments. The drugs are sulfathiazole and sulfadiazine, both of which are extremely effective in treating pneumonia. The serums are newly improved and are the culmination of five years of research work in the State Health Department laboratories where they are produced.

Mrs. Minnie J. Boland Buried In Brookside

Mrs. Minnie J. Boland, aged 70 years, widow of the late Deward Boland, died Friday morning in a nursing home in Morenci after a long illness. She had been cared for at Tecumseh hospital for over a year, and several months ago was moved to the nursing home.

Mrs. Boland was formerly Minnie J. Glasglow a daughter of James and Mary in Glasgow and was born September 5, 1871. In Tecumseh, where she lived until after her marriage to Mr. Boland on July 20, 1899. Later they moved to Adrian where Mr. Boland was employed until his death October 12, 1903. She continued to live in Adrian with her mother and later entered the employ of the A. R. Park Company where she remained until her illness compelled her to leave eight years ago last August. She was an invalid until her death. Her mother's death occurred October 16, 1915.

Her sister, Miss Margaret L. Glasgow of Los Angeles, California is her only survivor and was with her during the last two weeks of her illness.

The body was brought to the Belding Funeral Home here where funeral services were held Sunday afternoon. Rev. O. Y. GEESE NOT ONLY BIRDS TO SEEK WINTER HOME

LANSING — While their loud honking and precision flying formations make wild geese the most commonly observed of fall migrants, they are but one of many kinds of birds stopping momentarily in Michigan these days on their flight to winter homes.

Duck flights were delayed by unseasonably warm weather, but most of the teal, bluebills, mallards and blacks have already passed through, according to conservation department ornithologists. Canvasbacks and redheads still are on the wing and mergansers and the goldeneyes are starting to make their appearance.

Less conspicuous migrants include tree sparrows, juncos and longspurs.

Rough-legged hawks, some of which winter in the southern part of the state, also are beginning to appear. Conservation department game men say that this species of hawk, often mistaken for a predator, is considered harmless. It feeds heavily on mice.

THE TECUMSEH HERALD

NINETY - SECOND YEAR—NUMBER NINE. TECUMSEH, MICHIGAN, THURSDAY, NOVEMBER 27, 1941. FIVE CENTS PER COPY

Center Profit Is Over $1,200

GRID RECEIPTS FIVE TIMES THOSE OF FORMER YEARS; LEADERS ENTHUSIASTIC

With the close of the football season and an audit of the records, officials of the Tecumseh Recreation Center today made their first report to the public, showing that the new civic playground, used this fall for the first time as the scene of four football games, showed a gross profit of $1,303.85. Federal taxes imposed upon gate receipts amounted to $90.83, bringing the net profit to $1,213.02, or an average of $303.25 per game. The gross profit is about five times the annual normal gate receipts in previous years, it was pointed out.

All four of the grid games played here this year were under the lights and attracted an average net paid attendance of 886 persons. The peak attendance was at the Clinton-Tecumseh game, when there were 1,199 paid admissions. It is believed, however, that the total number at each game ran well over 1,900, considering that the band, ushers, concession helpers and others working at the field are admitted without charge.

"From a financial angle, the results of the first football season in Tecumseh's new natural ampitheatre are very gratifying," H. H. Hanna, chairman, declared. "It indicates that the predictions of those who projected the center at the time of its construction, that it would be self-sustaining—will be realized."

However the financial success of the new enterprise is not the only benefit to be reaped, it was pointed out by W. L. Berkhof, superintendent of schools, and Fred Raizk, director of athletics. Both men were high in their praise of the new civic center, and listed many advantages that will accrue to the school.

It was declared that the safety of the players on the field was much greater than heretofore, pointing out that the grid season was run through with only a serious injury. This was attributed to the use of better equipment, a better turf upon which to play, a field without stones, etc. Another advantage pointed out by the superintendent is the nearness of the location to the high school building. This has greatly benefited the school by way of improved administration, and has saved much time for the players, and Grid Coach Neville Hart and his staff.

"The splendid support of the town at the grid games will make it possible for us to put better equipped teams in the field, and for us to use higher class officials," Mr. Berkhof declared.

The student spirit this year has been exceptionally high, Mr. Berkhof declared. This is a large measure, he believes, is due to the splendid adult support of the athletic team, which has been an inspiration, not only to the student body but to the team as well. Such spirit, the superintendent thinks, was in no small measure responsible for the successful grid season, ending in a Lenawee League championship for Tecumseh.

Added advantages of the Recreation Center were pointed out by Mr. Raizk who declared that it is his plan to round out the school's athletic program in such a way as to give every student who desires the advantages of the new playground. Baseball, of course will be the next major sport at the Center and the field already has been seeded and a diamond will be laid out in the early spring.

Raizk also called attention to the renewed interest in track events in the county, and of the opportunity for a large number of students to participate in this highly competitive sport. It is planned to have several interscholastic meets here, and if the cinder track can be completed in time, to issue an invitation for a county track meet.

Among the winter sports, Raizk declared that hockey teams will be organized, probably on an interclass basis, if sufficient interest is shown. The games will be played on the rink in the recreation field. Tennis, next spring undoubtedly will be played on the courts immediately west of the school, awaiting the building of other courts at the field.

Other sports under consideration are archery, horse shoe pitching, volley ball, field hockey, badminton, soft ball and shuffle board. Raizk believes it is possible for every boy and girl in the school to participate in some of these events, of their own choice, and in that way, increase their own efficiency.

As a member of the Control Board, John Larsen commented on the Center as follows: "Naturally," he said, "our primary emphasis thus far has been toward development of the football field. This has been the only use to which

The Triple-A farm organizations have been asked by the national government, the speaker said, to urge formers to increase defense crops this year, that more food stuffs may be sent to the allied nation.

A recent survey in England, the speaker explained showed that children over the age of 10 years are not permitted to drink milk, that eggs are practically off the market, and that other necessities are steadily vanishing.

"One English pilot declared that for a steak a day for a week he would whip the whole Hitler air force," Mr. Strayer said. "It's our job to furnish the steak."

Farmers here are being urged to clean up scrap iron piles on their farms and to sell the metal to junk dealers, that it may be used in defense work, the speaker said. He also explained crop allotments and the farm insurance program.

Belding Sells Funeral Home

UNDERTAKING BUSINESS PURCHASED BY GEORGE GREEN AND HIS SON

The sale of the Belding Funeral Home and the undertaking business operated in its connection to George E. Green of Jackson, and his son, George E. Jr., of Reading, was announced today by Guy E. Belding. The new owners are now in possession of the business, with Mr. Green Jr., in active charge. Mr. Belding, it was said, will, for a time, assist with the business, which will continue to operate under the name of the Belding Funeral Home.

The sale by Mr. Belding brings to a close a business he started here in 1899 when he entered the funeral direction profession, operating in connection with the Sisson furniture store, located in the building now the home of Oliver's Market. In 1903, Mr. Belding purchased the Sisson store, and operated it for three years, with Dr. W. D. Reed as his silent partner. He purchased Dr. Reed's interests, about three years later, and continued in both the furniture and undertaking business until 1922, at which time he closed the furniture storg. Two years before that date he entered the undertaking business to its present location on West Pottawatamie street, in the funeral home he purchased at that time. Thus, the sale announced today brings to a close a business that has had Mr. Belding's personal supervision for some 42 years.

"I have considered retiring for several months," Mr. Belding said in making the announcement, "but I did not care to do so until I had found someone whom I was certain would carry on the business I have built up over nearly half a century. The sale to the Greens includes the funeral home, all of my stock and equipment. I will remain, for a time, with Mr. Green, until he becomes acquainted here, in the capacity of an assistant. There will be no change in the general business policies."

Mr. Green, Sr., has been associated with the Weatherby Funeral Mome in Jackson for about 20 years, and is well known to his profession in that city and throughout Southern Michigan. He will continue his associations in Jackson, leaving the Tecumseh enterprise to his son, George E., Jr., who comes here from Reading, where he has been in the undertaking business for some time

Howard Mathews, who has assisted Mr. Belding for several years will remain as an assistant to the new owners, it was said.

Mr. and Mrs. Green will move to Tecumseh at once, that he may devote his entire time and attention to the business.

YOUR FACE EXPOSES YOUR LIFE

The life you lead writes its story upon your face. Regular features and beautiful colorings alone do not make a beautiful woman. A wax figure may be perfect so far as those things are concerned, yet no one would give it a second glance, only out of curiosity. It is the soul, the expression that creates beauty, whether in man or woman.

The attributes and emotions write themselves upon the countenance, and as the years go on they become so plain and indelible that even a simple child is attracted or repelled by them. The modes of life and thinking influence character and expression. Thought and habits pull and chisel the mobile muscles of the face. Evil thoughts constantly indulged send the impulses generated in the brain along the nerves to the muscles, which mould the expression of faces until they become wicked and repulsive.

Refinement and kindness create an attractive expression. Of course, a good complexion is largely dependent upon good health, but remember that good looks can to a large extent be developed by our wills.

Rubber Money No Joke—

Do you remember rubber money—imitation dollar bills that stretched and shrank, the kind that used to be common at county fairs? You bought one or two and passed them out to your friends as a joke.

Today rubber money is no joke; it's a grim reality. Good U. S. bills are shrinking—not in size, but in value. They won't buy as much as they did last year. According to some reports, they won't buy as much next year as they do now. The inflation that Congress talked about and did little to prevent is here.

As a result, the housewife who took $10 to market last spring to buy a week's food supply for her family is finding that $10 is no longer enough. National surveys show that she needs $11.26 to buy the same food now. In the months to come she may need even more. Prices are going up, a penny here, a dime there, week after week.

Government surveys show that pork chops, for example, jumped 12 cents a pound in the last six months; eggs soared from a national average of 29.4 cents a dozen, in March, to 46.9. cents in September. Textiles have already gone up 30 per cent in contrast to their 25 per cent rise during the World War, No. 1 period.

Facts like these bring home the menace of inflation. It strikes at everybody's pocktbook. It hits the farmer as well as the wage earner, the housewife as well as the industrialist. And, with every passing month, it's going to hit them harder, unless Congress gets busy and passes effective control legislation to put on the brakes and check the trend.

Learn the Art of Living
BY THE "RULE of THREE"
...COMFORT
...ECONOMY
...CONVENIENCE

If you are planning to remodel your home—or perhaps in a few months to build a home of your own—remember, "The Rule of Three" is the most important in your code. Your comfort in the home comes first. Secondly, you should consider economy in operation, and third, the conveniences you will enjoy in the years to come.

In this connection we cannot recommend too strongly the use of insulation—whether you are remodeling or build ing. Insulation, you know, is a most modern scientifc discovery, through which you acquire all three of the principles of "The Rule of Three."

Modern insulation keeps your home warm in the winter and cool in the summer. Modern insulation is economical because it reduces your fuel bill in the winter, and adds to your comfort in the summer. You'll enjoy its added conveniences during every month of the year."

Before you plan a remodeling or building job, consult us about insulation. It will "pay its way" every day.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE CHURCH

"Ancient and Modern Necromacy alias Mesmerism and Hypnotism, Denounced" will be the subject of the Lesson-Sermon in all Christian Science churches throughout the world on Sunday, November 30.

The Golden Text (Jeremiah 29:-8, 9) is: "Thus saith the Lord of hosts, the God of Israel; Let not your prophets and your diviners, that be in the midst of you, deceive you . . . For they prophesy falsely unto you in my name: I have not sent them, saith the Lord."

Among the Bible citations is this passage (I Peter 5:8, 9): "Be sober, be vigilant; because your adversary the devil, as a roaring lion, walketh about seeking whom he may devour. Whom resist steadfast in the faith knowing that the same afflictions are accomplished in your brethren that are in the world."

Correlative passages to be read from the Christian Science Textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures", by Mary Baker Eddy, include the following (p. 234): "Evil thoughts and aims reach no farther and do more harm than one's belief permits. Evil thoughts, lusts, and malicious purposes cannot go forth, like wandering pollen, from one human mind to another, finding unsuspected lodgment, if virtue and truth build a strong deference."

Deer Hunters Are Finding "No Delay" at Straits

LANSING, November 26 — With the first "big push" into Northern Michigan's deer hunting areas now past, hunters were finding no delay in crossing the Straits, it was reported this week by State Highway Commissioner G. Donald Kennedy.

Preparing for the annual avalanche of hunters heading northward, promising to send state ferry traffic, already up 24.1 percet above 1940 figures, to new record proportions, six boats were placed in operation for the rush period.

Augmenting the four state ferries were the carferry Sainte Marie, chartered by the State Highway Department from November 9 to December 3, and the carferry Chief Wawatam.

"There is one all important factor which must be considered by the northbound hunter—the weather," said Kennedy. "If snow comes, it will mean better tracking in the woods, but it will also increase the driving hazard. Road surfaces will be slippery and visibility poor, calling for extreme caution when driving."

In addition, Kennedy stated bad weather sometimes disrupts ferry service. "Last year," he said, "on Armistice Day the state ferries were temporarily halted by a gale that wrecked several Great Lakes freighters. On the following day the ferries transported 3,175 cars across the Straits, a record day for the hunting season rush period."

Barring adverse weather conditions, however, hunters will continue to find little waiting necessary at the Straits this year. The dock at Mackinaw City has been laned and marked to aid in more effectively handling arriving cars, and crews on the state boats are on duty 24 hours a day. The ferries are operating without any schedule, making trips as rapidly as possible to keep the docks cleared of cars.

In commenting on hunting season traffic, Kennedy said it was interesting to compare traffic figures at the Straits with the number of deer the returning hunters take out of the Upper Peninsula. "According to these figures," he said, "the hunter will have a better opportunity of bagging a buck in 1941 than in previous years, for the ratio of deer killed to the number of hunters has increased."

In 1938 a total of 18,959 hunters crossed the Straits during the prehunting season rush. They returned with 7,073 bucks. In 1939 the hunters numbered 20,720 and 7,599 deer were bagged. Last year the number of hunters crossing the Straits totaled 15,659 during the rush period, and they returned with 7,859 deer, a record number.

He pointed out, however, that much of the groundwork has been done for other activities. Eighty percent of the six acre field has been tiled and graded. Seventy per cent of the area has been seeded. Buildings have been moved and set in position and bleachers purchased and erected, to accomodate 1,000 persons. A public address system has been installed, as well as the lighting system, and a flag staff and flag have been erected, the latter the gift of Mrs. K. M. Schneider. The football gridiron is complete, the parking lot has been graded, and a scoreboard is in position. Ticket booths have been built and a power lawnmower has been purchased.

As soon as weather permits, a section of the football field will be flooded for a skating rink and a toboggan slide will be erected on the east slope of the bowl. M. W. Wilson, will be in charge of these activities. Creek water will be used on the rink.

While the spring program has not as yet taken definite form, Mr. Wilson has it mind many activities, including the organization of a soft ball league, a city-hand-ball team, boxing exhibitions, possibly sponsored by some local organizations.

Mr. Berkhof also is investigating the possibility of a high school band festival, to be held here n May, probably on Decoration Day. It is his plan to invite bands from other schools to enter in competition and to award prizes for special work.

C. O. Butler, chairman of the Center's activities committee, has announced that he plans soon to call a meeting of his committee, at which time a program will be mapped out for next year's events. Already it has been suggested that these include pageants, band concerts, plays, religious meetings, picnics, sports days, fairs and carnivals.

Provision also is to be made for the installation of playground equipment for the smaller children, but Mr. Butler declared that it was impossible to get this installed for use this fall. However, he is planning a varied program for the youngsters, to be naugurated in the early spring.

Grid Banquet Honors Champs

300 ATTEND FOOTBALL MOTHERS' CLUB PROGRAM AT THE HIGH SCHOOL

The Tecumseh high school Indians, champions of the Lenawee County Football League, and who, in eight games played during the Fall were unbeaten and uncored upon, were feted here last evening at a community banquet, served in the gymnasium of the school. The affair was sponsored by the Football Mothers' Club and was attended by some 300 persons.

Dave Diehl, coach at Michigan State College, East Lansing, was the principal speaker. He praised Coach Neville Hart and his Indian Warriors for their excellent showing during the grid season, and emphasized the need for athletics in the public schools. The coach declared that the training young men receive in competative athletics is of untold value when they enter life beyond school years and he stressed the need for great er cooperation not only on the athletic field, but in life as well. Coach Diehl's remarks were both pertinent and entertaining.

The banquet opened with community singing led by Superintendent W. L. Berkhof, accompanied by Miss Sarah Humphrey. The invocation was by the Rev. Edward Escolme. Acting as master of ceremonies, Mr. Berkhof introduced Jon Young, faculty member, as toastmaster and the welcome to the guests was by Mrs. Karl Schneider, vice president of the Mother's Club. Charles O. Butler, former Michigan State grid player and who has been active in the building of Tecumseh's new Recreation Center, was introduced and spoke in behalf of the Control Board, briefly reviewing the work that has been done by the community. He also paid tribute to the school's winning grid team.

Fred Raizk, the school's athletic director, spoke briefly paying tribute to Coach Hart and the squad that succeeded in defeating ite every opponent during the season.

Coach Hart, after a few remarks presented the squad and awarded letters to 16 of its members as follows: Robert Mohr, Robert Wilson, Max Green, Charles Coffey, Dale Carpenter, Allen Brooks, Clifford Jackson, Kenneth Will, Don Carlson, Jack Brown, Jack Clay, Harvey Proctor and Bill Sisson.

Co-captains Robert Mohr and Robert Wilson presented the county trophy to the school and Kenneth Will, representing the team, surprised Coach Hart with the presentation of a duplicate trophy, as a personal gift from the squad, in appreciation for his efforts.

Ray W. Herrick, president of the Tecumseh Products Company, and a football enthusiast, personally presented to each member of the 1941 squad, a miniature gold football. Mr. Herrick also spoke briefly, praising the team.

The three-course dinner was served at tables beautifully decorated in the school colors, and this scheme with pennants and Indian motif was carried out through the room by a decorating committee made up of Mrs. Harold Sisson and Lenore Larsen. Covers for the program in the likeness of a grid player were drawn by Mary Lou Carlson.

As the tables were being cleared away and upper classmen of the school who did not attend the banquet were admitted to the balcony to hear the program, the cheer leaders and waitresses, led by Elva Mae Dickinson and wear-

HIGH COURT DECISION FAVORS GRAVEL COMPANY

The Michigan Supreme Court, in a decision handed down on Tuesday, upheld the decision of Circuit Judge Mark D. Taylor, of Hillsdale, sitting in the Lenawee county court, in the case of William F. MacGlashen vs the Tecumseh Gravel Company, in which Judge Taylor found in favor of the defendants.

The suit, started in 1939, asked for specific performance of contract to compel the Gravel company to give a deed to land occupied by the Tecumseh Supertile buildings, based upon a lease given in 1927 containing an option to purchase.

The Supreme Court held that Mr. Mac Glashan had been given sufficient notice of the termination of the lease, and therefore the Gravel company was not obliged to convey title.

The case was tried in the circuit court in 1940, Glen L. Williams was the attorney for the Gravel company and the plaintiff was represented by the firm of Welsh and Hill and E. J. Northway, Detroit lawye rs.

Mrs. Edna Codling, general chairman of the American Red Cross for Tecumseh and vicinity, today expressed her appreciation for the loyal support and cooperation of the public, and to Mrs. E. E. Berry, roll call chairman, and her efficient corps of workers, Tecumseh's roll call this year was the largest in history with 429 members and a total of $712.70.

"We feel very proud that our roll call was completed within the time specified, and this was possible only through the splendid efforts of our workers," Mrs. Codling said. "We also wish to add to the names of the workers which was published, those of Mrs. Floyd Elliott and Mrs. Bernice Higgins. These names were unintentionally omitted."

Mrs. Codling also requested volunteer help of every woman and girl in this area who can sew or knit. They are asked to contact the production chairman, Mrs. Vincent Haight. Considerable work remains to be done before Tecumseh completes its work quota, it was said.

Indians Ready To Meet Milan

TECUMSEH'S CAGE SEASON OFFICIALLY OPENED WITH GAME THERE FRIDAY

The Tecumseh high school Indians will officially open their basketball season tomorrow evening when they journey to Milan to play the first game in the 1941-42 schedule. Last year the Indians won all but two of their games, both losses being at the hands of Blissfield.

Despite a rather rigorous schedule this year, Coach Fred Raizk feels confident that the Redskins this season will shoot for a championship record.

The varsity this year is composed of: Mohr, Wilson, Carlson, Green, Laidlaw, Proctor, Smith, Will, Han...., O'Neill, Brazee.

Mohr, Wilson and Green will be playing regularly, with Laidlaw and Brazee battling it out for the left forward spot. Carlson will be the regular right forward until the semester when he will be ineligible. John Hamilton looks like the boy who will fill Carlson's shoes in the second semester, Coach Raizk said. Will, who is new this year, from Ann Arbor is showing considerable form and Proctor, who is new for Manchester, is still unfamiliar with Tecumseh's plays, however it is hoped that he will fit in later in the season.

Tecumseh is by far the most powerful team in the county this year with its long list of veterans, and with a few of the breaks, the Indians should walk off with the county championship.

Dec. 9—Blissfield, there.
Dec. 12—Manchester,, here.
Dec. 16—Addison, there.
Dec. 19—Hudson, here.

Santa Will Arrive by Airplane When He Visits Tecumseh, Friday

Attention, you Tecumseh boys and girls—and oldsters, too—who are anxious to see and talk to Santa Claus.

The jolly old fellow is coming to Tecumseh Friday evening—tomorrow night, at 7:30 o'clock. He will arrive by airplane, and will be met at the Tecumseh Airport by Village officials, and escorted to the business district in Tecumseh's new fire truck. In the downtown district he will meet the boys and girls who have been waiting for nearly a year to see him, and, too, he will have a special gift for every youngster that he sees.

"We are planning one of the largest Santa Claus parties ever attempted here", was the announcement of Wade L. Jones, secretary of the Chamber of Commerce. "Officials of the Airport Association have advised us that they will bring Santa to town aboard a new cruising ship, and if the weather is favorable tomorrow evening, he will fly over the village before he lands at the field. We will meet him at the airport, and escort him to the downtown district. There will be gifts for every boy and girl, and Santa will remain on the street throughout the evening, that every youngster may tell him just what he or she wants for Christmas."

Mr. Jones said that many of the stores are planning to remain open tomorrow night to accomodate the shoppers who will be here for the party, and who are desirous of buying their gifts early. Then, too, it will give the children an opportunity to visit the stores, now crammed with toys and gifts to gladden every heart.

The expense of the Christmas party sponsored by the Chamber, is being borne by that organization assisted by the Rotary Club, the Business and Professional Woman's Club, the K. of P. Lodge, and the village council.

New Fire Truck Will Undergo State Tests

The new pumper-type fire truck, purchased during the early fall by the village, was delivered here on Friday of last week and will receive its official test tomorrow afternoon at 1 o'clock under the supervision of an officer of the Michigan Inspection Bureau of Jackson. If the new apparatus receives the state's approval, it will be placed into immediate service.

The new truck will replace a piece of equipment owned by the village for some 15 years, and which is now considered obsolete by insurance companies. Recently the motor of the old truck gave considerable trouble and the village found it impossible to purchase replacement parts.

The new apparatus was purchased at a cost of nearly $3,600 and one-half of the price is paid by Ray W. Herrick, president of the Tecumseh Products Company, the remaining half by the village. Mr. Herrick made the proposition of part payment to the village when he learned that the old truck was dangerously in need of repair, and was unfit for long, hard service, should such an occasion arise.

Declares Navy Is Great Place

RECRUITING OFFICER ADDRESSES HIGH SCHOOL ASSEMBLY AND ROTARY CLUB

"It's a great organization," declared Chief Torpedoman, L. M. Gilbertson, when he addressed a general assembly of Tecumseh high school students here, Tuesday afternoon, about the United States Navy. "The Navy is more than battleships, cruisers and destroyers, more than the crews that man them," he said. "It's a far-flung network of land bases for ships and planes, for tankers, transports and hospital ships. It's a great system of factories and steel mills, arsenals and ordinance depots. It's air power . . . with thousands of pilots and ten times as many skilled mechanics to keep 'em flying. And it's unbeatable opportunity for any young American who wants to go to the top in almost any skilled trade he may choose."

Chief Gilbertson, now in recruiting service after spending some 25 years in the Navy—22 of that time aboard submarines—was brought to Tecumseh through the cooperation of the Rotary Club and the Chamber of Commerce. Before the high school program, which also was attended by the Rotarians, he was a guest of that organization at a dinner in the parish house of St. Peter's Episcopal church.

"Any young man, particularly a fellow who has a year or two of college training, and who is considering military service, should investigate the Navy, with its multifold opportunities," he said. "The Navy needs men at this time; needs them to man the new ships that are daily rolling away from dry docks; needs them to care for and maintain the thousands of airplanes and air bases established under this emergency. There is a real opportunity for the young man in the Navy," he pointed out, mentioning his own retirement after 25 years of service, on an excellent pension.

Following his talk, sound movies were shown to the assembly. The pictures showed some of the largest vessels of the nation's fleet, depicted life in the Navy, and another film showed the testing of new submarines. State Police from the Jackson post, Troopers Joe Terze and Fred O'Donnell, showed the pictures, cooperating with the Navy Department.

Chief Gilbertson, who is bringing a Navy display to Tecumseh on Saturday, in the windows of the Toggery Shop, plans to spend half of each Thursday here for several weeks. He will have offices in the council building, and will be glad to interview any young men interested in Naval service, any Thursday afternoon, beginning today.

NATION FACES MANY CRISES

The United States faces a flock of crises, in two oceans and at home. In the Atlantic Herr Hitler is a menace; in the Pacific the Japanese peril increases. Both nations are highly interested in the other crises which conront the nation.

The demands of some labor organizations present a threat which is equalled only by the die-hard attitude of some so-called statesmen. These brethren are entitled to whatever comfort any American can secure from the realization that he is pleasing the enemies of this republc.

There is another crisis, which we are about to forget in the excitement. It concerns the attitude of the average American which means all of us. We have not yet awakened to the dangers that assail the nation; we are not yet ready to sacrifice anything except at a personal advantage; we think the others can protect the republic and safeguard our liberties.

SERGEANT YORK'S OPINION

Sergeant Alvin P. York, World War hero fears that America is in real danger because it is smug, self-satisfied and susceptible to over-confidence.

Mr. York has only one outstanding complaint against a foreign policy of appeasement. "It won't work", says he. "Everybody should have learned this by now especially after the attack upon Russia which for years did everything possible to appease Hitler."

Americans may be interested in the Sergeant's statement:

"I am not afraid of war. I went through one and I hated every minute of it. No one who lived through the last one could possibly have any other feeling. We all hated it. And we cannot avoid this new war unless, like Lindbergh, we value our present security more than we value liberty and freedom and democracy."

Tecumseh Folk Watch War News

LEON WILLIAMSON, JR., AT PEARL HARBOR, WITH MARINE AIR CORPS

Relatives and friends of Tecumse folk known to have been in or near Hawaii on Sunday when the Japanese bombed Pearl Harbor, and launched an undeclared war on the United States, are scanning news reports and listening for radio broadcasts, in an effort to learn more about the damage done during the attack. Since the United States' declaration of war on Japan on Monday, all news reports from the islands have been censored, but meager flashes thus far received indicate that the folk known in Tecumseh are safe.

Leon Williamson, Jr., son of Leon P. Williamson, W. Chicago Blvd., is a member of the Marine Air Corps and is believed to have been stationed at Pearl Harbor. Richard Williamson, Leon's brother, is a member of the Navy on the U.S.S. Colorado.

Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Ackland and their son, and wife, Mr. and Mrs. Neil Ackland, formerly of Morenci and known here, are now residents of Wailuka on the Island of Maui in Hawaii. They live in sight of Pearl Harbor, the base of the Japanese attack.

Mr. Ackland is a brother of Mrs. E. H. Perry, of Adrian, formerly a resident of Tecumseh.

Farmers Are Urged To Report Cattle Thefts

Numerous cattle thefts in Lenawee county, unreported to the sheriff's department until several hours or days after the acts occurred, are likely to be repeated unless farmers cooperate with the law enforcement agency and report the stolen property immediately, A. T. Wilson, undersheriff, said today.

During the last month, Mr. Wilson said, five cows and a calf have been stolen from Lenawee farms. The first two occurred in Ogden township, early in November. The second, a cow and calf stolen from a Palmyra farm, happened on November 12, and a few days later a cow was lost by a Palmyra farmer. On November 30, a heifer was stolen from the John Murphy farm just north of Tecumseh.

In every instance, the sheriff's deputy said, farmers failed to report the thefts until long after the cattle were stolen. He declared operate, it is most impossible to round up the thieves, if they are given too great a start. The thieves are known to use a car driving a trailer.

We are going to have more of these thefts unless the farmers cooperate," Mr. Wilson said. "We want them to report such losses immediately. We'll be on the job, and we'll have a far better chance to catch the thieves."

Fire Truck Is Given Approval

PUMPING CAPACITY EXCEEDS RATING; DISCUSS SECOND TRUCK FOR FARMS

The village council, in special session on Monday evening, authorized payment to the General Fire Truck Corporation of Detroit, for the new 500-gallon pumper type fire truck delivered to Tecumseh nearly two weeks ago. The council was advised that the truck had been given the approval of the Michigan Inspection Bureau, and that tests showed the apparatus capable of pumping some 650 gallons of water per minute, although rated at only 500 gallons.

The new truck now in use and housed at the fire station, replaces a truck considered as obsolete by insurance companies, and which had been in service here for some 15 years. The new appartaus cost approximately $3,600. One half of the cost was borne by the village and the other half by Ray W. Herrick, president of the Tecumseh Products Company.

A movement is now on foot for the purchase of another truck, larger and more powerful than the one just delivered, to be housed in the fire barn here, and to be used to fight rural fires. The present rural truck, also about 15 years of age, is rapidly depreciating and replacement parts are hard to get. A new truck is needed badly, those who are informed say, and it is probable that the question of purchase will be submitted to voters at the Spring election.

Should the approve the plan, the truck would be owned by the township and operated by the village, and would be available for a fire anywhere in Tecumseh township, with charge for the call. Under the present set-up, the rural truck answers alarms only where farm owners are members, or where pay for the call is guaranteed by the township or someone else.

It is understood that the township board is favorable to the purchase of a truck, and that the question will be on the election ballot in April.

Child Guidance Teacher Addresses Rotary Club

Verl Teeter, child guidance instructor of Ann Arbor, and who, for many years acted in a similar capacity in connection with the courts in Oklahoma, was the guest speaker at the regular noon-day luncheon of the Rotary Club, on Tuesday, at the high school. Earlier in the day, Mr. Teeter had conferred with members of the school's faculty, and also addressed a general assembly of students.

"Building a bigger son for your business instead of a bigger business for your son", was the subject of an interesting 30-minute talk, in which he pointed out that a child's early education should prepare him to meet the problems of life regardless of his vocation.

"Industry and business can train a young man or woman for a particular job, providing the applicant has sufficient background and knowledge. But business does not have time to train the boys and girls who do not know how to cooperate, how to get along with others, how to get along with ther peple," he declared. "This teaching must be done in the school and at home, if the child, when he becomes an adult, is to succeed."

Mr. Teeter was brought to Tecumseh by the Rotary Club which Tuesday had luncheon at the domestic science department of the school. The meal was served under the direction of Mrs. O. W. Laidlow. The club will meet at the school again next Tuesday, at which time there will be an exchange of gifts and a Christmas party. Grade School Building At Future Date Discussed

Plans for the building of a new grade school in Tecumseh at some future date, were considered by the board of education when it convened in regular session here, on Tuesday evening.

This policy, it was pointed out, is in keeping with the Work Progress Administration, and should it be given WPA approval at some later date, it would be for the purpose of furnishing employment during a readjustment period, following the war.

The board also authorized the purchase of a metal lathe for use in the vocational arts department, to train high school age boys for work in industrial plants. Walter Frazier, county engineer, was authorized to establish boundary monuments at the new athletic field and adjoining parking lot. Current bills were audited and ordered to be paid, and the report of the superintendent was accepted and placed on file.

A WOMAN TALKS SENSE—

There are some men who have the silly notion that women are unable to understand this so-called man's world. They can learn much by listening to intelligent women.

For example, Miss Janet Flanner, former French correspondent for the New Yorker, says that " the downfall of democracy is money worship because democracy was founded on spiritual things."

How true the observation is and how often do we witness the death of spiritual things because of money worship. The desire for material wealth has destroyed the spiritual life of nations and individuals in the past. It will do the same today.

Miss Flanner justly says: "Selfishness and silliness are social sins. We pay for them. We will pay for building up a checkbook family tree, a background of financial breeding, a feeling that a rich man is like a duke in the old days and a multi-millionaire is like a local king."

While we doubt that the United States has gone to the dogs spiritually or that the people of this nation are spiritually degenerate, there has been evident a cult of money worship. It finds disciples in unexpected places and even the organized churches of the land have not been untouched by the sordid taint.

The power of money in our social and economic system has, at times warped the fabric of society and developed injustices that ignored the spiritual worth of human beings. The lust for profit, for financial assets has hardened the hearts of men and women and made them deal unjustly with other human beings.

A DEFENSE ITEM—

Here's an item that may mean something about defense:

One day recently a plane factory in Texas delivered fifty all-metal training planes to the government.

One year before the field upon which the plant stands was growing cotton. Structural steel was unloaded late in November, 1940, and the first plane was assembled on April 7th.

There are hundreds of similar plants in the United States, busy today turning out weapons for the defense of democracy. We hear of only a few but when the full story of our rearmament program becomes known, Americans will be proud of their country.

—o—

A little authority sometimes makes ordinary men very small.

—o—

Life is getting to be just one collection campaign after another.

—o—

One trouble with a democracy is that too many citizens suffer from mental paralysis.

—o—

In about four months the average American will realize that it takes money to prepare for national defense.

—o—

Be thankful that you haven't been killed by an automobile thus far in life and try to dodge them another year.

—o—

Advice: When you get into a crowd and one individual talks faster than anybody else, remove yourself gently and let the saps listen.

—o—

Few adults give proper consideration to their own health and recreation; naturally they die a bit early, but what's the difference.

TPC Employees Get Wage Boost

IS FIVE TO TEN CENTS AN HOUR; HERRICK URGES BUYING OF BONDS

Announcing a pay increase of from five to ten cents an hour, effective Janury 1 and pointing out that the nation's greatest task at the moment—a task that involves every man and woman employed in Tecumseh—is defeating Hitler and his Axis partners, Ray W. Herrick, president of the Tecumseh Products Company, yesterday afternoon addressed a mass meeting of the workers at that plant, urging them on to greater production and ultimate national victory.

"As most of you know," Mr. Herrick told more than 1,000 employes, "our shop is being rapidly given over to the production of war materials. A few weeks ago, we called it defense work; now we call it war work. At the present moment, the Products company's production is approximately 60 per cent war work. In 60 more days it will be 80 per cent war work. In all probability this percentage will be increased as the days go on.

"All of us are working under pressure. We're doing a job for Uncle Sam, the greatest fellow on earth. This is our war, we're all fighting for a single cause. We've got to click. We can't have any interruptions or delays. Each of us has a job to do, and a mighty important one. We're working three shifts, eight hours a day. We are going to have to work on Sundays—seven days a week. As added demands are made upon us for war materials, we are going to have to reduce the manufacture of so-called non-essential goods. When this time comes—and it may not be far in the distance, we undoubtedly will go to four shifts, six hours a day, assuring uninterrupted employment for all of our regular workers."

Mr. Herrick made it plain that it was the company's intent to employ steadily all of its so-called "old employees" on the war work.

"As the days go on, and production increases," he said, "we are going to hire more men and women. Our former employees will be given first consideration. By this I mean that men who have worked for us before, and for some reason or another left our organization, will be rehired before others will be considered. I am telling you this because I do not want a rush at the employment gate.

Discussing the war work program that is to be started soon in the old Cyclone Fence Company's buildings, immediately west of the Products factory (the Cyclone property recently was purchased by Products), Mr. Herrick declared that operations in the newly acquired 60,000 square feet of floor space would be under way in January.

"This added space", he declared, "will furnish room for some of the machines to be operated by many of you men when you are removed from the so-called non-essential production to war production. We believe that we will be able to employ every man who has worked for us in normal times," he concluded. "We want to give as much employment as possible and steady employment. That not only is our policy, it is the policy of our government. Uncle Sam needs us Now, and we are going to give him the best there is in us."

Mr. Herrick concluded his 30-minute talk with a stirring patriotic appeal to the employees to buy United States Defense Stamps and Bonds.

"When you buy a stamp or a bond you are buying a share in America, a share in freedom," he declared. "You are instantly putting your money to work for yourself, your wife, your children and your job. Uncle Sam's in a fight, and fights cost money. This great American family of ours has been attacked and is fighting back. We have set out to win and there's no compromize.

"I'm recommending to each employee of the company the purchase of one $25 bond each month, starting in January. I think that this can and should be done. A $25 bond, you know, costs only $18.75 to purchase. It matures in 10 years to its face value.

"I hope that this shop will join me in making the purchase of bonds on a monthly basis 100 per cent throughout the factory. Such a showing would be indeed gratifying, not only to Tecumseh but to the entire nation.

"Tecumseh, you know, is noted state and nation-wide for its leadership. This town has always set the pace, and now let's set it again in the buying of bonds. Let's show Lenawee county and the state of Michigan that here is one of the livest, most wide-awake communities in the commonwealth."

DEGREES CONFERRED

At a meeting of the Tecumseh Grange, held Thursday evening, members of the Onsted and Woodstock Granges were guests and the latter conferred the third and the fourth degrees on a class of candidates composed of Mr. and Mrs. Willis Palmer, Mrs. John Foote, Mrs. Truman Sisson, Mrs. Glenn Driscoll and Harrison Bailey. Pot luck dinner preceded the meeting.

Defense Drive For Old Waste Paper Is Launched By Scouts

An "all-out" call to rally for the Home Defense has resulted in the Girl Scouts launching a paper collection campaign, two days following Christmas. The Girl Scouts urgently request that all citizens of Tecumseh save all Christmas wrappings, cardboards cartons and boxes, newspapers, magazines and twine until December 27 when they will be collected. The girls would appreciate it if the papers are tied with twine or carpet rags to hold them securely but will pick them up untied, if necessary. All bundles are to be left on your front porch or steps, for collection on Saturday, December 27, or they may be brought direct to collection headquarters. Mrs. Florence Howe and Mrs. L. A. Carlson are in charge of the campaign and proceeds from the sale will be used to help defray the cost of the handbooks for the First Aid course and finance other Home Defense projects for Girl Scouts.

Today 20 Girl Scouts wrote their final examination for the Junior Red Cross First Aid course, which completes the 20 hour course the Scouts have been attending the past five weeks. Examinations on bandaging and artificial respiration have already been held. When the grades are completed certificates will be awarded by the Red Cross and Girl Scouts will be prepared to serve as an emergency squad in any disaster.

McGehee Quits Local Pulpit

PRESBYTERIAN PASTOR RESIGNS TO TAKE POST AT SOUTH LYONS, OHIO

The Rev. E. M. McGehee, pastor of the local Presbyterian church sincee July 1937, has received a call from the First Presbyterian church in South Lyons, and has asked to be released from the local church to accept the call by February 1. A congregational meeting for that purpose will be held Sunday morning, December 28th.

Rev. McGehee came here from Yale in July 1937 and during his pastorate, 71 new members have been received, there have been 46 baptisms, a new department has been added to the Sunday school, and the Tuxis Society and Westminster Junior League have been organized. Nearly $1800 of repairs have been made to the church and a new roof and a new garage have been built at the manse.

Berea Graduate Tells Of World-Famous School

Berea College, established in the 1750's by a Baptist minister and which institution since that time has gained an international reputation, was the subject of an interesting talk by the Rev. E. T. Rodda, rector of St. Peter's Episcopal church, when he spoke to Rotarians at their annual Christmas dinner Tuesday, in the domestic science rooms at the high school.

The Rev. Mr. Rodda is a graduate of Berea, located in the hills of Kentucky, and his observations gained during the six years he was there were very interesting. The school operates on a work-study basis, he declared, and it costs the average student not to exceed $150 annually. Many students, he said, if finances are unfavorable, find it possible to complete a college course on $25 or a little more, plus the employment that is furnished by the school.

It was the club's annual Christmas party and gifts for both boys and girls were exchanged and later turned over the the Welfare Service, for distribution here on Xmas morning to needy youngsters. This practice has been followed by the club for several years.

The chicken dinner was served to the club by the domestic science girls under the direction of Mrs. O. W. Laidlaw.

Mrs. Mary A. Haggart, Clinton Resident, Dies

Mrs. Mary Agnes Haggart, widow of the late David Haggart, of Clinton, died Monday afternoon at Tecumseh hospital, where she had been a patient for three weeks. Mrs. Haggart had spent nearly all her life in this community and was a member of the Methodist church in Clinton.

She leaves one daughter, Mrs. Eva Blatchford and two grandsons, Edward and Donald Blatchford of Clinton, and a sister, Mrs. Carrie Reeves of Palms, Calif.

The funeral will be held this afternoon in the home in Clinton. Rev. R. E. Simmons will officiate and burial will be in Riverside cemetery.

GIFTS EXCHANGED

Members of the Westminster Junior League and their husbands enjoyed a potluck supper and Christmas program at the Presbyterian church parlors Tuesday evening, with Mrs. D. S. Carmichael of Holloway as guest speaker. A Christmas tree and exchange of gifts was a feature of the evening.

Six and a Half Tons of Turkeys, Products' Gift to Its Employees

Six-and-a-half tons of turkeys, approximately 1,000 pounds of chocolate candy, and cigars by the hundreds—that's what will make up the gifts that are to be distributed the day before Christmas to the employees of the Tecumseh Products Company, according to Ray W. Herrick, president. Mr. Herrick made the announcement yesterday afternoon at a mass meeting of workers at the local plant.

Hundreds of turkeys, each one of them weighing 16 pounds will be given to every family head employed by the company. To the unmarried men and girls, the gift will be a three-pound box of delicious chocolates. And to firemen, police, Tecumseh Hospital, postal employees and others will go candy and cigars.

"I get a kick out of Christmas," was Mr. Herrick's comment as he gave final approval to the gift list for the employees. "This is the second year that we have given heads of families, turkeys, and the candy and cigars to others. It's our way of saying "Merry Christmas', and we truly mean it."

It will take three large trucks to bring all of the gifts to the Products plant next week. The turkeys will come in refrigerated trucks. Each bird will be in a multi-colored market basket, specially wrapped in holiday paper.

Men who were removed from the Products payroll because of enlistment or induction into the United States armed service also will be remembered. The company is sending to each of them a three pound box of candy.

Former Tecumseh Man Injured By Jap Bomb

Word has been received by Henry Ward, that his nephew, Dan Flowers is in a serious condition in Manilla.

Mr. Flowers who spent some time in Tecumseh with Mr. and Mrs. Ward, left here in June and returned to his former home in Arkansas where he enlisted in the army. Three weeks later he was sent to the Phillipines and for the past two months he has been ill of a lung infection in a Manilla hospital. He was seriously wounded in the recent air raid by the Japs, on Manilla.

Mr. Ward also has another nephew in service at Pearl Harbor.

Herrick Offers New Fire Truck

WOULD MAKE VILLAGE PRESENT OF IT IF SUITABLE BUILDING IS BUILT

"Build a suitable fire barn—by that I mean a building sufficient in size to house all of the trucks—and I will give to the village sometime after next May a hook and ladder type piece of fire fighting equipment," Ray W. Herrick, president of the Tecumseh Products Company, told firemen at their annual dinner-meeting here last Friday evening, at the Boston Cafe.

Mr. Herrick spoke after firemen and Mayor J. Floyd Elliott had extended their thanks to the Products president for his generosity in paying one-half of the cost of a new pumper-type truck, recently delivered to the village. The truck costing about $3,600, replaced a 15-year old model, considered obsolete by insurance companies.

"I didn't pay half of the cost of the truck to be generous," Mr. Herrick said, "I did it because I believe the village needed a new piece of fire fighting equipment. It's very easy to criticize firemen, but I also know that firemen cannot work without tools. The old truck was out of date."

"I also know that we need more fire apparatus here," he continued. "That's why I'm offering now to buy and to pay for myself a new hook and ladder truck, if the village will build a building to house it. I know that my property, my home and my factory, will be much safer if we have proper fire equipment. I also know that every other home and factory in Tecumseh will be safer. I'm mighty proud of Tecumseh, and I want you firemen, you men who give your best for the interests of the town, to have equipment to work with."

State Fire Marshal Arnold Renner of Monroe, also a guest at the meeting, complimented Mr. Herrick for his interest in Tecumseh and its fire department and firemen voted unanimously to make the industrialist an honorary member of the department.

Chief Renner praised local firemen for their work in the past, declaring that their ability in stopping the Chief Hotel fire here, some years ago, was one of the finest pieces of work he had ever seen.

"I've seen paid departments work, and I've seen the volunteers such as you have in Tecumseh, but let me tell you, when you stopped the hotel fire you did an outstanding job. That was a dangerous fire, and you are entitled to a lot of credit."

Chief Renner continued by telling the firemen that they are going to play an ever increasingly important part in the nation's defense program, and urged them to make a careful study of conditions locally. He also spoke of the formation of auxiliary departments, and urged them to take advantage of all training schools offered by the state and federal government.

J. A. Perry of Ann Arbor, head of the vocational educational department of firemen's schools in the state, also was a speaker. Such a school has been conducted locally for some time for the firemen, under the supervision of Captain Russell Emerson, of the Monroe department. Captain Emerson also was the speaker.

After the dinner and program, Chief Renner, assisted by State Trooper Williamson, showed talking pictures of the bombing of London and other fire pictures. The London pictures, shown for the third time in Michigan were very interesting. They were made in London at the time of a bombing raid and showed the destruction wrought by the fires that followed.

LEGION XMAS

Stamp and Bond Sale Is Launched

PROGRAM TO INCREASE TECUMSEH'S QUOTA IS STUDIED BY COMMITTEE

The village-wide sale of defense stamps and bonds, in an effort to push up the quota already reached by Tecumseh—approximately $6 per capita based upon the population of the village and its immediate trading area—was launched this week by Frank K. Smith, general chairman, and his committee. The drive followed a meeting at the United Savings Bank on Friday evening, at which time ways and means of making the public generally more bond conscious, were discussed.

"This week," Mr. Smith said, "Our committee contacted every merchant in Tecumseh urging that defense savings stamps be offered for sale in their store. We received 100 per cent cooperation, and I am mighty proud of our business men. Beginning next week, every store in Tecumseh will be a sales shop for savings stamps. Customer may buy 10 cent and 25 cent stamps, taking them in place of the change if they so desire. If customers would do this, the amount of sales in the aggregate would be surprising."

Soon after the first of the year, Mr. Smith plans to launch a campaign for the sale of bonds in Tecumseh and its trading area, and this afternoon there is to be a meeting of industrialists here, to formulate a plan for the buying of bonds by employees, on a pay-roll deduction basis. Ray W. Herrick is general chairman of the industrial committee, and the meeting is to be held in his office at the Products Company.

"Tecumseh has made a fine showing on both stamps and the bonds", was Mr. Smith's comment, "but we do not want this to stop. It takes money to fight and to win a war, and we must keep on buying."

Sale of defense stamps through the public schools also is very satisfying, the chairman said, and he congratulated the school children on their excellent response.

Redskins Take Two More Games

HIGH SCHOOL CAGERS DEFEAT MANCHESTER AND ADDISON WITHIN WEEK

By Bob Larsen

The Tecumseh high school cagers rolled up two more victories within the past week, first by taking the Manchester Dutchmen into camp on the home court last Friday by a score of 38 to 21, and, second, by defeating Addison on what is perhaps the hardest court in the county to play on, the very small Addison court, by a score of 31-15, Tuesday night.

	FG	FT	Tp
Carlson	4	1	9
Laidlaw f	2	1	5
Green c	6	2	14
Mohr g	2	1	5
Hamilton f	1	0	2
Brazee f	1	1	3
TOTALS	16	6	38

The scores at Addison:

Green c	5	6	16
Mohr g	1	2	4
Wilson g	4	1	9
Hamilton f	1	0	2
TOTALS	11	9	31

The Indians have won four and lost none, out of a 14 game schedule. This should put them will on the road to the championship.

The reserves also have been doing very well, winning all four of their games the last two, 28-16 over Manchester, and 35-9 over Addison.

Civilians To Register Here

TWO-DAY REGISTRATION FOR DEFENSE WORK AT CLERK'S OFFICE, FRIDAY, SATURDAY

The registration of volunteer workers in civilian defense in Tecumseh has been called for by Mayor J. Floyd Elliott, who announced today that such registration would take place on Friday and Saturday of this week in the office of Wade L. Jones, village clerk. The office will be open from 9 a.m., to 8 p.m., on Friday, and from 9 a.m., to 9 p.m., on Saturday, to accomodate residents.

Persons desiring to register for civilian defense volunteer service here, Mayor Elliott said, are urged to call at the clerk's office and to give as much information as possible concerning their past experience, which may better qualify them for some particular branch of the civilian srvice. Both men and women are needed, but persons younger than 18 years need not register at this time, it was said.

The work of registering Tecumseh residents will be done by members of the auxiliary of Underwood-Orr Post, American Legion. They will keep the clerk's office open during the noon hour, giving employed persons unable to report at any other time an opportunity to register.

Residents of Tipton, it was said, may register either at Tecumseh or in Adrian, as no registration booths will be set up there. Similarly, the residents of Ridgeway may register either here or in Britton, where registration also will be taken on Friday and Saturday.

The purpose of the registration is to secure workers for civilian defense, who later may be trained as auxiliary policemen, firemen, first aid squads, air raid wardens, nurses' assistants, and others.

Aged Resident of Raisin To Be Buried Today

Miss Martha Jane Mitchell, lifelong resident of Raisin township, died early Tuesday morning in the home of her sister-in-law, Mrs. W. J. Mitchell, where she had been cared for sometime. Miss Mitchell would have been 89 years of age on December 28, if she had lived. She was a daughter of the late Robert and Jane Mitchell and spent her entire life, with the exception of a few years in Adrian, on the farm southeast of Holloway, where she was born.

Several nieces and nephews survive.

The funeral will be held this (Thursday) afternoon at 2:30 in the Mitchell home. Rev. D. S. Carmichael will officiate and burial will be in the Raisin Presbyterian cemetery.

Flier Is Safe

Leon Williamson, Jr., a member of the Marine Air Corps, stationed at Pearl Harbor, Hawaii, is "O.K." according to a message received from him by his father, L. P. Williamson of West Chicago blvd.

The message from the young bomber pilot came late yesterday afternoon and was very brief, probably due to the strict censorship that is being maintained. It was the first that Mr. Williamson had received from his son since the Japanese attack on the Harbor on December 7.

Stores Open

Generally speaking, the stores in Tecumseh will be open each evening from now until Christmas, it was announced today. Christmas buying, merchants declare, is unusually heavy this year, and the evening opening will enable many shoppers to visit the stores without interrupting their regular work schedule.

There are only five more shopping days until Christmas.

DIES IN READING

Word has been received here of the sudden death of John S. Winne a former linotype operator at the Herald office, which occurred recently at his home in Reading, following a heart attack. Mr. Winne left Tecumseh in September. Burial was made in Jonesville.

NOTICE

Tecumseh township taxes are due and payable on and after December 10. I will be at the United Saving Bank each Tuesday and Friday after that date for collection. Also, for payment of dog taxes and Farmers' Mutual Fire Insurance premiums.

GIVE COURTESY FOR CHRISTMAS—

In August of this year, President Roosevelt called on the National Safety Council to lead a defense emergency safety campaign to curb the growing menace of traffic deaths.

The action of the President was prompted by a 23 percent increase in traffic deaths last August, over August, 1940.

The increase in the traffic toll is due mainly to the fact that the American people are traveling more this year than they did last year. In September of this year the American people travelled 13 per cent more than they did in the previous September.

In October, motor vehicles were responsible for the deaths of 4,050 persons. This is about 400 more than were killed in October, 1940, but it is the smallest per cent rise of any month this year over a corresponding month of a year ago.

The National Safety Council has reason to be proud of the progress that it is making in stemming the rising tide of accidents in the United States.

The Council is also undertaking a special Christmas drive and 130 cooperating organizations are helping to make this drive a success.

This drive cannot be a complete success without the whole-hearted support of every citizen in Tecumseh and Lenawee County. The next time you get behind the wheel remember the theme of the council's safety drive: Give courtesy for Christmas.

RETAIL TRADE RISES—

Dun and Bradstreet report this year that retail trade is 14 to 18 per cent above last year. The improvement over last year in various regional areas is as follows:

New England, four to seven per cent; East, 14 to 22 per cent; Middle West, 17 to 20 per cent; South, 14 to 18 per cent; Southwest, eight to 14 per cent; Northwest, 12 to 15; and Pacific Coast, 15 to 18.

A rise in retail trade was possible this year because the United States produced three billion dollars more in non-defense goods than it produced in 1940. However, OPM officials inform us that non-defense goods will be cut by one-third or more during 1942 (approximately nine billion dollars).

This means that the American people will not be able to buy as much next year as they did this year or last year, despite the fact that they may have more money as a result of the defense spending program.

Generally speaking, we have not had to sacrifice. Next year we will feel the pinch; we will realize the seriousness of the situation.

. . . . It's Fun, She Says-- Preparing Xmas Dinner For the first time

IN YOUR OWN HOME

Yes, it's real fun—fun for all the family—to have the Christmas Dinner served for the first time in the home you have dreamed about for years.

This year we have aided many home owners in Tecumseh to achieve that dream. Some of them will serve their dinners in newly built homes; others in homes they have purchased and remodeled to suit their convenience. In either instance, they are happy.

Why don't you resolve now—just at the turn of the year—to join those happy homeowners and build, buy and remodel the "home of your dreams". We will be only too glad to be of service to you, and you'll find our years of building experience very helpful.

"It's about time this family ordered a TELEPHONE"

"Just think, for years this family thought that their home was modern in every respect — why they didn't even have a telephone! I never could understand it. I intended to have them a note this year to tell them just what they were missing. I don't have to now, for they've finally ordered a Telephone — and not only that, they have included extensions for the basement and upstairs. I'm glad, for from now on their home will really be modern. What about your home? Surprise the family with a telephone for Christmas or an extension if you have service."

Burns Fatal To Youth, 19

TWO OTHER CHILDREN INJURED IN BRITTON HOUSE FIRE SATURDAY

Dale Craig, 19 year old son of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Craig of Britton, died Saturday night at Tecumseh hospital from burns suffered earlier in the day when the Craig home northeast of Britton, was totally destroyed by fire.

The boy was building a fire in the heating stove about 9 o'clock Saturday morning when the oil can exploded, setting the house ablaze. Mr. Craig had gone to market in Detroit and Mrs. Craig had just left for Adrian to obtain candy for the church Christmas tree. She was located at Holloway and returned home immediately.

Several children were asleep in the upstair bedrooms and were saved by the two daughters Janice and Geraldine, who dropped them down from an upstairs window in their night clothes. The blaze had spread up the stairway, cutting off that exit.

James Dennison, a neighbor passing by, saw the blaze and stopped. The Craig boy had been dragged from the burning house to the door yard by his sister, Janice and his clothing was in flames. Mr. Dennison took him to the home of Jesse Olds where he was wrapped in a blanket and later taken by Mr. Olds to Tecumseh hospital where his death occurred. Janice also was burned quite badly about the hands and face in her efforts to put out the fire in her brother's clothing.

The children were taken to the home of a neighbor and the Britton fire department was called but the flames spread so rapidly that the house and contents were a complete loss. There was no insurance.

Besides his parents, Dale leaves seven sisters and one brother. He was the oldest of the family and had only recently begun work at the Tecumseh Products Company.

Funeral services were held on Tuesday afternoon at the Niblock Funeral Home in Britton. The Rev. E. O. Davis of the Rea Methodist church and Rev. Vernon of the York Baptist church officiated and burial was in Ridgeway cemetery.

Sheep Killed; Dogs Watched

WARDEN WARNS CANINE OWNERS THAT LAW WILL BE RIGIDLY ENFORCED

If you think anything of your dog—and perhaps your pocketbook —keep the animal tied up and observe the state law, was the warning today of Floyd E. VanEtten, county dog warden, when he declared that unless the all-too-numerous attacks on sheep in Lenawee are halted soon, there is likely to be a wholesale killing of dogs.

During the past few weeks, Deputy VanEtten said, several flocks of sheep in the county, many of them in this vicinity, have been attacked by dogs. In some instances several sheep have been killed outright, in others they were so badly injured that killing was necessary. In another case, in the western part of the county, several sheep were killed and injured, and the owner of the offending dog has been found.

"I imagine that he will be asked to settle for the damage, which will amount to about $200", Van Etten said. "The dog is dead, of course."

C. N. Easton, operating the Ternes farm west of Union Street reported that dogs got into the sheep there last Saturday and injured four of them so seriously that they had to be killed. Two dogs were seen in the pasture and fired upon. Sunday, officers succeeded in killing one of the animals believed responsible.

About 10 days ago, near Addison, dogs killed five sheep, and about the same time there was an attack on sheep near Macon, on the Bolts and Johnston farms, and 12 animals were killed. Several of a flock near Britton were killed and injured.

Van Eten declared that if the owner of a sheep-killing dog can be identified he is liable for the damage. He also points out that the state law requires that all dogs be shut up or tied at night, and during the daytime they must be on the owner's premises, unless accompanied by the owner. This law is effective, even though the dog is wearing the required license.

Civilian Defense Registration To Be Reopened Here on Friday

ONLY 346 HAVE REGISTERED AND OFFICIALS BELIEVE NUMBER INSUFFICIENT

With only 346 persons listed in Tecumseh for Civilian Defense—the result of the two-day registration here last Friday and Saturday—Mayor J. Floyd Elliott, general chairman of all defense work here, said today that booths would be reopened again this week on Friday and Saturday, in an effort to increase the number to at least 600.

The office of Wade L. Jones, village clerk, again will be used as the registration headquarters, and will be open from 9 a.m., to 5 p.m., on Friday and from 9 to 9 on Saturday. The work of registering civilians will be done by members of the Legion Auxiliary.

"The records show that more persons should register between the ages of 18 and 35 years," Mr. Jones said. "Also, women should register. There will be jobs found for everyone, and the booths are open to both men and women between the ages of 18 and 65 years. Apparently the busy Christmas season caused many to fail to register for the work, but after the holiday the registration should be brisk."

Members of both the Legion and Auxiliary recently registered for civilian defense through their own organization, it was said, but they are asked to register in the village program. This request is in keeping with instructions received from the state.

Residents of Tipton and Ridgeway, where no general registration is being conducted, may register either in Tecumseh or Britton, it was said.

The purpose of the registration is to secure volunteer workers for defense work, who may later be trained as auxiliary firemen, policemen, air raid wardens, nurses' assistants, etc.

Stores Are Open

LATE CHRISTMAS SHOPPERS MAY BUY GIFTS IN TECUMSEH THIS EVENING

Even though it is the night before Christmas, the stores in Tecumseh will remain open this evening, until 10 o'clock, and possibly a little later, to accomodate the late shoppers, it was said today.

Almost without exception, however, stores, offices, industrial plants, etc., will be closed here all day tomorrow, that the employers and employees alike may celebrate the holiday with their families.

Shopping in Tecumseh this year has been unusually heavy, it was said by merchants today, but they also pointed out that heavy buying was anticipated, and that the stocks were unusually large.

"While assortments may not be quite as wide as they were two weeks ago, shoppers will not find it difficult to buy in Tecumseh, this afternoon or tonight, regardless of the type of gift," one business man said. "Merchants' stocks here this year were unusually complete, and heavy buying on the part of the public has not nearly depleted them. Tecumseh is prepared to take care of all late shoppers."

The annual Week of Prayer will be observed in the local churches during the week of January 4.

Indians Ready For Bulldogs

WILL MEET MORENCI THERE, JANUARY 9; HUDSON DEFEATED FRIDAY

By Bob Larsen

The Tecumseh high school Indians will play one of their most important cage games of the season on the Friday following the reopening of school after the Christmas-New Year's holiday when the clash with Morenci on the court in that city, January 9.

Morenci and Tecumseh are leading the Lenawee league, both with standings of 1000 per cent. However, Tecumseh has won four games in the league to Morenci's three. Dopesters expect the Indians to win over the Bulldogs by an easy margin, but pointed out that the game will not be a "push-over" inasmuch as Morenci's quintet is fast and shifty.

Last Friday the Indians took the Hudson boys for a long ride down the road to defeat by a score of 43-15. Jack Brown, who only recently was shifted into the Tecumseh varsity, played his first game on the top string and came out with six points to his credit, being led by Mohr with nine and Green with seven and twing with Wilson at six. Brown gave a good account of himself considering the fact that the other boys are old hands at the faster first string type of play.

The scoring was more evenly divided than it had been for quite some time.

The scores with Hudson:

SILENT CHRISTMAS BELLS—

"I heard the bells on Christmas Day
Their old familiar carols play
And wild and sweet,
The words repeat,
Of peace on earth, good will to men."

Only in our own land will the bells ring out in free and joyous song this Christmastide. Only on this continent will the sound of ringing bells mean the celebration of the great holiday of the world, which for centuries had brought joy and gladness to all people, even to the humblest homes.

Where are the bells of Germany that once rang out in such joy the Christmas season, while happy people gathered around the fir trees which Saint Wilfred gave as a symbol of Christmas to the Germanic tribes—a symbol of eternal life as opposed to the blood sacrifices of Thor and Wotan? From their hearts no longer rise the merry strains of "Oh, Tannenbaum." Instead, the Horst Wessel song blares defiance to the Prince of Peace.

The bells of Austria are mute. The lovely "Stille Nacht," written by a parish priest for his faithful flock, no longer rings upon the midnight air. Austria lies crushed, with little heart to sing.

The carillons in Belgium, singing from their tall belfries, have been stilled, and there is little hope in Holland this year of the kind Kris Kringle appearing with his bag of toys for the good children.

The hauntingly equisite "Noel, Noel," that sweet carol beloved of all Christmas singers, will not ring through a France saddened, torn by war and a more devastating peace, and threatened both within and without by new dangers.

Russia is long since mute, its golden bells, for all practical purposes, silenced by those who fear religion and the terrors of an enemy army.

The bells of Italy, what could they mean this year to the women left at home, their men gone to spend their lives in aggression against peaceful neighbors? What can the grand motif of "Adeste Fideles," mean to a nation locked in the closest bonds to the godless Nazis?

And in England—where the church bells for centuries rang in Christmas from every village green—the bells now ring only to warn of danger and death, instead of the new life which Christmas signified, sending the children scurrying not to family gatherings around the Yule log, but to deep underground air-raid shelters.

Even here Christmas will have a keen joy tinctured with sadness—for though we are still free, the long threatened war is upon us. Our men lie dead thousands of miles from home. And yet—ring out, wild bells, in the land that is free—ring out your song, for you may reach and revive the hopes of those in other lands whose Christmas joy is dimmed. You may remind all those who hear your cheerful tones of the joy they still possess. You may recall to the world that the good tidings of great joy was promised to all the people, bringing peace to earth and good will to men.

Obituary

Earl H. Cook, youngest son of Albert and Addie Cook, was born in Tecumseh, March 7, 1899 and departed this life, December 6, 1941, at the age of 42 years, nine months and six days, after an illness of only a few hours. He had worked as usual Friday and after eating his evening meal, returned to work for a few hours, where he suffered a paralytic stroke. After the first attack he went back to work only to suffer the second stroke from which he never regained consciousness. He was removed to his home by his fellow workmen and his brother-in-law, where he died. On December 17, 1941, he was married to Miss Edna Smith of Ridgeway and to this union were born four daughters, Mrs. Mary Vincze of Tecumseh, Ethel, Marian and Betty, the latter of whom died in infancy, also three sons Earl Jr., Albert and Perry all at home.

Mr. Cook was a good worker, a wonderful father and husband, and a friend to all in need. Until last June he had been with the Hayden Fuel and Supply Company for th last 13 years where he had made many friends. For the past four months, he had been employed by the Bruce Foundry Company.

Besides his immediate family he leaves two sisters, Mrs. Ethel Foote and Mrs. Nina Ford of Detroit. His father, mother, two brothers and one sister preceded him in death. He also leaves nieces, nephews, cousins and a large circle of friends. He is gone but not forgotten, may his memory linger long.

The funeral was held at the home, 310 South Evans street, Tecumseh, with members of the Eagle lodge, of which he had been a member for 13 years, as the bearers. The Rev. E. F. Hildebrand officiated and the burial was in the Ridgeway cemetery. The bearers were Edward Lowry, Marion French, Verdi Skinner, Ervie Raymond, Edward Smallidge and Edward Everetts. Relatives from Detroit, Ann Arbor, Northville, Hudson, Springville, Tipton, Macon, Dundee, Britton, Adrian, Ridgeway, and Jackson attended the services.

TECHNICAL

The chemist had had a scene with his wife, who finally broke down crying. Whereupon he ejaculated:

"Stop crying. Your tears have no effect on me. What are they? A small percentage of phosphorus salts, a little sodium chloride, All the rest—water. Bah!"

SENT A BILL

Three blood transfusions were necessary to save a lady patient's life at a hospital. A brawny young Scotchman offered his blood. The patient gave him $50 for the first pint, $25 for the second pint—but the third time she had so much Scotch blood in her she only thanked him.

The Golden Text (Mathew 10.-8) is: "Heal the sick, cleanse the lepers, raise the dead, cast out devils: freely ye have received, freely give."
Among the Bible citations is this passage (John 14:15, 16): "If ye love me, keep my commandments. And I will pray the Father, and he shall give you another Comforter, that he may abide with you for ever."
Correlative passages to be read from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures", by Mary Baker Eddy, include the following (p. 271): "Our Master said, 'But the Comforter . . . , shall teach you all things'. When the Science of Christianity appears, it will lead you into all truth. The Sermon on the Mount is the essence of this Science, and the eternal life, not the death of Jesus, is its outcome."

State Speeds Defense Plans

REMEMBER PEARL HARBOR IS SLOGAN AS MICHIGAN GOES "WAR MINDED"

LANSING— Remember Pearl Harbor!

This cry is echoed throughout Michigan today. Vanished are the ardent debates about isolationism and interventionism. Gone are partisan activities for immediate gains at the expense of the administration. Forgotten for the moment are the bickerings of labor leaders for jurisdictional control and closed shop benefits.

Something has happened in Michigan. It represents one of the most complete overnight changes in citizen attitudes this state has experienced in half a century.

The suddenness of the treacherous Japanese attack on American territory, while Japanese envoys were receiving our hospitality in presumed efforts to preserve the peace, came as a great shock to Michigan citizens. Those who had scoffed at the prospect of invasion —who had described civilian defense activity as war mongering— were among the first to raise their voices in demands for greater action, or in criticism at apparent unpreparedness and laxity.

Special Session

Because of mounting needs for money, observers here are forcasting that the governor will call a special session of the state legislature early in 1942.

At the first war-time session of the state administrative board, national defence needs in Michigan were discussed. State troops, organized to replace national guard units, number 3,200 men. These will probably be increased at once to 4,160 and later on to 7,500, the full strength point for the guard units they will replace.

State prison industries have been assigned the job of turning out needed military clothing. It was discovered that Michigan could not even assign 1,000 men to winter patrol duty except in their own civilian overcoats to keep them warm.

The daily maintenance cost of state troopers will be $4.50 to $5— an inkling of the coming cost to the state treasury if Michigan is called upon to use the home guard during the war.

Police Army

Civilian defense machinery is now going at high speeds, thanks to preliminary organization undertaken by the state and county councils of defense in cooperation with the federal government.

Heading the volunteer units are the experienced technicians of the Michigan State Police, county sheriffs and deputies, and city police—a trained force of 7,100 men. The state defense council, clearing orders received from Washington, has asked local police chiefs to recruit auxiliary volunteers at once. It is expected that the combined strength of full-time and volunteer police guards will eventually approximate 30,000.

Experiences of England, for example, are being utilized by Captain Donald C. Leonard of the Michigan State Police, president of the International Association of Chiefs of Police, who recently recently returned from England as a member of the LaGuardia study mission, to safeguard Michigan defense plants against damage from bombing and sabotage. Instruction courses are being set up for this purpose.

Fire Peril

Aside from the passible damage to defense industries through fire, a peril which is admitedly great, defense authorities do not forsee any immediate need for safeguards against air incendiary raids.

Yet, as a matter of precaution— a step which Pacific coast states are taking belatedly—schools for volunteer firemen are to be established at once. Attention will be given to the acknowledged peril of industrial incendiary attacks— isolated fires or a chain of isolated fires which could become a disastrous conflagration under favorable circumstances.

Responsibility for conducting these schools in each community rests on local officials—again, a home obligation.

First Aid

As modern war is all-out, involving civilians as well as the military the importance of first aid and other protective services is being emphasized.

Volunteer nurses are wanted. Volunteer first aid crews are needed. Valunteer bandages and other equipment are need|

Without hysterics, but with quiet thoroughness, local units of the Red Cross are expected to mobilize and train human resources in every community.

"It can't happen-here" is the slogan. And if it does happen here, we must be prepared for any contingency.

Sacrifices

Since the home front requires 16 to 17 trained persons for every man at the military front, Michigan has a definite responsibility and obligation.

Instead of momentary flag waving, defense officials forsee continuous hard work, continuous sacrifice. A long hard war is in prospect. Many sacrifices must be made. Strength of the enemy must not be underestimated— a mistake made by the English and even by Germans in the recent Russian campaign.

Taking a view that years of sacrifice are ahead for all of us, what then should each person do? We suggest that you apply to the official defense authorities in your community. Then await orders.

Michigan will remember Pearl Harbor next month, next year, and years to come.

CHASING "SPOOKS" FROM CAVES NEEDED FOR BOMB-PROOFS

How Britishers, while seeking shelter from air raids, have been disturbed by "ghosts" in England's great prehistoric caves, is described in an article which is one of many features in The American Weekly with this Sunday's (December 28) issue of The Detroit Sunday Times. Be sure to get The Detroit Sunday Times this week and every week.

JEEPS GO WEST

Approximately 100 U. S. army "jeeps", the small motor car recently adopted by the government for the movement of troops, went through Tecumseh about noon Tuesday, traveling westward. It is believed the vehicles were enroute to Fort Custer, from either Toledo or Detroit.

Never was love, or gratitude, or bounty practiced but with increasing joy, which made the practiser still more in love with the fair act.—Shaftesbury.

Tire Rationing To Begin Jan. 5

PRESENT STOCKS ARE "FROZEN"; DEALERS GIVE MOTORISTS ADVICE

With automobile tire stocks "frozen" in factories, warehouses, garages and filling stations of the United States, the result of a federal defense order, Tecumseh today joined with the county, state and nation in setting up commodity rationing machinery which will begin functioning on January 5, distributing tires to only such persons as are eligible to buy them under the emergency restrictions.

The car owners who can purchase new tires are those whose vehicles are essential to service for health, safety and industrial and commercial operations of a limited nature.

These are:

1—Physicians, surgeons, visiting nurses, veterinarians.
2—Ambulances.
3—Fire fighting equipment, police vehicles, garbage removal trucks and mail delivery cars.
4—Public service vehicles with a capacity of 10 or more passengers on regular transportation routes, school busses or cars to carry workers to and from industrial plants.
5—Trucks for ice and fuel delivery, road mantenance, public utilities facilities, essential repair services, waste and scrap dealers, common carrers and transportation for raw materials, semi-finished or finished goods which are not moving directly to the household for ultimate consumers' use.
6—Farm tractors or other implements, except trucks or pleasure cars.
7—Industrial, mining and construction equipment, except trucks and other automobiles.

Local garagemen and automobile dealers said that the government's action in "freezing" tire stocks, and restricting the sale, due to a shortage or rubber and its need in national defense, means almost complete paralysis to the country's some 32,000,000 motor vehicles.

"The tire shortage may not show up in Tecumseh or the county for several days, because most cars now in operation have fairly good tires," one garageman said. "However," he continued, "should a motorist blow a tire, and not be fortunate enough to own a spare, he will be out of luck, unless he can get the old one repaired, or buy a second hand one or one that has been retreaded." There also is a distinct shortage of tubes for tires, the car dealer said, and he warned that motorists should exercise extreme care in the operation of their cars, if they care to usethem during the coming months.

While the present order restricts only the sale of automobile tires and tubes, it was believed locally that added restrictions will be issued by the federal government regarding the rationing of other things within the near future. The commodities distribution board that will handle the issuance of tire-buying licenses, also will handle the issuance of licenses for the buying of other things, it was said.

The Tecumseh commodity distributions board, as named by Mayor J. Floyd Elliott, who is the local chairman of defense work, is made up of Perry Satterthwaite, chairman, W. D. Hite, C. W. Gilman, Clifford B. Preston and Wade L. Jones. Similar committees are being named in Adrian, Blissfield, Hudson and Morenci. It will be to these boards that motorists everywhere in the county must appeal should they desire to buy tires. Their applications will be examined, and should they fall within the federal "approved" list, licenses to buy will be issued. A board of appeal for the entire county also is to be established, making it possible for persons dissatisfied with the action of their local board, to carry their requests to the all-county board, in which case the decision will be final.

Garagemen here warned that motorists should use extreme care not only in the operation of their cars, but in the parking of the vehicles. Already, in some parts of the state tire thefts have been reported, and owners were warned to note the serial numbers on their tires, that they might furnish them to officers should they be stolen. The best place for a car parked out-of-doors is under a light, it was said, and cars in garages should be securely locked. Garagemen also warned that the proper inflation of tires as-

Army And Navy Vehicles Have The Right-Of-Way

Local police today warned motorists and pedestrians to the effect that cars, trucks and other pieces of motorized equipment operated by the United States Army or Navy have absolute right-of-way over all other traffic on roads and streets.

"It is up to the motorist or the pedestrian to be on his guard," an officer said; "It is not up to the operators of the service cars."

The warning was issued after some 100 jeeps went through here yesterday, travelling westward, and without observing traffic lights. State and local police convoyed the jeeps through the village, but some motorists, it seems, doubted the Army's right to ignore red traffic signals.

$10,600 Asked For Red Cross

TECUMSEH'S QUOTA IS $1,200; CAMPAIGN TO CONTINUE THROUGH JANUARY 5

A drive for $10,600 for the Red Cross began in Lenawee county on Tuesday, with S. P. Rost of Blissfield as county chairman. The drive will continue through January 5, Lenawee's quota is only a share of the $50,000,000 emergency war fund to aid the Red Cross in enlarging every service to cope with the national emergency. The Red Cross is the only agency permitted by law to handle personal problems of the men in service and give them special care whether in the field, a hospital, or with their families.

Every person should consider it a personal duty to respond to the call for war relief funds. Every business firm, society, lodge, church, school, civic organization, and club is urged to contribute and aid the community in doing its share.

Tecumseh's quota is $1,200; Hudson, $1300; Adrian $5000; Morenci $900; Blissfield $900; Clinton $500; Onsted, Deerfield, Clayton, Palmyra, Riga, Britton, Jasper, Fairfield and Manitou Beach $100 each; with $500 for other smaller communities.

Perry M. Hayden, who has been chosen as the chairman for the drive in Tecumseh, made the following announcement this morning: "Our country is at war. We feel that it is a just cause, and are ready to do our part not only to win by hitting above the belt, but by subscribing to a peace of justice afterward. But right now thousands of our citizens are sustaining terrific property losses and untold physical anguish as a result of the conflict.

"We here in Tecumseh have not been bombed as yet. But we are being asked to do our part to relieve some of the suffering of those who have by giving to the current Red Cross War Relief Fund. Tecumseh's share is only $1,200.

"I have been asked by the Lenawee county chairman, Mr. Rost, to take charge of the Tecumseh campaign. May I ask that Tecumseh again rise to the challenge and be one of the first towns in the country to go over the top!

"This is not a membership campaign, this is strictly giving for a national emergency that is upon us. Please be ready and willing when called upon."

Waste Paper Drive Was Successful Here

The canvass for wastepaper conducted last weekend by the Girl Scouts proved more than satisfactory, an unlimited amount of newspapers, magazines and waste paper of all kinds being collected by the Boy Scouts. The supply is stored in the Palman building on East Chicago boulevard.

Mrs. L. A. Carlson and Mrs. C. W. Hire were in charge of the Girl Scouts and Rev. O. V. Robinson, M. L. Dannells, Jr., Bert and Robert Dannells in charge of the boys.

Those still awaiting collections are requested to call Mrs. Howe, Mrs. Carlson or Mr. Daniels before January 3, when a special collection will be made. The next regular village-wide collection will be made January 10 and every two weeks thereafter.

A competent appraiser has not yet given his figures on the eight or ten tons collected but before tonight the paper will be transported to a paper company, the proceeds to finance Boy and Girl Scout projects.

400 Registered To Aid Defense

CIVILIAN REGISTRATIONS CONTINUE LOCALLY, 50 REPORTING LAST WEEK

More than 400 persons have registered in Tecumseh for civilian defense work, and the registrations are continuing at the offices of Wade L. Jones, village clerk, for late-comers, it was announced today. It is believed that by the end of next week, Tecumseh's register will contain the names of more than 500 persons.

"Last Friday and Saturday we registered more than 50 persons," Mr. Jones said, "and Monday and Tuesday there were several late-comers who filled out questionaires. Undoubtedly there will be many more who will drop into the office during the last two or three days of this week to register. Women, you know, may register the same as men. They will be asked to aid with nursing, etc."

The second group in Red Cross nursing, a home defense project, will be formed here in the latter part of January, the date to be announced later.

Anyone interested is to notify Mrs. William A. Wright, Mrs. Sam Sisson, Mrs. R. H. Moore or Mrs. C. F. Cederquist Miss Gertrude Spaulding will be in charge of lectures and demonstrations.

HISTORY OF TECUMSEH IS TOLD BY LIBRARIAN

The history of Tecumseh, dating from the arrival of the first settlers to the present time, was the subject of an interesting talk by Miss Edith Ingersoll, librarian, when she addressed the Rotary Club, following its noon-day luncheon at St. Peter's Episcopal parish house, Tuesday. Miss Ingersoll was the guest of Glenn L. Williams.

According to the librarian's records, the old Heesen building, now occupied by the Tecumseh Finance Company, is the oldest business block in the village. The second oldest is the Patterson building, on East Chicago boulevard.

Will be $750,000 Boost Over Wages During 1941

PLANT TO EMPLOY 1,300 AT ITS PEAK; TO RUN NIGHT AND DAY AND SUNDAYS

A busy new year—twelve months crammed with long hours, hard work and an enlarged pay envelope for between 1,000 and 1,300 men—that was the 1942 forecast for the Tecumseh Products Company today as Ray W. Herrick, its president, estimated that increased production on national defense work would boost his company's payroll to approximately $2,250,000 by the end of December, next year.

"Our payroll in 1941," Mr. Herrick said, "amounted to about $1,500,000. It is growing steadily. We have between 900 and 1,000 men employed at the present time, and it is entirely probable that this number will be increased to about 1,300, when we hit peak production. I can see nothing but a busy year ahead for our company," he continued. "We are operating now at about 60 per cent of our capacity on defense work. Soon that will be increased to 80 per cent, maybe more. We are doing everything in our power to increase our efficiency for national defense. It is our one aim—to do everything we can, as quickly as we can, for the defese of our government."

Recently the company announced wage increases of from five to ten cents a hour for all of its employees. The plant is now operating in three shifts of eight hours each. It is likely that this program may be changed soon to operate four shifts, six hours each, and seven days a week.

The Products company recently purchased the old Cyclone Fence Company's plant, immediately west of the Products' factory buildings, and the 50,000 more square feet of floor space will be given over to defense production, Mr. Herrick declared. As rapidly as refrigeration manufacturing is curtailed, he said, men will be transferred from that division into the defense work.

"We hope to furnish employment to all of our regular workers," Mr. Herrick said, "and I want it understood that our so-called old men will be given first choice. We will not hire any men from out of town until all of our former employees are back on the job."

"We are speeding our production with just one thought in Mind—the defeat of Hitler and his partners. We are going to do everything that we can to back up democracy and the boys who are in uniform."

The village, with financial aid from the company, recently completed the laying of some 4,000 feet of new water main in the vicinity of the Products plant. This not only gives added water supply for manufacturing purposes, but increased fire protection. The Consumers Power Company also has made some necessary changes in its sub-station near the factory, anticipating an increased load.

Club Praises Yule Lighting

FIRST CHOICE IN HOME DECORATIONS GIVEN TO MR. AND MRS. L. W. LARSEN

A committte of the Tecumseh Monday Club, which organization annually makes a tour of inspection of the village and determines the most beautifully lighted homes during the Christmas season, today submitted its report, giving first choice to the home of Mr. and Mrs. L. W. Larsen on West Pottawatamie street.

The committee's report, as submitted to The Herald, follows:

An evening tour of Tecumseh during this Holiday Season shows an unusual number of lighted windows, beautifully decorated doorways and yards. Hundreds of gayly lighted Christmas trees shine through windows, giving the village a very festive appearance to which is added the decoration of the downtown business district.

In the last block of West Pottawatamie street, every house is gay with decorated living evergreens, arched doorways and window designs. The judging committee appointed by the Monday Club gave the L. W. Larsen residence a first choice for its attractiveness of decoration both by day and night. The F. C. Hanna and Paul Ammer homes were equally attractive. One window in the B. B. TurnBull home displayed a radiant V for victory.

On Chicago Boulevard the R. W. Herrick, O. W. Farver and L. P. Williamson residences glittered brightly, while striking doorways could be seen at the Kerby, Preckleton and Lowe homes. All over town unusual effects were worked out with evergreens from the north and pine cones, ice and lights from California to Florida.

In smaller size houses first mention went to the O. W. Laidlaw and Lewis Lent homes, both planned for either daylight or night effect. On Logan street good entrance effects were obtained at the Andrew Taylor, Wm. Wright, Joe Hanna and E. E. Berry residences and Marian Whelan's Freezit Lockers, the last worked out in blue electric and neon lights. On West Kilbuck, a window in the R. Harrington home very cleverly depicts a Christmas card, with a flood light directed on it from outside.

Other good effects were noted at the homes of Don Wright, Grace and Jennie Gillespie, Chris Taylor, Dwight Hodges, Louis Schneider and Rob't. Moore Jr. In Brownville, the home of Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Ruppel was original and gay whether seen by day or night, while the tall tree in the yard of the Ford School twinkled a welcome to the traveler entering Tecumseh. Another tall tree at the entrance to Tecumseh Hospital adds to the beauty of that pride of the village. Union street North showed many decorations at the homes of Elsworth Collins, P. C. Satterthwaite, Frank Smith and Paul Wolfe.

Local Woman Hears From Kin In England

Mrs. Rose Burrow received a letter last week from her brother-in-law Forrest Burrow, from Worthing, Sussex, England. Mr. Burrow is an invalid due to the war. He states that all their factories and ware houses were lost in the air raids. A bomb landed in his dooryard, breaking the windows in his home. But he, says, it looks much brighter, thanks to the American aid. The letter was written November 19 before the United States entered the war. Mr. Burrow visited here about 10 years ago.

200 MORE JEEPS

Two hundred more jeeps, the small gas-buggies being used by the United States Army to transport troops, went through Tecumseh yesterday morning. The cars came from the east, probably from Toledo or Detroit, where they were manufactured. They were travelling westward, possibly to Fort Custer, Battle Creek. This was the second group to go through here within a week.

DIES IN PENNSYLVANIA

Word has been received here of the death of Fred B. Schussler, a former Tecumseh resident, which occurred December 17, in the Generals Hospital at North Warren, Pa., from injuries received in an automobile accident December 13. He suffered a fractured skull, broken jaw, chest injuries and severe lacerations. Mr. Schussler was 73 years of age and while in Tecumseh was employed in the Whiting Cigar factory. The family moved from here to Warren in 1910. He leaves the widow, three daughters, one son, three brothers and several grand children.

NEW YEAR'S RESOLUTIONS—

Tomorrow begins a new year, a time when most of us pause to consider the past and perhaps make a few resolutions—all of them well intentioned; many of them to be shattered.

The practice of making resolutions for a new year is an old one. Some 200 years ago, Jonathan, the eloquent preacher of early Colonial days, carefully penned his resolves—the creed by which he planned to live. Strict they were, for he was firm with himself, but among is one which every American needs to take to heart on this New Year's Day of 1942.

"Resolved: never to do anything which I should despise or think meanly of in another."

This is a resolve which can and must be kept, and which, in spite of its negative phrasing, is constructive.

It can be kept, because this land of ours is free. We are still free souls. Overseas the people of the conquered and subjugated nations are forced into acts utterly foreign to their own religions and national ideals, while in the totalitarian countries, the souls as well as the bodies of men are regimented. They hate and worship at the nod of the head of a power-drunk dictator. But here we are still free to think. No one can make us lie or cheat, or steal, or be cruel, or intolerant, or bear false witness against our neighbor. We are free to make our own decisions and we are free to do right. We can make a resolve—and we can keep it.

Edwards' resolve is constructive, for its very negation calls for action. We despise cruelty; we can avoid it by being kind. We despise treachery; we can avoid it by being true to our ideals. We despise lying; we can avoid it by speaking the truth. We despise discrimination; we can avoid it by treating our neighbor as an individual, never generalizing in derogatory terms about any group. We despise unfairness; we can avoid by being fair.

What the next year may mean depends upon each and every one of us. Let us resolve, therefore to set our own house in order, to be the person we want to and can be—and never do anything which we should despise or think meanly of in another.

If all of us would make and keep Preacher Edwards' resolution the world would be a much better place in which to live.

PERSHING LEADS THE WAY—

General John J. Pershing, commander of the A.E.F. in the first World War, sets a good example to every American citizen by offering his services "in any way in which my experience and my strength, to the last ounce, will be of help in the fight."

It will be observed that General Pershing did not volunteer to take command of the armies of the United States although he continues to hold his full rank and has had experience to justify a belief that he knows much about fighting. The General offers his services and leaves it to the President, his commander-in-Chief, to determine where he can serve the best.

The octogenarian military leader is too old for active service but his spirit is all-American.

PRISONERS PATRIOTISM—

Among the communcations received by President Roosevelt recently, was a petition signed by fifteen hundred of the toughest convicts in the nation. These inmates of Folson prison in California requested that they be assigned to national defense duties.

The cooperative spirit of these prisoners pays tribute to the greatness of this nation. These outlaws of society want to do their part to save this nation from the fangs of the aggressors.

These men behind the bars are setting an example for the rest of the people. We, who glory so much in the freedom of the United States, must meet the challenge of these prisoners and do our part in preserve the world against gangsterism.

A. & P. Pays Employees While In Servce Of U. S.

More than 2,600 employees of the Great Atlantic & Pacific Tea Company now in military and naval service are receiving compensation of $700,000 a year in addition to their regular government pay, John A. Hartford, president, reported today.

"For more than a year, despite the increasing number of employes entering service, we have found it possible to continue supplementing the compensation they receive in performance of their patriotic duty," Mr. Hartford's announcement said. "The plan which makes these payments possible is being reconsidered each quarter year for revision to meet changing conditions of the emergency."

The military compensation plan provides A & P employees in service with 20 per cent of their salary in monthly installments. All qualified full time and part time employees working more than 30 hours a week were made eligible for compensation not to exceed $100 monthly. In addition, the company assumed payment of premiums on the group insurance policies held by the men.

The company's first quarter report on the plan's operation showed payments totaling $98,183, including insurance, to 1,730 men; the second quarter totaled $160,340 for 2,516 men. Additional inductions and enlistments increased these figures until at the present time more than 2,600 formre employees are receiving compensation at the rate of $700,000 a year.

"Instead of paying the additional compensation in a lump sum, the company believed such payment would be of more practical value to the employes if it were spread over the year," Mr. Hartford said. "This was done in the hope that the payments would better enable the men in service to meet responsibilities incurred in private life."

Some of the men have elected to accept their check directly, while others have directed the company to pay relatives or dependents. In many instances, Mr. Hartford reported, the check from the company is twice the amount of the man's base service pay.

We pledge ourselves to this cause

A Statement by
The Great Atlantic & Pacific Tea Company

We make this pledge publicly to our national government and to the people of the United States:

That we will cooperate unhesitatingly in every effort of authorized government agencies to prevent unwarranted rises in prices of foods.

That we will continue our efforts to reduce the spread between prices paid to the grower and prices charged to the consumers.

That to this end we will continue to do everything in our power to assist the farmers and growers of America in the orderly marketing of their products at the fairest possible prices to them.

That we will make every effort to hold our inventories at the lowest point consistent with good service to our customers because hoarding, whether by wholesalers, retailers, or consumers, will cause higher prices.

That we will endeavor to continue to pay our employees the highest wages and to give them the best working conditions in the grocery business generally.

That we will make every effort to continue to sell food at retail at the lowest gross margin of profit in the history of the retail grocery business.

Today we are providing food for our customers at the lowest gross profit rate in the history of the retail grocery business. This means that we have achieved efficiencies in the distribution of food never before attained. More of your food dollar goes for food and less for overhead expenses than ever before. No other great retail business in the United States in any field is operated with such a low cost of distribution.

No one in the food business can control the wholesale price of food. Only the government of the United States has power to do this, and for the protection of our people this power in the government is now a necessary power.

Today, with the nation at war, we believe that no private interest has any rights in conflict with the general public interest.

The armed forces of the United States are today receiving more and better food than ever before in our national history. It is equally important that all of our people working and living behind the lines, men, women and children, shall be better fed and better nourished than ever before in our national history.

TOMORROW a New Year will dawn—twelve months filled with new RESPONSIBILITY; three hundred and sixty-five days that are certain to make history—history that will never be forgotten.

Tomorrow's sun will rise upon a war-torn world. It will not set in a land unthreatened by oppression. The dread of a godless Nazi dictator, whose power-drunk thirst is being quenched by the blood of those who dare oppose him, has spread around the globe. Fear and fighting, terror and death have visited all nations.

Tomorrow, for the first time in twenty-three years, the New Year's sun will rise upon a United States at war. It is not a fight that we sought. This nation desired a life of peace. We are fighting to determine whether our form of government shall endure or be succeeded by a dictatorship. Whether our democratic freedom of life, liberty and happiness shall give way to the whims of this godless image of man who has marched his armies the length and breadth of Europe, and who through his Japanese partner has struck a blow at the very shores of these United States.

What are these democratic freedoms that we Americans are determined to defend at all costs, against any aggressor?

Little things, mostly—all of them little things we do and want to keep on doing. Freedom in our right to speak our mind. It's reading that we want, or listening to the radio; going to church—any church—or not going to church, as our choice may be. It's working for whom we want, on the terms we want. It's spending or saving; putting savings into a small business and seeing it grow; running that business as we want. It's all the friendly little "howdy's" said along life's pathway, to whom we please and as we please without kowtowing to anyone.

These and a hundred and one other things of daily individual choice make up the precious quality of personal liberty—the liberty that all loyal Americans today refuse to yield.

It was because of these personal liberties that some three thousand of our men made the supreme sacrifice at Pearl Harbor—the victims of an undeclared war. It is because of these personal liberties that one hundred and thirty-three million other Americans have risen as a single unit—determined that Hitler and his Axis partners must be crushed.

We have only the greatest faith in the future of America. The Constitution of the United States, penned by hands guided by Heaven, is a barrier that cannot be destroyed A dozen Hitlers and their armies could not tear from liberty-loving Americans those personal freedoms guaranteed in our Bill of Rights.

We, both labor and management of this company, are serious in our responsibility, mindful of the privilege we have in doing our part in the defense of America. Under God, we resolve to give the best that is in us to America, in defense of its liberties, in support to those gallant sons in uniform. In solemn prayer we dedicate ourselves, our lives, our future to the successful prosecution of a war we did not seek.

May the New Year be happy—happy in the thought of knowing that we are ready to make any sacrifice necessary to defeat a war lord who knows no God; a Hitler whose power must be crushed before peace and happiness can reign upon the earth.

Price Control Grave Problem

MICHIGAN DEFENSE COUNCIL MAY BE ASKED TO ADMINISTER NEW LAW

LANSING, December 31,—Price control, two words of great potency, may become a new function of the Michigan Council of Defense. However, council members are not thrilled at the prospect.

If price regimentation, with ceilings and all that, is inevitable as the only practical way to check ruinous inflation, that responsibility must be imposed on some agency and some individual. Anyway you look at it, the task isn't going to be a pleasant one, for the subject is loaded with grief and trouble.

At the session of the state defense council recently the subject of commodity prices was discussed from the viewpoint chiefly of the consumer. The difficulty of dealing with prices in Detroit, for example, must vary from those in upstate centers, as is the case with rents in metropolitan centers in the United States. For the state council to undertake the job of setting milk prices, even if there were no state agency to do the work is quite a chore, to say the least.

It brings up the basic question: What is the function of the defense council anyway?

Clearing House

When the 1940 state legislature created a state council of defense and impowered the governor to appoint thirteen persons, legislators realized that war-time problems must be dealt with by a special agency.

Without knowing what the council duties might be, as future needs arose, the legislature made an appropriation of $40,000 a year to man and operate the agency.

Colonel Harold A. Furlong, Pontiac, one of seven Michigan men to be honored by Congress with the distinguished service cross and Congressional medal of valor, was named administrator. Everett DeKyrk, Milan newspaper editor, and past state commander of the American Legion, was appointed executive director. Robert C. Hargrave, formerly with the department of commerce under President Herbert Hoover, was chosen defense coordinator for the Detroit metropolitan area. James Denison, former newspaperman in Detroit, was engaged as publicity director.

The council's general policy has been to regard itself as a clearing house, where any interested agencies, whether official or volunteer in organization, may be utilized to foster needed action for national defenst in Michigan.

Local Problems

Colonel Furlong, for one doesn't regard the state defense council as a super-agency with powers of regimenting the public.

"Where opposition runs into constant sags, however, as problems are brought to the council with urgent request that "the government do something about it" as if the responsibility rested entirely at Lansing and not in the home communities.

In the field of commodities, for example, the state council deftly side-stepped a controversy that was wade into the deep waters of commodity "cost of living" through the following steps:

1. Compile facts on the cost of living.

2. Analysize the facts so that recommendations can be submitted action taken.

3. Conduct a "Popular educational program on consumers' problems."

Instead, the council appointed a special four-man committee to go into the subject of retail prices. Members are: Raymond W. Foley, state administrator for the Federal Housing administration; V. H. White, Grand Rapids investment broker; A. H. Sarvis, Flint, banker and Mrs. Ida E. Kleinman, Detroit club woman and housewife.

Shy From Control

The attitude of many members of the state council is somewhat that of Colonel Furlong, with regard to the council's function in retail prices.

While the council will function to clear federal action down to the local communities, being a funnel as it were for Washington to utilize, the council isn't going to be pushed into the opposite function: A general wailing place for home responsibilities.

The local county and community defense councils, appointed by the governor and operating under the state council, will deal with local problems. If there is to be wailing place, than the local defense council must, provide while this isn't officially the policy, in effect such is the case.

As far as Colonel Furlong and members of the state council are concerned there will be no regimentation or super-control other than the powers duly authorized by Congress and delegated officially to the council for administration through local defense committees. Most council members hope that price control, if it comes, will be a federal headache, not a state burden.

Defense Cooperator

An example of business cooperating with government in behalf of defense will be found in the functons of the council's advisory technical committee, the committee of public information.

All media of information and advertising—newspapers, motion pictures, radio, outdoor advertising, periodicals, and so on—are represented by their own leaders. Geo. W. Trendle, president of the King-Trendle Broadcasting Corporation, (WXYZ and Michigan Network,) is undertaking a series of defense programs as chairman of the committee's radio division. Don W. Blessed, president, Walker & Co., and chairman of the outdoor advertising division, is planning a program designed to appeal for greater defense effort.

Don McGowan, advertising manager of the Consumers Power Co., heads the industrial and labor division of the committee, uniting elements of labor and management behind defese.

The advertising craft, represented by the Adcraft Club of Detroit through their manager, Harold Hastings, is utilizing talent on advertising slogans and ideas. Newspapers have been active for many months in getting and presenting defense facts.

This work is being performed entirely voluntarily without expense to the state government. It offers an example of what can be done without expense to the state government. It offers an example of what can be done locally for defense. After all, the government comprises "we, the people", not the other fellow across the street or on the other rural route. It's our responsibility, not some agency at Lansing or Washington.

Diptheria Is Danger To Thousands In State

Diphtheria has become a serious danger to thousands of Michigan boys and girls who formerly were protected against it, says the Michigan Department of Health.

"The situation is new and we want to express its gravity upon parents, physicians and the local health departments", says Dr. H. Allen Moyer, state health commissioner. "Several years ago it was believed that one dose of toxoid gave protection against diphtheria from babyhood to school childhood, but we know now that the immunity from one injection gradually disappears.

As a result diphtheria is now being found in older school children, even high school boys and girls in some instances. Their immunity is at too low a level to protect them. There are thousands more children in the state who will take diphtheria if exposed unless their immunity is raised by second doses of toxoid."

Children under 12 who have only one injection of toxoid should have a second dose as a booster. Dr. Moyer said. Such a program is being carried out in Oakland county, one of the big counties where diphtheria has been found recently in schools. The Oakland county health department is giving toxoid injections to restore immunity in children where it has fallen low.

Tire Rationing

sures greater life, pointing out that a tire driven at one pound under pressure is the same as an added load of 600 pounds.

In Tecumseh, garages and filling stations were selling out of used tires and retreaded tires, but said that they had more of them "on order." Tire repair shops also were doing a good business, and many cars were operating without spare tires.

"There will be no immediate relief from the present rubber shortage, and hence no let-up in the federal restrictions, at least for several weeks or months," one dealer said today. "The best advice I know to give to motorists is this: Tell them to guard the tires they have, drive at a speed not in excess of 50 miles an hour, avoid quick stops, skidding, rough roads and stones, and curb bruises. If they do that, all that is left is for them to pray that they do not have a blow-out."

Christmas Eve Wedding Is Solemnized Here

A pretty wedding was solemnized Christmas Eve at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Clifton Holmes on East Pottawatamie street, when her daughter, Louise Lyons became the bride of Robert Baird, son of Mr. and Mrs. Francis Beard of Clinton, at a candlelight service.

The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Bartlett of Wayne, formerly of Jackson and preceding the service Miss Doris Jean Gilman of Clinton sang "Because" and "I Love You Truly". Miss Roberta Hornsby played the wedding march as the bridal party took their places before a beautifully decorated Christmas tree.

The bride, who was given in marriage by Mr. Holmes, wore a floor-length gown of white taffeta and carried an arm bouquet of calla lillies and snap dragons. She was attended by her sister, Mrs. Maxine Close of Adrian, in a gown of powder blue lace with a colonial bouquet of carnations and roses. William Baird of Clinton acted as best man for his brother. Roberta Holmes and Janet Baird, sisters of the bride and groom, wore floor-length white dresses and carried the bridal veil, and Garland Holmes, brother of the bride carried the ring on a white satin pillow.

The bride is a graduate of the Jonesville high school and Mercy School of Nursing and at present is a member of the nursing staff at Foote Memorial hospital in Jackson. The groom is a graduate of Clinton high school and is employed at Clinton Woolen Mills. They will reside in Clinton.

Rev. O. V. Robinson read the marriage service in the presence of 60 relatives and friends. The attendants were Miss Margaret Gafner of Ann Arbor, sister of the bride and Raynor Van Valkenburg, brother of the groom.

Preceding the ceremony Herbert Fisher played two violin selections "O Promise Me" and "At Dawning," and Faye Van Valkenburg, an uncle of the groom, sang "I Love You Truly." The wedding march from Lohengrin was played by Mrs. Wilfred Waidron.

Following the ceremony a reception was held in the church dining room where guests were served by Misses Ruth Daykin, Arcelia McElroy, Maxine Underwood and Helen Claus. The lace covered table was centered with a large wedding cake topped with a miniature bride and groom, with tall red candles in crystal holders at each side.

The government has issued drastic regulations governing the sale of automobile tires. Rubber, you know, is a most vital part of National Defense.

Just now we cannot sell automobile tires, except used tires and "re-treads". Regulations governing the sale after January 5 will be made public soon.

To automobile owners we say: GUARD YOUR PRESENT TIRES. Protect them against damage and theft.

Keeping tires at the proper pressure is one of the best ways we know to prolong tire life. Avoid skidding, quick stops, curb bruises and sharp stones and deep ruts. All of these things will add to the life of your present tires.

As quickly as we are informed as to the new federal regulations, we will advise our customers. At present, however, all we can do is to issue this warning:

"Drive Carefully — Protect Your Tires Against Damage and Theft!"

There are many other ways of prolonging a tire's life which we can help you with.
